

Waynesboro' Village Record.

Thursday, October 15, '74.

Several heavy failures have taken place in New York within the past week or two.

The spiritual mediums predict the death of Brigham Young on the 7th of December next.

Charley Ross's father is so seriously ill that his friends have no hope of his recovery. The trouble has quite overthrown his reason.

On 7th inst. the Rev. Dr. Thomas M. Eddy, one of the most able and eloquent ministers in the M. E. Church, died at his residence in the City of New York, in the fifty-second year of his age.

Among the attractions at the State Fair held at Easton, last week, was a monster steer, which weighed 3,700 lbs., and an old man, aged 112 years, who exhibited apples raised from a tree he had planted 100 years ago.

Who Knows Him?—John Collins, an old soldier at the Soldiers' Home, Dayton, Ohio, especially desires to learn the address of Dr. R. E. McKay, who in '62 was at Hampton, Va. He writes to the postmaster at Easton inquiring concerning Dr. McKay, whom he has reason to think is in Pennsylvania somewhere. Our contemporaries will be doing a kindly act to an old crippled soldier by giving his request for information as wide publicity as possible.

On Monday a shocking crime was committed in Hartford county Md., near Aberdeen. Miss Susan Taylor, a maiden lady living on a farm with her brothers, was murdered by a negro laborer in their employ named Joshua Griffin. The deed was committed for the purpose of robbery, and the criminal got a sum of money amounting to about $500. The discovery of the murder was made soon after it had been committed, and Griffin was quickly tracked down and arrested. There was blood upon his person, and also the marks of the struggle that preceded the death of his victim. He was taken to Belair and placed in jail.

One of the most pathetic reminders of the recent Fall River disaster is the habit of a woman whose three daughters were killed, but who still insanely believes that they are alive. Every day, when the factory bells are ringing for dinner, the woman, who saw her three daughters borne away to be buried that Sunday, takes a tin pail, as she used to do, and starts for Granite Mill No. 1. Sometimes her neighbors divert her attention by telling her that it isn't bell-time, but other days she walks to the place where the mill once stood, sees nothing that she can recognize, turns back in a dazed way, and goes to her deserted home again.

The following paragraph is from the Lawrence (Kan.) Journal of Sept. 27: "There appears to be no mistake about the immense immigration of Menonites into Kansas, of which the telegraph has been advising us for the past few days. Their advertisement in our local column for a large number of work horses, oxen and cows, indicates business. About 2,000 of these people have come into the State in the last few weeks, and thousands more are on the way. They are a hardy, industrious, well-to-do class of people and will be a valuable acquisition to our population." The advertisement referred to calls for 500 head of work horses, 400 fresh milch cows, and fifty yoke of work oxen.

No less than eleven law suits thus far have resulted from the Beecher scandal, and preparations for trial have begun. The first was a suit by Tilton against Beecher for $100,000 damages. Following this came the announcement that suits for libel would be brought by Tilton against the Brooklyn Eagle, New York World and Tribune. He will sue these parties for $100,000 each. Next came Henry C. Brown, three suits against the Eagle and one against a reporter of that paper. The sum involved in these four suits is $350,000. Finally comes Miss Proctor's suit; one against Moulton and the other against the Daily Graphic. In each case damages sought to the amount of $100,000. Subsequently, a second suit for libel Miss Proctor was brought against Moulton, now under indictment by the grand jury, and Saturday both Moulton and Tilton were indicted by the same body. The sum total of damages aggregates nearly a round million, and there is nothing to warrant the belief that the list of litigation is yet completed. There are rumors of a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Tilton and others, and of a suit by Tilton against E. J. Ovington for maintaining a separation between himself and wife.

ACRES OF WILD PIGEONS.—The sound of the hunter's gun resounds on the hills. Millions of pigeons roost nightly at Oakland, and each train passing through Piedmont carries its quota of shot guns, which are almost a superfluity as the birds are so thick on the elder bushes that after nightfall one can step up to them and catch and kill them as necessary without mistaking them with shot. One gentleman from Westpoint Tuesday morning killed eight hundred and thirty-three of the birds, many of which were taken without the aid of a gun.—Piedmont (W. Va.) Independent.

The Hanover Herald says:—

Twenty years have passed since a party of emigrants, numbering over 300 men, women and children, pursuing peacefully their journey from Missouri to California, were murdered in cold blood at Mountain Meadow, in Utah. But one escaped to tell the horrible story of slaughter. Nine little children, too young, as it was supposed, to realize their terrible situation, were saved and adopted by the Mormons.

