Several car-loads of provisions and clothing have been sent from Cleveland to the Nebraska sufferers within a week. A fox hunting club has been organized in Baltimore, which will keep a pack of sixty hounds. The gross earnings of the Western Maryland Railroad for the year ending September 30, 1874, amounted to $277,792.24, and the operating expenses to $194,442.38, leaving a balance of $83,349.86. Wm. H. Rinehart, the Sculptor, died of Consumption, in Rome recently. He was a native of Carroll county, Md., and was born in 1825. He was justly considered one of America's most gifted sons. St. Joe, a small oil town in Butler County, Pa., was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon; fifty-five dwellings, two drug stores and several livery stables were burned. The fire originated in a defective flue. No estimate of loss can be formed at present. Rev. J. E. Gerdeman, of the Catholic church, is reported to have disappeared with the female organist at St. Bonifacius Catholic church, Philadelphia, of which he was pastor, to the consternation of the entire diocese. Theodore Tilton's suit against Henry Ward Beecher for $100,000 damages was set down for trial in Brooklyn on Monday, and would be proceeded with unless delayed by the defence. Both Mr. Beecher's and Tilton's counsel say that they are ready for trial, and that the case for their respective clients is the strongest they ever knew. The trial will probably continue two or three weeks. Later information is that the commencement of the suit has been deferred until Wednesday next. Alexander Delmar is again at his statistics, and this time the subject considered is the wheat market. He shows that Egypt and other sources of supply cannot meet the demands of Great Britain without the material aid of the United States, and that the exports from this country will in consequence, for the years 1874-'75, be much larger and the prices better than now prevail, notwithstanding the estimates of interested English statisticians and "bearish" American newspapers. A little girl, while playing on a railroad track at Hollidaysburg, Pa., got her foot so wedged in a frog that she was held fast. Her mother saw the predicament and heard an approaching train. She ran to the rescue of her child, but could not extricate the foot. The train came on, and although the engineer applied the brakes it was clear that it could not be stopped quick enough. The mother, found that the girl could not be less than maimed, held her as far off the track as she could while the cars went by. A foot was crushed but life was saved. The wires bring news of a remarkable number of shocking crimes recently. Near Terry Haute, Indiana, a railroad watchman was murdered for the sake of plunder; in Cincinnati a mother took the life of her little child and then committed suicide; at Salisbury, N. H., one boy killed a playmate with a club, and in Central Village, Conn., another juvenile shot his brother and sister dead. The homicidal mania seems to have been abroad in great vigor within the last few days. During the first year of their introduction into this country, 112,043,500 postal cards have been used. The manufactory at Springfield, Mass., where they are made, has, during the entire period, been running from eighteen to twenty hours per day, with a force of forty hands steadily at work preparing the cards for shipment. Three thousand pounds of paper are daily consumed at the manufactory, and about 700,000 cards are turned out every working day. The gloomy reports from Kansas are echoed from Nebraska. The grasshoppers ravaged the grain and the grass, and the people and their cattle are starving. There are 7,000 men women and children destitute of the necessities of life in the heart of that part of the West which but for these calamities would be abundantly able to take care of itself. Children have already perished, and it is now reported that adults are dying. General Ord, commander of the Platte, tells these facts to the Chicago board of trade, and says that they are true of all the region of Nebraska 50 miles west of the Missouri river. The citizens of Chicago are taking measures to relieve this suffering. The State and local authorities of Nebraska, like those of Kansas, seem entirely unequal to the task. St. Louis, November 9.—Prof. A. B. Smith says there are fully forty thousand people in Kansas and Nebraska who are either now or will shortly be in absolute want of the necessities of life, and he earnestly appeals, not only to citizens of St. Louis, but to the people of the whole country, to send them aid in the shape of provisions and clothing as speedily as possible.

Snyder, who filled the office of Register and Recorder in this county from 1869 to 1872, died on Tuesday last, of asthma. Mr. Snyder had been a sufferer of the disease named for some years, and bore his afflictions with great patience. He was a valued citizen, and was held in great respect by our citizens and by the citizens of the county.—Opinion.

