

Thursday, October 22, '74.

Capt. John W. Chambers, conductor on the Valley Branch of the B. & O. R. R. was run over by the cars on Wednesday of last week, near Sandy Hook, Md., and had both legs severed from his body. He survived but a short time.

The Methodist ministers of Philadelphia have united in an expression of sympathy with Mr. Ross, whose child was kidnapped. They testify to the excellence of his character, and put at rest all suspicion of his having practiced deception in this mysterious case.

Five years ago Mr. Jacob Kline, of Jenner township, Somerset county, found a single grain of white wheat in his red Mediterranean from which, after five sowings of its products, he obtained one hundred bushels of a fine new variety of white wheat.

Paul Boynton left New York city on Saturday in the steamer Queen, intending to abandon the ship when three hundred miles from port, and make his way back with a life-saving dress, which consists of an inflated rubber suit covering the whole person except the face, and capable of sustaining three hundred pounds. He took with him a supply of food and water for ten days. Good-bye, Paul!

The remains of Abraham Lincoln were disinterred at Springfield, Ill., Saturday, re-encased, and inclosed in a sarcophagus and placed in the crypt under the monument preparatory to the unveiling and dedication of the Lincoln statue on Thursday, in which the society of the Army of the Tennessee took part. It is stated that the remains were much decomposed, the embalming process at Washington in May, 1871, having proved defective.

Twenty-one foreign governments have already accepted the invitations extended them to participate in the centennial exhibition at Philadelphia, including Norway, Sweden, Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, France, Mexico, Guatemala, San Salvador, Venezuela, Peru, Ecuador, Chile, Brazil, United States of Columbia, Argentine Confederation, Liberia, Hayti, Sandwich Islands and Japan. Ex-Governors Andrew G. Curtin and Bigler, of Pennsylvania, are giving their time to promoting the success of the centennial exposition.

Judge McKean made good use of the law passed by Congress last session, in getting together a jury in the United States District Court at Salt Lake that would proceed vigorously against the Mormons, and it seems that he will be able to worry them a great deal by means of this statute. It is generally believed that an indictment has been found against Brigham Young, and also against George Q. Cannon, next to the Prophet the leading Mormon in Utah Territory. Under this law there would be no difficulty in sending both of them to the penitentiary.

It is reported that Mr. Ross, the father of the kidnapped boy, Charley Ross, is crazed and dying. The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York World says:

For several weeks it was plain to be seen that Mr. Ross was in a rapid decline. Your correspondent saw him frequently, and saw with regret that anguish was weighing him down. He became dejected, melancholy, morbid. Soon he was confined to his bed, where he now lies. That is not all; he lies there bereft of reason, crazed by grief. He knows nothing, remembers nothing but the loss of his boy and all the trouble that has followed in its train. At first it was thought he had typhoid fever, but there is no fever there, nothing but a shattered frame and mental imbecility. He does not know his wife and in the worst paroxysms of his grief drives her from him. Shortly before reason entirely left him he said: "I can bear the loss of my property, and the loss of Charley—even that God helps me to bear—but this slander and calumny against my wife and myself—that, that is what breaks the down."

UNDERZOOK DOOMED.—Wm. E. Udderzook, convicted of the murder of Winfield S. Goss, in Bear's woods, near Jennerville, Chester county, is to be hung.—His last resort was an appeal to the Board of Pardons, for his pardon or a commutation of his sentence to imprisonment, but his appeals were not granted. Gov. Hartranft, on Tuesday, issued the death warrant of the criminal, and his execution is to take place on the 12th of November. From his prison cell Underzook has sent out a letter to the world in which he reaffirms his innocence.

It is stated that Mrs. Udderzook will not visit her doomed husband, whom she has not seen for several months, but, on the contrary, will quit Baltimore in a few days with her children for California.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Ritter & Hawley, publishers of the Reading Eagle, for libel, in the publication of the Ross story, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. A motion has been made for a new trial.

France has officially accepted the invitation by the United States Government to participate in the centennial.

Coru-busking has commenced.

A SINGULAR CASE.—A WOMAN AS A SHARPER.

