The President has pardoned Benoni Howard, of New York, sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for counterfeiting match stamps.

News from Madeira by way of London reports the burning of the emigrant ship Cospatrick, from London for New York, at sea. Nearly five hundred lives have been lost.

A Philadelphia manufactory turns out 3,000 umbrellas a day. This is estimated to be about half the number that are stolen in the same time; but like the query of the pins: What becomes of the other half?

A boy eight years old, was lately brought into court in New Jersey, charged with stealing a five cent piece from his parents. Upon his confession of having taken the money, the Judge at once sent for his parents remarking at the same time that he wished he had the power to commit them instead of the boy.

A number of gentlemen embracing many prominent Philadelphians, have formed an organization for the erection of a mammoth hotel in that city to be completed in time for the Centennial. One hundred gentlemen subscribed $5,000 each, thus giving a fund of $500,000 to begin operations with. The proposed hotel will be located on Broad street.

The will of the late Mayor Havemeyer, of New York, was admitted to probate on Monday. The value of the property left is estimated at from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000. The only heirs are his widow and six sons and two daughters. The will stipulates that Mrs. Havemeyer's income shall not be more than $100,000 a year, nor less than $50,000.

IMPORTANT EYE OPERATION.—Intelligence of the complete restoration to sight of W. W. Corcoran, Esq., the eminent Washington philanthropist, has been received by his numerous friends here, with much gratification. Mr. Corcoran writes to his cousin, Dr. G. Reuling, of Baltimore, in grateful terms, that he is now able to read and write again, with the same eye, which before Dr. Reuling's operation was entirely blind.

BLOOD SHED.—An angry political excitement prevailed in New Orleans on Saturday last, the worst display of it being a street affray between ex-Governor Warmouth and Byerly, editor of the Bulletin, in which the latter was killed. Warmouth had a standing feud with the Bulletin, and had arranged to settle it by a duel in Alabama, on Monday with one of the editors; when Byerly met him on the street, provoked him to a fight, and Warmouth stabbed him so severely that he died in a few hours. Besides this deed of blood, there occurred in the City within twenty-four hours, other affrays, in which two negroes were killed, and two soldiers wounded. These indications of the readiness of New Orleans for riot, have led to some fear that a general conflict may be precipitated, but prominent Louisianians in Washington have faith that peace will be kept. The National Government is, however, paying close attention to the situation, and will interfere to preserve order at the first manifestations of an outbreak.

In view of the disturbed condition of affairs at New Orleans, and the danger of an outbreak when the Legislature assembles, Gen. Sheridan has been ordered to proceed to that city, and to use whatever force may be necessary to suppress insurrection and maintain the peace. General Emory has been superseded by General Terry.

On the death of one of England's most eminent physicians, all his effects were sold by auction, and among other things was a sealed packet, marked "Advice to Physicians," which brought a great price. The purchaser, on opening the packet, read as follows: "Keep the head cool, the bowels open and the feet warm." If physicians use Parsons' Purgative Pills, they are the most scientifically prepared pill that has appeared in the last hundred years.

We received a very pleasant letter of thanks from our old friend Kendall, since his return home, for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment which we gave him, and which he says has entirely cured him of the troublesome and dangerous cough he had when here.

"Ven some man slaps me on der shoulder and says, 'I was glad to hear you was well,' and den sticks behind my back his fingers to his nose, I bef my opinion of dot fuller."

Local News.

On all accounts of $10 and upwards paid at this office before the 1st January, 1875, a deduction of ten per cent. will be made. After that date costs will be added without respect to persons.

POSTAGE LAW.—On the first of January the new postage law, passed by Congress the 23d of June last, goes into operation, which will require the prepayment of postage on every copy of the Record sent out of the county. This prepayment must be made by publishers, otherwise the paper will not be forwarded. To avoid difficulty in regard to this new regulation we make subscribers this proposition: To all who shall have, on the first day of January, paid their subscriptions in ADVANCE, the paper will be sent free of postage. Those failing to make advance payments will be charged with the postage.