Mr. Editor.—The "W. M. R. R.—A proposition to the city," &c., &c., is the caption of an article in the Baltimore American of the 9th inst.—in which the people of this town and vicinity have a deep interest—and to my mind you could not publish more interesting information than the insertion of this whole article which is herewith enclosed. If however you have not the space at this late day of your current week's issue to admit of it all please give your readers a brief synopsis of the main features in which our town and vicinity are especially and deeply concerned. At present we are only 4 1/2 miles by wagon road to a point on the W. M. Road 63 miles from Baltimore, at its present terminus, and yet our freights to tide water are equal to 140 miles of R. R.—that is to say that we can place our commodities at tide water Baltimore as cheap by R. R. 140 miles, as we can by the 63 miles of W. M. Road—so that practically this line of road is at present of as little advantage to us as it seems to the city of Baltimore. Hence we see our interest in the acceptance by the city of Baltimore of the proposition made by a new R. R. Company "Baltimore & Western Md. R. Co." This new company proposes on certain conditions, named in the article referred to, to build within 13 months, a double Rail Road from the W. M. Road to tide water at Curtis Creek—and to expend the sum of $500,000 in the improvement of the road bed and rolling stock and in providing suitable facilities for handling coal at Williamsport—and within six years to construct and equip a Rail Road between Monterey or Hagerstown, to Johnstown Pa. (it is to be hoped that they will agree to strike out Hagerstown in this article of the contract) and thence to coal and mineral lands on the North branch of the Potomac. In extending the road to Johnstown, Pa. it is proposed to utilize existing lines, supplying all necessary links. If the extension is made from Monterey via Waynesboro, to Mount Dallas, two links of new road would have to be made, one from Monterey to Marjon 18 miles and the other connecting the S. Penna. Road with Mount Dallas, 30 miles and 20 more already made to the Broad Top coal region, making the whole line only 123 miles—while by the Baltimore and Ohio road it is 178 miles from Cumberland to Baltimore. In case the new Company should conclude to leave us out in the cold and use the W. M. Road to Hagerstown, thence to Marion, only one link of 80 miles of new road need be made, but it would make the whole line 143 miles to Mt. Dallas, a difference of ten miles in favor of Monterey. Yours truly, J. P. Mr. Editor.—Last week Ex. Pedagogy spoke of progress in schools, in your paper. I may interest the little folks to give a little scrap. About the year A. D. 1810, the school was taught in a log house, one story high, east of Waynesboro, and just North of the Toll Gate, now kept by Mr. Gaff. All who wish to compare houses can see both the ancient style and the modern, at one time, by taking a walk a little distance below town—Children, think of it! in those days ventilation was obtained by picking the daubing out of the walls; in the fall the teacher and pupils filled it up with mortar of their own manufacture! John Alexander taught school there, some of his penmanship is yet extant, preserved by one of his female pupils, who has during 1874 gone to meet him in the spirit land. It appears to me that a Mr. Flannigan also taught there. The house has been occupied by the Dowlin family for many years; two or three miles was the distance for some to wade the snow to reach school. Girls learned to read and to write their names and sometimes letters, as well as to memorize the multiplication table! Beyond this few scraps. They were not crammed and worn out with many studies and little exercise as now a day; hence they are healthier than the next generation will be. Perhaps you can obtain from Grandfathers and Grandmothers more information of those old time school sports than what I can give you. Ask them! SCRIBLER. POOR HOUSE REPORT.—The expenditures during the last month are as follows: Dry goods $113.33; groceries $55.57; pork $18.02; beef cattle $200.35; wood for fuel $36.00; coal $4.50; stores and tinware $13.75; shoes and shoemaking $59.15; tobacco $22.12; vegetables $8.25; hardware $5.56; blacksmithing $7.10; threshing grain $10.88; labor on farm $15.00; stationery $4.30; removals and justices fees $36.71; medical attendance of O. D. P.'s $14.00; coffins for Almshouse $9.50; O. D. P. coffins $16.00; paid other counties $69.38; lying in expenses of O. D. P. $8.00; indultories $2.50; support of O. D. P.'s $315.50. A mild winter has been predicted by a weather-wise individual, who bases his prognostications on the movements of the birds, the blue fish and codfish. The former have not yet commenced their flight to the South, the blue fish still lingers in Northern waters, while the codfish is much later than usual. We hope this prediction may prove true, for there will be much suffering among the poor the present winter, whether the weather be mild or severe, but, of course, the milder the winter the less will its biting blasts be felt by those who are unable to properly fortify against them. Gen. Dix, Republican, was defeated for Gov. at the election in New York.

