An orchard planted by Daniel Webster yields this year 1,300 barrels of apples.

While firing a salute at Madison, Ohio, over the democratic victories, the cannon burst, instantly killing a young man named George F. Martin.

The New Orleans Times says: "After so many startling and extraordinary political, business, social, clerical and other upheavals, it is a fact of life, to the aged spirit and aggravated mind to learn that the peanut crop of the country is safe."

Udderzook's failure either to confess or deny his guilt may be taken as presumptive evidence against him. Had he been innocent he would have hardly failed to say so before he was hanged. He would have been anxious to give this parting assurance to his friends.

The Daily Times says the long lost Charles Ross has been traced to St. Catharines. A woman who gave her name as Hazard, and her daughter arrived here about four months ago, having charge of a stolen child. The woman is under arrest, and the police and several American detectives are in search of the daughter who has the child with her.

A Daughter of Jackson, the Alexandria hotel keeper who killed Col. Ellsworth, was discharged from the Treasury Department a short time since. Through the influence of Colonel Mosby, the President ordered her to be reinstated, and it is said has directed that she shall not be disturbed during his term.

The Rev. M. Craig, a Methodist divine, who is at present the pastor of a church in Evansville, Wis., has been arrested in Milwaukee for the larceny of books from the store of Des Forges & Lawrence. He admitted his guilt, but says nothing in extenuations of it. He is now in jail. He has a wife and one child, and is about 40 years of age.

According to a Pittsburg newspaper, the grey squirrels in the Allegheny Valley are engaged in a general migration. They draw recruits from all points, and may be seen daily swimming the river in large numbers, and pursuing an easterly course. Old farmers say that such a migration has not taken place since 1846, and regard it as the forerunner of an extremely severe winter.

An exchange says that the forest fires in Ohio continue. The gas lamps at Lancaster, in Fairfield county, had to be lighted in broad day owing to the density of the smoke that rolled into the town from the burning pine woods. Between Bainbridge and Bonnersville, in Ross county, crops, fences, live stock, and houses have been destroyed, leaving many of the farmers destitute. Measures are being taken for their relief.

The majority for Latta, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, is 4,679. This is about the number of votes thrown away on the Temperance candidate. The total vote was 554,339, which is about 108,000 less than the aggregate vote for Governor in 1872. The Democrats polled 400,000 votes less than they did for Mr. Buckalew for Governor in 1872, while the Republicans polled 80,000 less than they did for Governor Hartigan.

The long pending suit of the State of Maryland against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to compel the payment by the Company in gold of the interest on the loan made it by the State was finally decided in the Supreme Court on Monday. The unanimous opinion of this tribunal of final resort was in favor of the Company—that they can be legally paid in ordinary currency, and that there is no authority in the contract for compulsion in gold. This confirms the previous decision in favor of the railroad given by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

A few days ago, a little child of Mr. Webb Calhoun, living near Decatur, Ill., fell into the cistern, and the mother, who happened to see the child fall, jumped in after it. Mr. Calhoun was away from home, and Mrs. Calhoun was compelled to stand in the water waist deep from eight o'clock in the morning until five in the evening. Some school children then heard her cries for help, but it was some time before they discovered and rescued the almost exhausted lady.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has issued a schedule of new rules designed to promote the convenience and comfort of passengers over its lines. That intolerable nuisance in a railway car a drunken man, is to be abated, and that other nuisance, who occupies two chairs and four places, compelling others to stand by his selfishness, is also to be abolished, and best of all, that nuisance, worst of all, the novel selling, peanut vending, ill-illustrated paper peddling, prize-card package demon of travel is to be curbed and restrained by such wholesome regulations as to prevent him from conjoining to be a constant source of annoyance to passengers.

Lot's wife probably wouldn't have looked back, but a woman with a new dress is supposed to have passed her and she wanted to see if the back breadth was ruffled.

Local News.

