

Waynesboro Village Record.

Thursday, October 29, '74.

Brigham Young's health is still improving. His early demise is looked for.

Phelps the defaulting cashier of the New York State Treasury, has been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

Charley Ross's father who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is said to be recovering.

Lieut. Col. Fred. Grant, son of the President, was married on Tuesday a week to Miss Ida M. Honore, daughter of a rich merchant, of Chicago, Ill. The wedding was a grand affair, upwards of two hundred guests being present.

The Treasurer recently received an anonymous note from Philadelphia, signed "Conscience," inclosing $1200, to cover duties on personal apparel imported for the use of the correspondent since the year 1860, with interest.

One transgressor has found the way to be hard, even though he started upon it with $80,000 of other people's money in his pocket. Alexander D. Hamilton, the defaulting Treasurer of Jersey City, who ran away last February, and has since then been seeing life in two continents, has returned and voluntarily surrendered himself. It seems that a few months' experience as a rover and an outcast has so disgusted him that years in a prison cell appear preferable in comparison.

Accounts from Fort Wayne, say: A fire which has been burning for five miles west and southeast of this city now assumes a serious aspect. It is estimated that nearly ten thousand acres of prairie and timber lands are burning on the line of the Toledo, Wabash and Western railway, which causes a dense smoke to settle over the city and surrounding country, making it nearly as dark as night in the middle of day, and rendering breathing difficult. It is feared the fire may reach the city if rain does not come.

Suit was brought against a firm of liquor dealers in Brooklyn by the father of a youth who died from the result of intoxication by liquors sold to him by the firm in question. The damages were laid at $15,000 and a verdict for $2,000 was gained. Had the suit been on behalf of a wife for the loss of a father the damages would have been assessed much higher. Judge McClue held that the jury could assess damages for the funeral expenses of the deceased, and the value of his services to his father till he arrived at the age of twenty-one. He further held that they could award what exemplary damages they thought proper.

One of the worst swindlers of the day has come to light in New York. Six hundred poor Germans were induced to purchase lots in a village near York, called Astoria, believing them to be free from all incumbrance. These lots were sold by an association formed for this purpose, and which kept concealed from the purchasers of the tract the fact that upon the land rested a mortgage for $219,000, being in fact the whole of the original purchase money except $1,000. These mortgages have been foreclosed and the occupants of the land will be ejected by process of law or be compelled to pay for their purchase a second time.

Tom Ballard, a noted counterfeiter, in Buffalo, has been arrested. The arrest was a very important one. The house proved to be a complete manufacturing establishment. There were packed in boxes $50,000 so finely executed that it was almost impossible to detect the counterfeit, and it is believed that $200,000 worth has been put into circulation. The spurious bills were formerly taken to Fort Erie and sold to prominent parties, who passed them through agents into the interior of the Dominion. Montreal and Toronto are said to be full of counterfeit United States money, and merchants and others have been so victimized of late that they totally refuse to accept our money at any rate of discount.

Ballard has made an interesting proposal to the Government, in hope of a mitigation of his punishment. He offers to reveal a method, invented by himself, for the effectual prevention of counterfeiting. Ballard's invention consists of a method of lettering the bills so that they cannot be imitated; of a new plan for coloring the fabric introduced into the material of the paper, and of a new way of coloring the letters and numbers upon the face of the notes.

A letter from Ft. Smith, Ark., says the United States marshal went to arrest the desperado Redmouth. The party came upon the ruffian in a deep ravine. The latter opened fire, which the posse returned. The next morning a woman, one of Redmouth's wives, was found completely riddled with bullets fired by the posse, the scoundrel having held her in front of him as a breastwork. The woman died and Redmouth escaped.

The free use of tobacco will make any young man a tottering dolt at forty. Modern whiskey generally kills in from two to seven years.

A store in Boston was entered by burglars on Friday night of last week, and $900 worth of meersbaum pipes carried off.

Local News.

Butter, 28 cents.

Christmas this year falls on Friday—eight weeks from to-morrow.