The snow has disappeared.

The days are lengthening.

The Week of Prayer begins on Monday next.

Be ready to turn over that "new leaf" with to-morrow, January 1st, 1875.

The dying year is burning its last ember.—December.

The label on the paper will tell any subscriber how his account stands.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. C. L. Keedy will preach a New Year's Sermon in Trinity Reformed Church on Sabbath evening next.

The barn of Mrs. Hannah Duncan, near Fayetteville, this county, was burned on Sunday last. Loss about $2,500. No insurance.

DEAD.—Mr. John Mull, a former well-known hat dealer, died in Chambersburg, on Monday last, from a paralytic stroke, in the 60th year of his age.

HELP WANTED.—A female desiring a situation at general house work, at liberal wages, can hear of one by applying at this office.

FOR SALE.—Thirty copies of Harper's Weekly, forty of Hearth and Home and twelve of American Agriculturist.—Price $1.50. Apply at this office.

STOCK FOR SALE.—Attention is called to the public sale of valuable stocks by J. B. Hamilton, on the 9th of January. We understand the Geiser Manufacturing Stocks now pay handsome dividends.

The man with the "big feet" put in an appearance on Christmas day.—He was "gidered" at Tommy Bringham's new restaurant, and left town with a pocket filled with peanuts.

IN TOWN.—Lew. W. Detrich, Esq., our efficient and popular Clerk of the County Courts was in town last week spending Christmas with his friends, ladies included, of course.

Our Carrier will be about to-morrow, New Year's Day, with his customary address. It is from the pen of a gifted young author. We ask for him a liberal reception.

We notice the Fountain Gas Light Lamps are being introduced very generally in towns and even small villages in different sections of the country. Waynesboro' is expected to fall into line ere long.

Mrs. Legget, widow of the late John Legget, post master under Buchanan's administration, died at the Insane Asylum at Harrisburg, on Saturday last. Her remains were brought to this place for interment, on Monday morning.—Opinion.

The deceased was a sister to Mr. Andrew Wilson of this town.

FESTIVALS.—The customary Christmas Festivals were held in several of our town churches. On Thursday evening one was held by the Sabbath School in the Lutheran Church, an interesting account of which is furnished by a correspondent in to-day's paper. Similar entertainments were held on Friday evening in Trinity Reformed Church and St. Paul's Reformed Chapel. The churches were all handsomely decorated for the occasion with evergreens, etc. and the Christmas Trees presented a charming appearance, particularly so to the juveniles in attendance. At St. Paul's Chapel in addition to the musical entertainment, which was of the finest order, very interesting and appropriate addresses were delivered by the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Schaeffer, by Rev. Mr. Kester and by Mr. George B. Resser.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.—We regret to see the announcement that the flouring mill of J. Madison Downey, Esq.—well known in this section of Franklin county—was destroyed by fire at Taylortown, Loudon county Va., together with a stock of flour and wheat, on Saturday night a week. Loss $3,000.

FROM OUR SMITHSBURG CORRESPONDENT.—The teachers of Washington Co. Md. held their eighth annual Institute in the Court Hall, in Hagerstown, on the 21st, 22d and 23d inst. Of the 164 teachers (the number employed in the Co.) only a few were absent.

A considerable interest was manifested, not only by the teachers, but by the citizens of the town and county in general.

The day sessions were devoted to the discussion of the various topics relative to the Educational work. The evening sessions consisted of addresses, essays, select reading etc. Prof. Geo. P. Beard, and Angell of the Shippensburg Normal School, Prof. J. H. Shoemaker of Chambersburg and others contributed very much to the evening entertainments.

The Lutheran S. S. as usual held their annual Christmas festival at Smithsburg. The principal exercises were singing by the Infant classes under the training of Miss Sallie Bell, on whom too much praise cannot be bestowed for her untiring energies and success in bringing up her classes to that degree of proficiency. A very nice feature of the entertainment was the distribution of candies to all the scholars of the school. Many of the teachers received handsome presents from their classes. The poor were also remembered by several of the larger classes.