W. E. Udderzook was executed at West Chester, Pa., at noon, on Thursday. The prisoner was brought from his cell and passed through the yard of the jail accompanied by the Sheriff and Deputy and the prisoner's spiritual advisers. He walked firmly with no outward exhibition of terror. He ascended the scaffold, where a short prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Best; a few moments were spent in subdued conversation between himself and his spiritual advisers. His last words to the ministers who have been constant to him were, "All I have to say is, I am a sinner saved by grace, and I am accepted of God." The Sheriff then approached him, shook hands with him, bidding him goodbye. Deputy McFarland placed the black cap upon the prisoner and Sheriff Gill pulled the drop at 12 o'clock 19 minutes. Death ensued by strangulation the prisoner evincing no outward exhibition that he was suffering. At 12:30 the heart had ceased to beat, and the physician pronounced him dead. Thus ended the last act in the tragedy. His body will be placed at the disposal of his friends. He made no confession.

The execution of O'Mara and Irving, for the murder of Mrs. Margaret O'Mara and her daughter, Mara, took place at 10:30 A. M., on Wednesday, at Montrose State. The women were the mother and sister of O'Mara, and were killed to obtain $2,000, which would lapse to O'Mara at their death.

DESPERATE AFFAIR.—On last Friday evening, about 8 o'clock, three men called at the farm house of Miss Hoover, near Donegal springs, and asked permission to sleep in the barn. It was granted, and just while the family, which consisted of Miss Hoover, an old man named Bishop a boy about 18 years old, and a girl of the same age, were preparing to retire for the night, the men returned to the house and demanded something to eat.

Suspicion was at once aroused in the minds of the occupants of the house that all was not right. Mr. Bishop passed the food out through a window, when one of the men—all of whom were now masked—knocked the dish from his hands, and leaped through the window into the house, followed by the others. Here a struggle began. In the fight Miss Hoover was knocked down by a blow from one of the ruffians, which sent her reeling under a table. She soon recovered, however, and tore the mask from the face of one of them. Mr. Bishop was knocked down twice, but being a very stout man, fought manfully, dealing heavy blows on their heads with a smoothing iron. While the fight was going on, the girl ran up stairs, locked herself in a room, and blew a horn from the window. This brought the neighbors, but before the assistance came the scoundrels had made their escape. The boy is severely cut about the eyes and head.

Miss Hoover is an old lady, and is supposed to have a large amount of money. Bishop, being a brave man, prevented her being robbed and perhaps murdered. The kitchen and dining room were literally covered with blood from the fray.—Lancaster Express.

PHILADELPHIA, November 16.—A great crowd attended the hearing of the Gerdeman case this afternoon at the Central Station.

District Attorney Mann, for the Commonwealth, proposed to prove that the defendant had received money as trustee for the expressed purpose of erecting a church. In this manner he had accepted about $150,000, with a portion of which he has purchased drafts in Europe to the extent of $100,000, and which he proposed to enjoy on the other side of the water. In reply to questions by Mr. James H. Hoyer, counsel for the prisoner, Mr. Mann stated that the money had been received by authority from Bishop Wood.

Mr. Hoyer argued that as the church was not chartered by the State the action against Gerdeman as trustee would not hold good, to which Mr. Mann replied that a man had no more right to rob a Catholic church than that of any other denomination.

After examination of witnesses proving the receipt of money as trustee, the prisoner was held in $10,000 bail to await trial for embezzlement. Bail was promptly supplied, and he was liberated.

Several prominent members of the Young Men's Christian Association were present to furnish bail.

HORRIBLE MURDER IN INDIANA.—On October 20th last Joseph Robbins, bridge watchman at Kaskaskia river, on the Vandalia railroad, was murdered, and Nathan Burgess, a neighbor, arrested, and the evidence against him was so strong he made the following confession in open court: "I know the Vandalia pay car had passed that afternoon, and had paid Robbins his month's wages; I got a shotgun and went to the bridge; as I approached the watch-house I saw through a window Robbins sitting inside; his shoulders and head only could be seen; I raised the gun and fired; I then hesitated a few minutes to listen if the report of the gun had aroused any one; I then went up to the watch-house door and found Robbins on his knees praying; I plucked him and said, 'Oh, God, have mercy on the one who did this; spare him for Jesus' sake.' I was horrified and turned and ran; I didn't know where; I did not enter the house nor touch the door; his words haunt me still." The amount for which Robbins was murdered was $31.50.