Gibsons a small mining village in this State, was recently the scene of the violation of a respectful girl, a Miss Davis, thirteen years of age, by a dissipated fellow, Martin Groves, thirty-five years of age. The crime was committed on the margin of woods near the town, while the girl was proceeding on an errand for her mother. When the story was made known throughout the village the greatest excitement prevailed. A crowd gathered and decided upon seeking out Groves and giving him summary justice. They proceeded up the mountain near the town, and captured him in the woods. They took him down into a deep depression between two of the hills. In that lonely vale, by the light of the moon, the infuriated miners executed their sentence. His eyes were bandaged and his hands bound behind him, and then he was hanged to the limb of a chestnut tree and left there until he was dead. He was afterwards buried near the hut where he had lived for years. The outrage on the Davis girl was not Groves' first crime of that nature. The commission of three outrages was laid at his door by general belief, which had made him a terror to all women and children. Tidicut evades the local option law in a peculiar manner. There is but one place in the town where the cup that inebriates can be procured, and that is so arranged that the drinker never knows of whom he is procuring his indispendible. The sencer after his morning bitters enters a room, one side of which is boarded up. In this partition a horizontal wheel revolves. Over the wheel is the legend, "Drop your money on this wheel, call for what you want, and wait until the wheel revolves." The first order obeyed, and the wheel turns around, bringing out the desired liquid. The man is unable to swear who sold him the liquor, as no person is visible. Whiskey is the father of vain tricks. In New York, on Friday, George H. Mix, who was indicted for stealing $1,100 worth of real lace from the store of H. B. Claffin & Co., and pleaded guilty, was brought up for sentence in the Court of General Sessions. Mix is of most respectable connections, and the son of a wealthy banker in Hartford, Conn., who at his death bequeathed the prisoner an estate said to be worth $250,000. On being brought to the bar, Mix wept bitterly, and piteously pleaded for mercy. Recorder Hackett said that the prisoner had brought disgrace on his family and connections by his conduct, and deserved no sympathy. The sentence of the court was that he be confined in State prison at hard labor for five years. The surplus wheat of California is estimated at 600,000 tons. If this were loaded in carts containing a ton each, and started overland, the head of the procession would be entering Boston before the rear had left San Francisco. Or, if the wheat was loaded into ships of one thousand tons each, it would take six hundred and if these ships should sail in a line within sight of each other—say twenty miles apart—they would extend a distance of 12,000 miles, or one half the circumference of the globe. A special despatch reports intense excitement in Allen county, Indiana, on account of the abduction of three children of John Martin, a few weeks ago, by two men and three women. The party were traced to Illinois, but have not been heard from since. The children were aged respectively ten, thirteen and fifteen years. THE PEANUT CROP.—For the year ending September 30 the people of the United States consumed 580,000 bushels of peanuts; Tennessee furnished 185,000 bushels Virginia 225,000, North Carolina 60,000, and the rest, 125,000 bushels, was imported from Africa. The maturing Virginia crop is said to be large, probably about 350,000 bushels, while the new North Carolina crop is estimated at 120,000 bushels. Virginia is, therefore, the banner State for peanuts. Have you a severe wrench or sprain? Have you rheumatism in any form? Have you stiff neck, or burses caused by rheumatic pains? If so, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is a specific remedy, used internally and externally. We often see a large stock of cattle which do not seem to thrive, and come out "spring poor," all for want of something to start them in the right direction. One dollar's worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Compound Powders, given to such a stock occasionally during the winter, would be worth more than an extra half ton of hay. The recent fire at Seljus Grove, Pa., destroyed two squares, or sixty buildings including two hotels, a school house, printing office and Methodist church. Loss $120,000. The Democrats will have a majority in the next Congress, and also in our State Legislature. BUSINESS LOCALS. J. W.