The mountains look beautiful in their yellow, red and golden robes.

Court will commence on Monday, November 10th.

Winter apples are selling at 40 cents a bushel.

Autumn is hanging her scarlet banners on the forest walls.

Partridges may be shot in November and December, not before.

In Town.—The rival candidates for Sheriff in this county, Thos. McAfee and John Sweeney, were in town on Saturday.

John W. Bear, the Buckeye Blacksmith, will address a Republican meeting at Mechanics-town to-morrow evening. So says the Clarion.

The weather for the past week has been delightful, and if not the "Indian summer" season, very much resembling it, owing to its hazy atmosphere.

A RELIC.—A friend handed us a German Almanac the other day which was printed at Germantown, in this State, in 1774, one hundred years ago.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—Attention is directed to the new advertisements in this issue including several sales, and also to our business locals.

LL.—We regret to learn that our venerable Post Master, Mr. A. G. Nevin, is again confined within doors with a complaint to which he has long been subject, Asthma.

Rev. Geo. B. Russell, editor of "Our Church Paper," published at Pittsburg, was on a visit to his friends in this place last week. On Sunday he preached in St. Paul's Reformed Chapel.

HANDSOME.—A handsome barber sign, monument style, has recently been put up in front of Mr. Wm. A. Price's shop on West Main street. The work speaks well for Mr. H. Detrow, builder and painter.

THAT "BLACK LIST."—We are waiting patiently on delinquents before making out a list for standing publication. After a certain date a list of all who have failed to comply with our repeated calls for their arrears will appear.

COURT.—The following is a list of Jurors from Washington and Quincy townships for November term of Court commencing on the 16th: W. S. Amberson, Ezra Miller, David Knepper, D. C. M. Lecrone, Samuel Onwaka, Samuel Wishart, Samuel S. Wingett, Jacob Wetzel.

Mr. Henry Peters of this place exhibited to us the other evening what he represented to be a veritable Kansas grasshopper about three inches long, with white wings. It was captured in Dr. I. N. Sively's meadow.

THE ECLIPSE.—The total eclipse of the moon came off according to astronomers' published programme on Sunday morning last, the earth's shadow crossing its disc a little after 2 o'clock. Owing to the unseasonable hour at which the eclipse occurred but comparatively few of our citizens witnessed the sight. Those who did remain up say the view was much obstructed at times by floating clouds.

NEW UNIFORM.—On Saturday evening last our Band appeared on the street for the first time in their new uniform, which was much admired. The suit consists of black pants and blue coat, trimmed elaborately with yellow metal; red silk sash and blue cap trimmed with the same metal and surmounted with a blue plume. The instruments were highly polished, and the music, to our ear, never sounded sweeter.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. George Mid-dour, of this place, we regret to say, met with an accident on Wednesday of last week, which will likely disable him for some time. At the time he was assisting in taking stone out of a quarry. It appears a prop was accidentally knocked out from under a large stone which in falling struck his left foot fracturing a bone at the ankle joint and otherwise seriously spraining and bruising his foot. Dr. I. N. Sively adjusted the broken bone and put the foot in proper shape. Though confined to bed, at last accounts his situation was much improved.

ELECTION DAY.—We desire patrons from different sections of the township on Tuesday next, election day, to make it convenient to call and square up arrears at this office. We intend this as a reminder and trust it may not go unheeded. We must have funds sufficient to pay our paper bills at least, and of this we are far short at present. Our accounts are generally small and widely scattered. For this reason no thinking patron should allow himself to fall much in arrears.—Were it not for the more considerate class in every community who settle their accounts promptly not one village paper like the Record in a hundred would long survive in times such as we are now passing through.

Look out for a long, hard winter. Susan B. Anthony's feet have already begun to grow cold.

Election on Tuesday next.

LOCAL JEALOUSY.