Three of these afterward displayed too clear knowledge of what had transpired, and they were also put out of the way. The other six were subsequently restored by the United States officials to their friends and relatives in Missouri. The Mormons at the time attempted to shift the responsibility of the massacre upon the Indians, but subsequent developments leave no doubt that the whole slaughter was planned and perpetrated by the Mormons themselves. Those high in authority in the Church directed the bloody work, and prominent "Saints" have recently been indicted by the Grand Jury for murder by participation in the massacre. It is to be hoped they will speedily be brought to justice, tried, and, if found guilty, suffer the just penalty of their crimes. The United States laws have been a dead letter in Utah Territory for years, but the last session of Congress adopted legislation which, though not altogether satisfactory, has at least had the effect of setting the wheels of justice in motion.

The following despatch would seem to show that some of the Mormons are coming to their senses:—

A number of Mormons, of Beaver County, Utah, in good standing in their church, have shaken off the fear of their leaders, and come boldly out in declaring they will, in every way, assist in bringing to justice the perpetrators of the Mountain Meadow massacre. They acknowledge that white men disguised as Indians were the principals in the terrible slaughter, and Mormon officials planned and directed it.

A New York correspondent of the Hartford Times, of September 30, says:—"The undercurrent in the Beecher-Tilton scandal is now seething more than ever since Tilton's last statement. Orthodox people, who were previously on Beecher's side almost unanimously, are greatly divided, many having arrayed themselves against him and become open in expressions of belief in his guilt. The latter say privately that he must retire from the pulpit, and that his return to it will do irreparable injury to the cause of Christianity in America and Protestantism the world over. These are making great efforts to unite Congregational churches against Plymouth Church, at least to draw up a series of resolutions expressing entire disapproval of Beecher, and of the determination of his parishioners to cleave to him in the face of the strongest indications of his guilt. Present appearances are, notwithstanding published denials, that all Congregational societies will make open and relentless war on Plymouth Church if it permits Beecher to resume his ministry. Many leading preachers and laymen here and in Brooklyn do not hesitate to say they believe Beecher guilty."

Tilton's friends report the Plymouth pastor almost in despair, that he sees the toils steadily inclosing him; that all his assumptions of calmness are mere bravado, and that he is doomed. New libel suits are to be brought. As many as twenty have now arisen from this case, but few will be begun until Tilton's suit against Beecher is over. Every day seems to add to the number of persons uttering conviction of Beecher's guilt, while Tilton's sympathizers and advocates appear to be steadily increasing in numbers. It is rumored that a number of leading members of Plymouth Church have again urged their pastor not to enter the pulpit until his innocence is established in court, and that it is likely he will accede to their demand."

Various causes seem to have created considerable distress in Kansas recently. A newspaper published at Macon, Missouri, says the white covered wagons of immigrants from Kansas are daily passing through our town to the East and North. These unfortunate people are in sorrowful tones of want and suffering in Kansas, the result of drouth and the ravages of the grasshoppers. Talking with some of the citizens they say: "Why you have a paradise here compared with Kansas.—Look at your stacks of hay and grain and your fields of corn; we have literally nothing; and have had come over here to keep from starving." We learn some of these emigrants are so destitute that they have no money to pay toll across the bridge at St. Joseph, and are compelled to pawn a bucket or some other article in order to get over on the Missouri side of the river. One old gentleman remarked: "I went to Kansas three years ago with two thousand dollars and entered for myself and sons six hundred and forty acres of land. I haven't enough on my farm to buy a jack knife. I haven't a cent of money and we must struggle hard to get through the winter."

The month of September, 1874, was one of the warmest on record, the mercury ranging from 85 to 90 degrees during the greater part of the month.

Hammerfest, Norway, is the most northerly town in the world. It has a population of 2,057. The sun sets November 13 and rises January 25.

POETRY.—Those of our readers who relish choice poetry will find a gem on our first page, by Whittier, entitled "Sea Dreams."

A school building, exclusively for colored children, has been erected in Mercersburg.

Attention is called to the sale of personal property by O. F. Summers, of Quincy.

Rev. Mr. McAtee of Pottsville, Pa., has been elected pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Chambersburg.