The evening exercises did not differ much from those in the morning, except that the audience was very richly entertained by the recital of a beautiful Poem by D. M. Good Jr. of Waynesboro' Pa.

Rev. X. J. Richardson and family were very agreeably surprised on Saturday by his congregation in bringing to his house quite a number of useful household articles, in the form of a general donation.

A beautiful presentation speech was made by Prof. P. M. Birkle of Penna. College, which was responded to by the Pastor very appropriately in a few remarks, thanking them kindly and stating that he appreciated it not so much for its intrinsic value as for the motives which prompted his kind Parishioners in presenting the gifts.

We cheerfully give place to the following communication with reference to the distinguished divine who is shortly expected to lecture in this place:

Mr. Blair.—We were pleased to observe in the Record that the citizens of Waynesboro' are long to be favored by having an opportunity to hear Dr. Guard lecture.

For too much cannot be said in favor of a man so intellectually endowed as Dr. G. He left our city last Wednesday crowned with the admiration of many who realized that truly a great man had been in our midst. On Sabbath morning last he occupied the pulpit of the Liberty St. M. E. Church, in the evening the Third Presbyterian, and Monday and Tuesday evenings he delivered lectures in Library Hall. The subject Tuesday evening was the same that is announced for W.—Never was any audience more charmed, for nearly two hours eager upturned faces gazed spell-bound as it were at this man who possessed such fascinating power in thought and language. We heard a distinguished divine of our city say at its close "Truly he is the king of Lecturers."

We hope sincerely the good people of Waynesboro' and vicinity will not fail to patronize the lecture and we are sure they will have no cause to regret the price they pay. Respectfully,
Dec. 24th 1874. PITTSBURGER.

ANGRY PRACTICE.—The Valley Spirit makes the following sensible suggestion, which will apply to more towns than Chambersburg:—It has become the rule for people to send to the stores for kerosene oil, after nightfall. The dealer must of necessity bring a light into dangerous proximity to the oil, to enable him to see to fill the vessel, thereby endangering his own life and property. It also suggests the fact that persons are in the habit of filling their lamps in the evening, instead of in the morning by daylight as they should. Kerosene, even of the best quality, is dangerous if improperly used. No amount of familiarity with its use will obviate this difficulty. As a matter of precaution we would suggest that dealers refuse to furnish the article after dark, and that housekeepers insist upon having their lamps filled and trimmed by daylight. Numerous terrible accidents teach us that human life and property are always at stake where the reverse is practiced.

At a regular meeting of Washington Grange, No. 73, held December 26, 1874, the officers for the year 1875 were duly elected, as follows:

A happy NEW YEAR to all our good patrons.

A WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Evangelical Alliance of the United States has issued the following programme for the Week of Prayer:

Monday, January 4.—Thanksgiving and Confession.—Review of the past, Thanksgiving for its varied mercies; humiliation; God's blessing in the future.

Tuesday, January 5.—National objects for Prayer. For civil governments and all in authority; for the increase of intelligence, the purification of public opinion, and the spread of free institutions throughout the world.

Wednesday, January 6.—Home objects for Prayer.—For parents and children, teachers and guardians; for schools and colleges; for the Christian Ministry; for Young Men's Christian Associations and Sunday Schools.

Thursday, January 7.—Foreign Objects for Prayer.—The extension of religious liberty throughout the world; the prevalence of peace among nations; the increase of unity among Christians of all lands; the subordination of international interests, commerce and science to the spread of Christ's Kingdom.

Friday, January 8.—Missionary objects for Prayer.—For the conversion of the Jews; for the deliverance of nations from superstition, and for the conversion of the world to Christ.

Saturday, January 9.—Prayer for Religious Revival.—For the churches throughout the world, for their increase in zeal, spirituality and devotedness, and for a clearer witness for the truth among them.