Among the recent pardons granted by Gov. Hartranft, was that of a German named David G. Sill, who was swindled by a woman out of over $300 in money and sentenced to prison for one year on a false charge of robbery. The German, who is a native of Russia, says that last winter he determined to emigrate to this country having heard of it being such a good place to obtain work. On the 1st or 2d of February last he took the steamer at Bremen for New York. On board the ship he met a young woman, apparently not over twenty years of age. The young woman became very friendly with him and seemed to make herself interested somewhat in his welfare. She asked him where he was bound for. He replied, "New York." She then stated that she was a married woman and had a husband living in St. Louis, as well as a brother; that if he would go along with her to St. Louis she could get him employment at her brother's. He thought this good luck, as he did not know where to lay his foot or turn his hand when he would get into New York, and he gladly accepted the offer. When they arrived at Castle Garden he had his gold money changed into greenbacks. He had $371 in gold, and after getting his money changed and paying his fare to St. Louis he had $391 in greenbacks. He and the woman took the cars for St. Louis, going by way of Meadville Pa. On the way to Meadville the woman stated that they would have to remain over there from tea o'clock at night until seven o'clock in the morning in order to make the connection of trains. At the first station before they reached Meadville, Sill got out to get a cup of coffee, leaving the young woman sitting in a seat apparently asleep. Just as he entered the car again the woman jumped up, and fumbling about her clothes halloed she was robbed, calling the conductor with the same breath, and pointing to him (Sill) said "that's the man that robbed me." She said that she had been robbed of $333 in bank notes and a $900 check. Afterwards, however, she denied the check part. As soon as the train stopped at Meadville, the woman had a policeman called in and had Sill arrested. He was taken to the lock up, and upon being searched $397 were found upon him. The circumstantial evidence of robbery was, of course, very strong and Sill was held for trial. It at first dumfounded the prisoner—he had placed so much confidence in the woman—and for her thus to act toward him he couldn't understand. He at length concluded, however, that it was a "set up job" to rob him. He remembered of having counted his money in the presence of the woman, and she therefore could guess pretty nearly what amount he had. Knowing nearly the sum he had, she had taken this means of robbing him of it, by falsely alleging that she had been robbed herself, having him arrested for it, and upon his conviction, of course, she would get the amount she claimed. She worked her case well and got what she wanted.—Sill was tried, convicted and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. The amount she swor she had been robbed of ($300) was then paid over to her out of Sill's money found upon his person, and the remainder was held by the county.—The woman then left Meadville, saying she was going to St. Louis, but no one knows where. On the 20th of April, Sill was taken to the penitentiary in Allegheny and remained there until his pardon arrived on Tuesday morning.

The Inter-Ocean, of Chicago, estimates the number of negroes murdered in the South since the close of the war at nine thousand four hundred. We believe that if every case could be known it would double the number given. Thousands have been killed and no report made of the murders. Is it not a fearful comment on the laxity of our laws that none of the murderers of those helpless blacks have been brought to justice? They go unwhipped, free to plot against and destroy the lives of citizens who have a right to demand national protection. The Arkansas Republic, of Little Rock, has had a standing offer for two years to pay $1,000 for evidence, in a single instance, where a Southern white man has ever been punished as the law directs for killing a negro. The offer remains unken. The laws which hang a negro for stealing refuse to punish a white man for murder.

The following extract from remarks on the situation in Louisiana, recently made by General Longstreet, are deserving of serious consideration: "I suppose I am pretty cordially hated by a certain proscriptive class of Southerners, but that cannot be helped. Men can't all think alike, and the trouble with the Southern people always has been that they won't tolerate any difference of opinion. If God Almighty had intended all men to think just alike, He might as well have made but one man. I have decided and acted as I thought duty required, and other men are at liberty to do the same. My opinion is that the only true solution for Southern troubles is for the people to accept cordially and in good faith all the results of the war, including the reconstruction measures, the acts of Congress, negro suffrage, &c., and live up to them like men. If they would do this, and encourage Northern immigration, and treat all men fairly, whites and blacks, the troubles would soon be over, and in less than five years the South would be in the enjoyment of greater prosperity than ever before."

Local News.

The recent heavy frosts are bringing down the leaves.

Our farmers have finished seeding. A field here and there is already putting on the green.

The Centery, a monthly paper, printed at Gettysburg, is to become a weekly on the first of November.

The John Kelsey harrow was awarded the first premium at the Maryland State Agricultural fair.

Public Sale.—We call special attention to the sale of valuable personal property advertised in to-day's paper by Mrs. Mary Besore.

Preaching.—Rev. Mr. Shirts, of Chambersburg, will preach in the Lutheran Church at Quincey, Sunday, 25th inst., at 10 o'clock, A. M.

A total eclipse of the moon is on the programme for the 24th and 25th inst., commencing at 11:56 P. M. of the 24th, and ending at 4:48 A. M. on the 25th.

Return It.—The person who borrowed a cloak from one of our town physicians last spring is requested to return it as it is needed these chilly mornings and evenings.