Union Services were held in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening last. The audience present was an unusually large one, and the address by Rev. Dr. Spotswood to the Y. M. C. A. was a very eloquent and able one. The music by the united choirs was grand, surpassing anything of the kind we have listened to for a long while.

SIMPLE.—Any of our patrons who may have scabby urchins owing to an impure state of blood, and who cannot afford to buy a bottle of Fahrney's Blood Cleanser, will find the following simple remedy effectual. Make a tea of bark from a sour cherry tree—to be drank moderately two or three times a day. The worst forms of blood diseases have thus been successfully treated.

The Democratic majority official for Lieut. governor in this State is 4,679.

AN ACCIDENT.—A delegation of the young Democracy with our Band visited Hagerstown on Thursday evening last to take part in a general jollification there over the recent successes of the party. On their return a couple of the party met with an accident about mid-night in Leitersburg which might have proved more serious in its consequences. It appears a sudden severe cut with the whip started the horse at full flight and the buggy coming in contact with some obstruction it was capsized and the occupants "spilled out," but fortunately without being seriously injured. One of the party states that they were under the buggy and that his partner, the driver, was at first found standing on his head. The horse having freed himself from the vehicle made his way into an adjoining town lot or yard knocking down four or five panels of fencing, where he was captured. The fracas very naturally caused considerable alarm among some of the citizens of that quiet village. The horse and buggy belonged to Mr. John S. Funk, Liverman, of this place. Besides having his buggy badly wrecked Mr. F. lost a new Buffalo robe. At last accounts the horse was under treatment and it was thought his eyesight would be lost in consequence of the mishap.

FINE HEARSE.—The other day our attention was called to a beautifully finished Hearse at the shed of Mr. Jacob Bender, cabinet-maker, in this place. The body was built by Mr. P. Dock, now deceased, and the running part and finishing was done by Mr. George Hawker, carriage-maker. In its construction and finish master workman-ship is certainly displayed. On the sides are large lights (French glass) oval shape, the cost of which was $45.00. Mr. B. informed us that the whole cost of the hearse was $450.00.

The water in both wells and streams is said to be very low owing to the continuous dry weather. Not enough rain fell in this section within the past two months to saturate the ground to any considerable depth. The town cisterns are also, generally speaking, exhausted.

The appearances for a "wet spell" during Tuesday was quite favorable, the weather cloudy and damp with the wind from Southeast, but up to Wednesday morning little rain had fallen, not sufficient to penetrate the parched earth beyond the depth of one or two inches.

It is a pertinent suggestion of an exchange, that if you know of a good item for your local paper, you should not tell the editor of it, but let him find it out as best he can, and then find fault with him because he didn't have it just right in every particular.

It is a curious fact that while business of every kind is depressed, and the wages of labor are being considerably reduced, the price of boots and billiards, horse hire and sleeve buttons, and other necessities of life remain unchanged.—This is probably owing to the grasshopper plague in the West.

The Democrats will have a majority of nine on joint ballot in the next Legislature, which will give them a U. S. Senator. Hon. Jer. S. Black and Hon. Chas. R. Buckalew are spoken of in that connection.

SORE THROAT.—Tight Collars.—An eminent physician who devotes his whole attention to the throat and lungs, says that about three-fourths of all throat diseases would get well by wearing very loose collars, and no necktie at all. He said that often singers would come to him with throat diseases and loss of voice, and he would tear open their cravats and cure them with no other treatment whatever.—"The pressure of the collar on the arteries of the neck is very bad for the health," said he. He also added: If you have a disease of the throat, let nature do the curing, and the physician just as little as possible.

Alcoholic Stimulants are taken into the blood the heart works faster, and this unnatural speed wears out the vital machinery.