Sunday, January 10.—A general meeting in the evening.—Addresses by ministers of various denominations. Closing exercises.

Evening Union Services will be held in this place as follows:

Monday.—St. Paul's Chapel, conducted by Rev. McClean.

Tuesday.—Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. Schaeffer.

Wednesday.—Trinity Reformed Church, conducted by Rev. Spotswood.

Thursday.—M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Keedy.

Friday.—Lutheran Church, conducted by Rev. Hibbsman.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Mr. Editor.—It occurs to me that the Christmas Festival held in the Lutheran church in your town, on Thursday evening last, and conducted by the Sabbath School of that large and flourishing congregation, deserves special notice. Many say it was the best service of that kind ever held in that house. There was no effort at display, no aim at "smartness", no attempt at show; but good taste and wholesome instruction characterized the whole worship. The exercises consisted of addresses and music and gifts, to about two hundred children.

Allow me to give you, as far as I can recall, a brief account of the different parts of the service. Prayer and reading of the Scriptures were conducted by the able and esteemed pastor of the Reformed Church, Rev. Mr. Hibbsman. Then came the welcome address of Dixon Geiser a boy of ten summers, in which he saluted the audience in the name of the school and then gave a touching account of the birth of our Saviour, reminding us of his sweetness and innocence as a babe, also of the song of the angels, the joy of the shepherds and homage of the wise men of the East.

Then we were most charmingly entertained by a few songs from the Infant School. Never before did the words of the holy Saviour appear so true and sublime to us as now: "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings God has perfected praise." The teachers whoever they be, of this department deserve much praise and gratitude for their patience and skill in teaching all these "little ones" how to worship God so acceptably and well.

J. Marbourg Keedy now recited H. Kirk White's hymn, the "Star of Bethlehem" in a natural and pleasing manner, so also the Teacher's diadem by Victor Good. Luther Weagley next in an original speech gave a detailed account of the origin and work of the S. School enterprise. He told me something I did not know and perhaps some of your readers also are ignorant of it that John Oberlin a Lutheran pastor among the hills of northern France first conceived the idea of the S. School and put his holy idea into practice. So Robert Raikes does not deserve the honor of beginning this blessed work for Christ no more than Amerigo Vesputci the discovery of America.—Let there be honor to whom honor is due.

Joseph Sleasman now recited Pope's description of the Messiah, certainly one of the grandest pieces of poetry in English literature. Mr. S. proved his speaking abilities to the delight of all present and no doubt the thought came into many minds, send him to college he will make a preacher.

And now came the best "wine of the feast." Mr. Will. Birkle with ten young men of fine address formed a semi-circle and recited from memory many passages of Scripture teaching Christ in his personages. They held in their hands different objects in nature as a stone, a root, a vine, to which Christ is represented and laid them upon a table in the order recited when the "Chieftain" standing with his tall manly form, and long flowing beard declared in deep full voice, "Christ is first, last, the beginning and the ending, Christ is everything, Christ is all in all." The impression was profound. The large audience was moved and thrilled. It was something new, and striking and original. May Christ be all to us and to everybody.

Secret music, discoursed by the choir and school under the instruction of Joseph Kurtz, Esq., interspersed these pleasing exercises, so that the worship was most entertaining and profitable, as well as surely acceptable to Him who delights in the pure praise of men.

After some pertinent remarks by the able and popular pastor, that we should learn lessons of humility, joy and charity from the Advent of Christ into our fallen world, and also a few words from the superintendent, the Christmas trees were stripped of their candies and fruits and given to the children, as tokens of friendship and regard. After this account, I need hardly say I came away deeply affected and delighted. My heart was reached. My soul was touched. So too the children seemed charmed and happy.—God bless them. If I live to see another Christmas and there is another service in the Lutheran church you will find me there.

DILIGENCE.