Homestead for Sale.—One of the most beautifully situated and conveniently arranged properties in our town is advertised to be sold at public sale in to-day's paper by S. B. Rinehart, assignee of Peter Geiser.

Quarterly Meeting.—The third quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church will take place on next Sabbath, 25th inst. Rev. Dr. T. J. Ward, President of the Western Maryland College will preach, both morning and evening. Administration of the Lord's Supper immediately after sermon. Public are invited to attend.

Eclipse Engine.—Messrs. Frick & Co's Portable Steam Engine, Eclipse, was awarded the first premium at the recent fair held at Hagerstown and Frederick, and even in the city of Baltimore, over all competitors. At the latter fair it was brought in competition with some of the finest engines in the country.

In Town.—Gen. Langhorn Wister, of Perry county, Republican candidate for Congress in this District, arrived in town on Tuesday evening in company with Mr. John A. Siders, Post Master of Chambersburg. The Gen. is quite an agreeable gentleman. He spent a part of Wednesday among his political friends in this place.

Where is He?—Will some one advise us as to the whereabouts of Wm. H. Mentzer. The P. M. at Aloona returns the Record addressed to him at that place for the last two weeks, with the consoling information—"Removed." We are perfectly satisfied to part with Wm. as a subscriber, but would be better pleased to first have his arrears, or at least some equivalent toward: first cost of paper, &c.

Real Estate Sale.—On Thursday last the assignses, Messrs. H. X. Stoner and W. S. Amberson, sold the McIlvane farm near this place, containing 124 acres, with the buildings, to Mrs. Jane D. McGaughey, of this place, for the sum $95.00 per acre; also 14 acres unimproved land for $80.10 per acre.

RUN OFF.—On Sunday last whilst two young men of this place, Haughman and Breman, were on their way from Mechanicsstown, in a buggy, the horse took fright at the freight train of cars as it was passing over a bridge, and commenced running. It appears the lines broke, the young men were thrown out and the vehicle, said to have been a new one, was thoroughly demolished. The horse which was captured between this place and Monterey, belonged to Dr. Boyls of this place. The buggy was from the Livery of Mr. John S. Funk. The young men fortunately escaped with but slight bruises.

An Accident.—On Friday evening last as Mr. John Harbaugh was returning home from this place, and when at the foot of the hill, on the Leitersburg turnpike, beyond the residence of Mr. Henry Gilbert, the horses attached to a buggy coming in the opposite direction became unmanageable, and a collision was the result, throwing the occupants out and badly wrecking Mr. Harbaugh's buggy. Fortunately the parties escaped without any serious injuries. The Hagerstown conveyance contained Mr. John Rider and the driver. Mr. R. missed the evening train of cars and was returning in a private conveyance.

An Improvement.—Mr. Thos. J. Walker of Hagerstown is just now engaged in adding a much needed improvement to West Main Street, a brick pavement extending the full length of the Walker buildings. This is one of the most attractive as well as most valuable properties in our town, and we understand it is his intention to otherwise improve the buildings and their surroundings in a short time.

There are other property holders in that vicinity, as well as on East Main Street, who should be engaged in the same business. We trust the members of the present Council may be induced to awaken them to a sense of their duty to the public as good citizens before the muddy season is upon us.

In the Cincinnati Trade List of the 14th instant, Capt. Barney, President of the Trade List Association, gives a "brief review" of "The Great Exposition," and, we notice, makes mention of the engines exhibited by Messrs. Frick & Company as follows: "Messrs. Frick & Co., of Waynesboro', Franklin Co., Pa., had on exhibition one of the neatest and most highly finished stationary engines in the entire Exposition. It had a single cylinder with a balanced valve (Frick's Patent) and highly finished in polished brass and iron—the cylinder brass-jacketed and all the cocks polished. It was not in operation. There was an immense variety of sizes and styles in the way of Portable Engines, all of which possessed important recommendations to the favor of the public.—Among these may be noticed the Frick & Co. farm engine, on wheels, highly finished and finely decorated with the first honor." As a result of this Company's recent exhibiting and advertising, they are constantly receiving letters of inquiry from all parts of this country and even from foreign countries. They are in correspondence with the United Workshops at the House of Brethren, Reutlingen, Wurtemberg Germany, which parties are negotiating for an engine.