Our Mont Alto subscribers will hereafter receive the Record on Thursday instead of Friday.

The formation of a thin coating of ice out doors was noticed yesterday morning.

Autumn has come in her splendor, and gathered her golden sheaves; And stabled the heart of sweet Summer, And scattered her blood on the leaves."

A Peerless Potato was recently taken from the garden of Mrs. D. J. Eyer in this place which weighed two pounds and seven ounces.

The "paper man" will require our appearance at Bank on the 23d inst. All sums received on accounts before that time will be most thankfully received.

The weather prophet is on his tour. The corn husks are pronounced unusually thick, and from this indication we are promised a winter of unusual severity.

THE CORNER STORE.—Geo. Boerner, Merchant Tailor, is on hand with his customary supply of new goods for the fall and winter trade.

NEW GOODS.—T. J. Filbert, Merchant Tailor, will receive his fall and winter supply of new goods this week. Advertisement next week.

Most inviting to the eye of the observer are the wonderful and never changing hues with which nature has painted the trees on our adjacent mountains, but the eyes of the ladies linger more lovingly on the tints of the new dress goods exposed to view in our shop windows.

SHOOTING PIGEONS.—One day last week a colored boy, son of Thomas Butler, of this place, shot 53 pigeons, killing as many as 14 at two shots. We understand the game was bagged not far from Fayetteville.

Sportsmen will do well to remember that under the present game laws of the State partridges can only be shot during the months of November and December, and those who kill them out of season are liable to a fine of $10 and costs for each bird killed.

PROCLAMATION.—The election proclamation is published in the Chambersburg papers. It occupies not quite three columns in closely printed type, which is to be inserted four weeks. A "fat take" for our contemporaries if inserted at regular advertising rates.

Prof. D. R. Knight and Lady have been spending a few days in our town, making arrangements for the organization of classes in vocal and instrumental music. The Prof. has called a meeting for Friday evening, in the Hall of the Y. M. C. A. This is a rare chance which we hope the musical talent of our town will embrace.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—On Friday last Messrs. Benedict & Walk, assignees, sold the farm near Quincy, belonging to Henry Reed, containing about 76 acres, for $60 per acre. Purchasers, Daniel Benedict and Isaac Riddelsberger. Also 5 1/2 acres to Daniel Thomas at $30 per acre, and about 12 acres of timber land to Henry Good for $31 per acre.

BIG BEET.—Mrs. McAtee, of this Borough, sent to our office one day last week a Red Beet, raised in her garden, which measured twenty-four inches in circumference and weighed Seven Pounds.—Friend Blair, of the Waynesboro' Record, you will have to try it again. Your six pounder won't win.—Mercersburg Journal.

Want some one send us an eight or nine pounder.

LARGE APPLE.—A Pippin of Pound Apple was exhibited on Tuesday at Mr. Rinehart's Store which measured around 1 1/4 inches and weighed one pound and 9 ounces. It was taken from the orchard of Mr. Joseph E. Rohrer, near this place. It is sound and solid and looks as though it might be preserved for months. It surpasses anything of the kind that has yet been brought to our notice.

THE GEISER SEPARATOR.—

We are pleased to announce that the Geiser Grain Separator was awarded the first premium over all competitors at the Maryland State Fair held at Baltimore last week. It also took the first premium at the Stark county Ohio Fair, at the West Chester and Carlisle Fairs, and in fact wherever exhibited. At the Ohio Fair the Aultman-Taylor and Sweepstakes Machines were among its competitors. These evidences of the superiority of their machine ought certainly to be very encouraging to Mr. Geiser and the other capitalists composing the company.

The following paragraph we clip from the Baltimore American:—

"Prominent among the exhibitors of agricultural implements and machinery is the well known firm of Linton & Lammott. They show several very fine specimens of the improved Geiser threshing machine and separator. This machine is growing more popular every year, and superseding many of the older machines. The Geiser machine is noted for the rapidity and excellence with which it works and the small amount of power expended in running it. A newly invented straw-carrier and an improved elevator, that takes out the rough screenings, are among the latest improvements added to this machine. In the same collection may be found a great variety of Geiser horse powers, whose merits are too well known to need any extended description; also, a number of other articles, equally deserving of notice."