There is nothing in our estimation, so detrimental to the welfare of a town or community as the jealousy of one business man toward another. It does not require a very careful observation to see it every day. Where men might move along in the up-hill road of life smoothly and friendly, you will find them, in many cases, watching and waiting for the opportunity to "gain a point" on their neighbor in business.—Don't crowd each other gentlemen, the almighty dollar is not made for the grave. Enjoy yourselves as you go through the world; lend your neighbor a helping hand for you may need it in return some day, and when the time comes for you to be laid away "among the rude forefathers of the hamlet," let the urn of your ashes be blessed with the memory of deeds of kindness you have done towards your fellow men. Business can be made a pleasure when men wish to make it so; but local jealousy must not be admitted into either business or social circles. It requires a united effort, true; but the ultimate result will prove amutual benefit to all.—Ez.

ACCIDENT.—On Friday morning last, Judge Oaks in passing through Miller's Drug store, accidentally fell down an open hatchway into the cellar. He was picked up in an insensible condition and carried into the house. Dr. Montgomery was summoned, who upon examination found him to be suffering from a concussion of the brain. He was soon restored to consciousness and a carriage procured in which he was then taken to his home. At last accounts he was doing very well, not seeming to have sustained any serious injury from the fall.—Repository.

FATHER AND SON DROWNED.—On Monday of last week, while Capt. John Walker's canal boat was passing through the "Pool" in the upper end of Washington county, Md., his little son who was playing on the side of the boat fell overboard. Twice A Week says:—"The father instantly jumped into the water, succeeded in getting hold of the boy and had nearly gained the shore when they both sank and drowned, it is supposed, having over taken Captain Walker. The bodies were shortly afterward recovered and conveyed to Clearspring when they were taken in charge by the Knights of Pythias for interment.

KILLED.—A man named Seth Eyles, aged about 60 years, was killed near Mechanics-town, Md., on Friday last under the following circumstances: A boy discharged a gun at a rabbit, and one of the shot it was supposed struck the iron rail on the railroad and glancing penetrated the unfortunate man's abdomen who was standing some ten feet off, causing internal bleeding from the effects of which he soon expired.

BOOKS FOR SALE.—We offer for sale two volumes of that beautifully illustrated periodical THE ALDINE, newly and handsomely bound. Will be sold on reasonable terms. Apply at this Office.

Dr. Chritzman, of Welsh Inn, Republican candidate for Assembly, was in town yesterday. The Dr. is a clever gentleman and would no doubt represent our county creditably at Harrisburg.

A TREASURE STORY.—Duffield, Jefferson county, W. Va., October 7.—Your correspondent was shown the tree, a few days ago under which was dug the sum of $40,000. The tree is an oak, and stands on the west side of the road leading from Charlestown to Shepherdstown, and about ten miles from the latter place. The story, as it goes here, and which is believed to be a true one, is as follows: During the war an officer of the Federal army, who had charge of a large sum of money, a quartermaster or paymaster, buried the $40,000 beneath the tree; doing so either from fear of its falling into the hands of the Confederates, or it may have been to secure it to himself. If the latter, he succeeded, if we credit what follows, which is told by parties who saw the evidence of the facts and heard the story from the party when he returned to take away the buried treasure.

The party, whose name is not given, or if he gave one, was an assumed name, was tried a year or two after the war for the embezzlement of government money—the same money he had buried under the oak in Jefferson county—was convicted of the charge, and sentenced to serve a term of years in the Albany Penitentiary. This he did, and the law was satisfied, for he declined to give any clue to the whereabouts of the money. His sentence expired a few months ago, and as was to be expected, he lost no time in hurrying to the spot where a fortune was to be had for digging. It seems his knowledge of the locality had somewhat failed, for he was seen in the neighborhood for several days, but one fine morning he had gone, and with him the money. The ground under this tree presented the appearance of a newly ploughed field, having been dug up during the night by the excavator for the space of a rod or more. The pick and shovel he had borrowed in the neighborhood he returned.

Strange as this story may appear, there is no doubt but that money of some kind was buried there, and dug up. The amount is believed to have been the sum stated.—Baltimore Gazette.

Look out for a long, hard winter. Susan B. Anthony's feet have already begun to grow cold.

Election on Tuesday next.