More Beets, &c.—Last week we inserted a two line notice requesting some person to send us an eight or nine pound beet. The result at present is almost a storehouse full. The larger specimens are as follows: J. W. Coon, Waynesboro', one weighing 12 pounds; David Miller, of the Clermont House, on the Mountain, 2 weighing 11 and 10 pounds; Mrs. Margaret Lisinger, Pikeville, one weighing 11 1/2 pounds; Abram Shank, Ringgold, Md., one weighing 10 pounds; Isaac Sprinkle, Waynesboro', one weighing 8 pounds and 1 ounce; Mrs. Geo. Summers, Waynesboro', one weighing 10 pounds; Theo. Wiesner, Fleagleville, two weighing 9 pounds and 8 ounces and 9 pounds and 6 ounces, and one head cabbage weighing 13 pounds; Jacob W. Foreman, 1 turnip, wt., 12 lbs; Daniel Snowberger, one radish, twenty-eight inches in circumference, wt., 12 lbs; Wm. Potter, one potato, Kings Extra; 2 pounds and three-quarters. This certainly speaks well for advertising.

Friend Slick, you will have to lower your seven pounder until Mercersburg makes a better showing.

Quincy Township.—Teachers appointed.—The following teachers have been appointed to the schools in Quincy township for the term of five months, commencing October 12, 1874. Altolide, Primary, James E. Shafer; Altolide, Advanced, C. L. Manuel; Mont Alto, Primary, Miss Aggie Hummel; Mont Alto, Advanced, Ezra Wiley; New Baltimore, W. H. Engler, (since deceased); Polk, H. M. Worthington; Fox Hill, George B. Beatty; Quincy, Primary, Levi C. Kepper; Quincy, Advanced, James S. Gordon; Fairview, D. B. Rhea; Tomstown, Jno. B. Study; Blue Rock, Miss Sarah B. Wineman; Grove Hill, Henry Hager; Oak Hill, D. M. Row; Pedazion Hill, H. M. Benedict; Opossum Hill, Dr. A. R. Dornberger; Rock Hill, Franklin Staber.

Killed.—A German named Conrad Garvig on Wednesday of last week was struck with a spade in Chambersburg by a man named Betz cutting one of his ears in two and fracturing his skull, from the effects of which he expired in a short time. The Opinion says Garvig was under influence of liquor and was in the act of assaulting Betz at the time. The former was committed for trial.

Real Estate.—Martin Heintzelman, attorney-in-fact for John Singer, sold his farm in Guilford township to Mr. Peiffer, of Philadelphia, at $80 per acre. On Friday last, the Assignees of Jacob Stoner, sold a farm of 136 acres east of town to Wm. Wallace, at $105 per acre. Mr. Stewart also sold the farm of Josiah McClure, in Green township, consisting of 102 acres, to George Plasterer, at $70 per acre.—Opinion.

Maj. Marshall D. Deitrich of Governor Hartranft's Staff, died at Greensboro, on Friday a week, of consumption, aged 30 years. Among the distinguished persons present at his funeral were Gen'l's Beath, Latta and McCoy. The City Grays, of Harrisburg and several lodges of Knights of Pythias conducted the ceremonies.

The "Baby Show" at the Shippensburg Farmers' Club Fair, week before last was a failure, owing to the fact that the "Mammies" all wanted the first prize—a $25 baby wagon—and the committee concluded not to award any premium.

There is nothing that spreads so soon as fear and distrust in the business world, and it is in the power of a few timid persons to do mischief which may extend far and wide in the course of a very few hours.—Jacob Elliott, of Welsh Run, killed a calf a short time ago, that cleaned 418 lbs, and was only 8 months and 29 days old.

Liberal Gift.—Col. Geo. B. Westling has added two thousand dollars to the endowment fund of Mercersburg College.

There are 215 churches in Baltimore city, 52 of which are Methodist, 33 Protestant Episcopal, 25 Catholic, 19 Lutheran, 6 United Brethren and 5 Reformed.

October Elections.—The latest returns of the elections which took place in several of the Western States show the success of the democratic State tickets in Ohio, Indiana, and Arkansas, and of the republican tickets in Iowa and Nebraska. In Ohio the democrats claim to have elected thirteen out of twenty Congressmen, democratic gain of six. In Indiana the democrats claim eight of thirteen Congressmen, a democratic gain of five. The election in Dakota for territorial delegates results in the choice of Kedder, republican, and in West Virginia the Congressmen elected are Goff, republican, Faulkner, democrat. In Arkansas the republicans to a large extent refused to vote claiming that the election was illegal, and that Brooks is still Governor.

A Young Girl Killed.—The Mount Holly Echo of Tuesday says: One of the most heart-rending accidents it has been our duty to record in a long time, occurred at Pine Grove Saturday evening last. Annie Wiley, daughter of David Wiley, aged 13 years, fell from a large chestnut tree to the ground, a distance of about 40 feet, and was instantly killed. Upon examination it was found that her neck was broken, besides receiving other injuries.—This sudden death has cast a gloom over the whole community.