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.—At a Meeting of the Directors of the First National Bank of Waynesboro, Pa., held in their Banking House, on Wednesday, October 7, 1874, at 9 o'clock, A. M., the committee appointed at a previous special meeting submitted the following resolutions which on motion, were unanimously received and adopted:—

Resolved, That whilst humbly bowing to Divine Providence in the removal by death of our fellow member, Alexander Hamilton, Esq., we express our high appreciation of the moral worth and Christian character of the deceased, of his readiness to co-operate in all things pertaining to the interest of this Board and Bank.

Resolved, That we deeply deplore the loss sustained by this Board and Institution, as also by the community at large, in the death of our oldest and one of our most devoted, carefully cautious and intelligent members.

Resolved, That the services rendered this Bank as one of its Directors since its organization up to the hour of his sickness and disability, are fully appreciated by us, and we bear full testimony to the faithful and honorable manner in which he at all times discharged the duties of his position.

Resolved, That in all relations of life we cheerfully accord to him the most honorable and exemplary character, and unite with our fellow citizens in the expression of our heart felt grief of an occurrence so afflicting to our entire community, of which he was for upwards of four score years an active and honored member.

Resolved, That we shall ever cherish his memory, and as further testimony of our regard, shall attend his funeral in a body, and that this Bank shall be closed during the funeral services.

Resolved, That these resolutions shall be copied on the record of this Board, a copy properly attested be furnished the family of the deceased, and also a copy be published in the Village Record and newspapers of the county.

JOSEPH PRICE, Pres't, JAS. H. CLAYTON, Sec'y.

ROBBED BY BURGLARS.—Rev. J. W. Wightman, formerly Vice President of Wilsons College, but now residing in M'Keesport, Pa., was, according to the Pittsburg Telegraph recently robbed by burglars: This morning Rev. W. Wightman, of M'Keesport, appeared before Alderman Louis Hagar, of the Second ward, and instituted suit against Walter Scott (no relation to the great wizard of the north) for larceny. Walter is charged with burglarizing the Reverend gentleman's premises of a large quantity of knives, spoons, table and silverware, valued at two hundred dollars, which stolen property was found in the possession of defendant who is now in the county jail awaiting sentence on a charge of burglary. Mr. W. enters suit before the same Magistrate against Geo. E. Bartlett, who is charged with aiding and abetting in the robbery above mentioned. Bartlett entered bail in $800 for trial at the present term of Court.

FATALLY BURNED.—A little son of Robert Spoonhour, of Greenwood, about 3 years old, was fatally burned on Tuesday morning last. The child was left in the house for a short time with a little sister, 5 years old, and while playing with some lighted pine sticks his clothing took fire. When the mother returned the clothes were all burned off the child and it was found to be badly burned about the head and face. Dr. Byers attended the little sufferer, but medical aid was of no avail, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon it died.—Spirit.

MANMOTH VEGETABLES.—On Tuesday Mr. Jacob G. Summers from near Park Hill, this township, made as a present of a quantity of very superior apples and a rare vegetable collection, turnips, potatoes, etc. The largest turnip measured round 29 1/2 inches and weighed 10 pounds and 2 ounces; one Peachblow potato weighed 2 pounds and seven-eighths, and one of the Peerless variety two pounds. If any farmer or gardener can beat these specimen vegetables we would be glad to hear from him. They can be seen at this office.

—See advertisement of David Minor.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—

On Friday last, the Directors of the Hanover Branch and Gettysburg R. R., made a visit of inspection to their new possessions in this neighborhood. They arrived by special train early in the morning, and, taking Carriage Wagon, accompanied by some of our citizens. They expressed themselves as surprised and pleased at the excellent condition of embankments and bridges, and the ease with which a track could be laid upon them. Rumors are afloat that the road will be built to Fairfield, with a probable completion to Monterey where it will tap the Western Maryland R. R.—Such a road would be a great benefit to our county, and we can only hope that the Directors may be prevailed on to undertake its construction.—Century.

Information is wanted as to the whereabouts of John Hongland, who with a man named McCune, many years ago became joint owner of 2000 acres of land in Tioga county. The land is now worth $5,000,000. It is desired that he be found to share this great wealth.

Cramps and pains in the stomach are the result of imperfect indigestion, and may be immediately relieved by a dose of Johnson's Anodyne Linctum. A teaspoonful in a little sweetened water is a dose.

Heavy oats are good for horses; none will deny that; but cats can't make a horse's coat look smooth and glossy when he is out of condition. Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will do this when all else fails.