THE COST OF OUR RECENT WAR.—Mr. David A. Wells has furnished the Cobden Club of England with an essay upon the expenses, income and Taxes of the United States. We copy the following statement of the cost of the rebellion:

The whole cost of the war to the Northern and Southern States from 1861 to 1866 is estimated as follows: Lives, 1,000,000; property, by destruction, waste, etc., $9,000,000,000. The gross expenditures of the United States from June '61 to July 1866, $5,792,257,000. Of this the actual war expenses were about $5,342,237,000.

The expenses of States, counties, cities and towns in the Northern States, not represented by funded debts, have been estimated at $500,000,000. The increase of State debts on the war account was $123,000,000. The increase of city, town and county debts is estimated at $200,000,000. Total war expenses of the loyal States and the National Government, $6,165,237,000.

The estimated direct expenditures of the Confederate States on account of the war were $2,000,000,000.

Aggregate estimated expenses of the war to the country, North and South, $8,165,237,000.

The total receipts from all sources during the second year of the war were less than $42,000,000. The expenditures were $60,000,000 per month—at the rate of $700,000,000 a year.

BURNED TO DEATH.—A child was burned so terribly, on the 15th inst. at what has been known as Frautz's Mill, about two miles west of Upton, that it died on the ensuing night. The child's clothing took fire while the mother was absent, and burned until entirely consumed. It was one of Mr. Hornbraker's children, who resides near the mill.

Since the above was put in type, we learn the following additional particulars from the GreenCastle Echo: "It appears that her mother had gone to the well, about 100 yards distant from the house, for a bucket of water, and while there she heard her child screaming and saw her running toward her (the mother) enveloped in flames. She immediately ran to the child's rescue and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but the child was mortally expectated. Dr. H. G. Chritzman was sent for, who does all in his power to relieve the child from its sufferings. It lingered but a few hours and died in great agony.—How the fire communicated to the child has not been ascertained.—Opinion.

A PRESENT.—Our esteemed friend, Mr. J. H. Forney, (of the firm of J. H. Forney & Co. Commission Merchants of Baltimore) has placed us under obligations to him for an acceptable Christmas present, a gallon of very fine oysters, put up in a neatly bound wooden vessel, barrel shape. Mr. F. with his brother Ellic, who is also at present a resident of Baltimore, spent Christmas with their friends in this place.

BIG HOGS.—One day last week Mr. Benj. E. Price of this place slaughtered a couple of fine hogs, fourteen months old, purchased of Mr. George Royer, when small. They cleaned 420 and 426 pounds. The weight of these, their age considered, is hard to excel.

POSTPONEMENT.—Through a misunderstanding the special business of interest to members of Waynesboro' Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 219, will be considered on Tuesday evening, January 5th.

JOHN B. RUSSELL, Sec'y.

Wm. Crawford Duffield, of Welsh Run, sold his farm last week, containing about 100 acres, to Mr. William A. Hays, for $74 per acre.

Gerritt Smith, the distinguished philanthropist died the residence of his niece in New York on Monday, aged 73 years.

A MAN IN RUINS.—One of the saddest spectacles in the world is a human being shattered and broken down by the use of ardent spirits. But the damage may be repaired, the ruin restored to perfect soundness, by a course of that most powerful of all invigorants, Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS. Beware of those "tonics" of which rum is an element. They aggravate disease and promote decay. dec31 4w

We still have a few more Wool Blankets to be sold at auction figures. It Price & Hoeflich.

LECTURE.—Rev. Dr. Guard, one of the greatest Orators of the age, has been engaged to deliver a lecture in the Methodist Church of Waynesboro', some evening in January next. Subject—"Mental activities of the age and the Bible."

This lecture has been pronounced by competent judges to be a wonderful production, and its delivery a grand display of the almost matchless powers of this great orator.

A diagram of the church can be seen and seats engaged, by calling on James P. Wolf, A. E. Waynant, or E. A. Herling.

Reserved seats 50 cents. Families taking more than three seats, 40 cents—unreserved seats 25 cents.

Persons wishing to secure reserved seats should engage early, as they are likely to be taken very rapidly.

As soon as the date of the lecture can be definitely fixed, it will be announced.