In Luck.—There is a poor boy in Rockingham county, Va., who works hard during the summer to procure enough money to go to school in winter. Twenty dollars of this money he loaned early in the summer to a man and took his note for it. The note was placed among a lot of old papers, which were by mistake of some member of the family sold to the rag man. Unable to present the note, he could not collect the money, and his prospects for a winter's schooling were growing very faint when he received word from Mr. Foucke, connected with the Antietam Paper Mill near Hagerstown, that he found amongst a lot of papers the identical note, with a two dollar bill wrapped up in it. We can imagine the joy of the poor boy.—Ex.

Mr. Henry C. Carey, a distinguished political economist of the rag money school, recently addressed a series of letters to Secretary Bristow for the financial edification of that able officer of the Government, and they are now put forth in pamphlet form. According to the synopsis given by an admiring journal, Mr. Carey briefly summarizes the financial history of the country during the last fifteen or twenty years. He shows how the rate of interest decreased and general prosperity increased during the war period, as a result of plentiful currency, and how when the war, with its destructive and impoverishing action, was over, and the country had entered on a most promising era of wealth-getting, Secretary McCulloch's fatal manifesto declaring the necessity of contracting the currency check production, and struck a blow at all industry and trade, thus ushering in the era of distrust, stringency and commercial paralysis, from which we are still suffering. He believes the only inflation we have to fear is the dangerous accumulation of money in the city banks, and particularly in the hands of the Wall street speculators, as the result of an arbitrary and inflexible currency system.—He thinks there is no more danger of the people's absorbing and employing too many circulating notes than of their buying and wearing too many hats.

The account given of the causes of our late panic seems to be wonderfully perspicuous and exact, and that the great scarcity of money is the cause of the continued depression, is probably somehow to be seen in the fact that banks in the Southwest are retiring their circulation, and that there is a plethora of money seeking use in all commercial centres. We do not see it exactly, but Mr. Carey says he does, and one should, perhaps, accept on trust the dictum of one whom Judge Kelcey, in the financial debate of the last session of Congress, declared to be "the most profound and original thinker that God ever blessed a nation with."—Ball. American.

An ingenious but bold attempt to start an insurance company by fraud and counterfeited has been fortunately detected and stifled. Some seven or eight months ago a number of men in Philadelphia conceived the idea of raising counterfeited bonds to the amount of $500,000, to deposit with the State Controller, in accordance with the insurance law of the State, and upon that basis to issue policies and receive premiums. They wormed themselves in the confidence of some respectable gentlemen and obtained their names for their prospectus as decoys, and one of the number hired a small room in Brooklyn and commenced preparing and printing the counterfeited bonds. As fast as they were finished they were deposited with the Controller, but one being rather less skillfully executed than the others, was pronounced spurious, and detectives were instantly set to work, resulting in the discovery of the plot. All the parties have been arrested.

Many valuable horses die from the effects of colic. The best thing to do in a case of this kind is to pour a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Linctum into a long-necked junk bottle, add half pint of molasses and water, then pour the whole down the horse's throat. In ten minutes the horse will begin to eat.

Unlocking the Rocks.—The great cost of silver and gold arises not so much from their scarcity in the earth, as from the difficulty of extracting them from their stony combinations. Dr. J. C. Ayer, the well known chemist of Massachusetts, has cut this Gordian knot. After having merited and received the gratitude of half mankind, by his remedies that cure their diseases, he is now winning the other half, by opening for them an easy road to the exhaustless treasures of the hills. He has discovered and published a chemical process, which renders at little cost, the hardest rocks and ores friable like chalk so that the precious metals are loosed from their confinement, and easily gathered. Mines too poor to pay, may be worked at a profit now, and the yield of rich mines is largely increased, while the cost of extracting the metals from the ore, is diminished. Either is a great achievement, to enrich mankind, or cure their diseases. But we are informed our celebrated countryman adheres to the latter, as his speciality and chief ambition.—(Buffalo Sentinel.

Senator Morton, of Indiana, says that the cause which led to the defeat of the Republican party in that State, was President Grant's veto of the Currency Bill, and the shilly shally course pursued on that subject in Congress.

Parson's Purgative Pills will give relief, if not entirely cure, dyspepsia when everything else fails. They have been tried in some desperate cases, and have given more relief than any other medicine.

One of the Coleman sisters, Miss Louie, recently died in California. Her remains will be brought to Carlisle.
