

Run Murders.

For three days of the present week, we have had to record four foul murders, done under the influence of rum.

Is not this a frightful condition of things, and whatever the plea for individual liberty, the right of private judgment, &c., urged against the passage of the Maine law, can there be any longer a doubt that society would be the blessed gainer if the whole rum traffic, from beginning to end, were annihilated.

We have thought the evil might be mended if bad rum were put down; if low grog-shops were closed, but crime and murder issue from the most respectable place where the fire-flied is harbored.

When Mahomet pronounced a curse upon the drinker of wine, he showed the wisdom of a legislator who, backed by the sad experience of ages, set the actual against the theoretical, preferring insignificant sacrifices to overwhelming ruin.

The Journal states that letters have been obtained within a few days showing that he is the same person who figured last year at South Groton, Mass., under the name of James Cooper, or Cowper, where he married a Miss Fletcher; subsequently he created a sensation at Rookland Lake, Mass., and in January last came near securing the charge of the Clay street chapel at Richmond, Va.

And in this connection, a word about the practice of carrying concealed weapons.—The private individual armed, characterizes savagism—the practice is shameful to civilization. The possession of deadly weapons is provocative to bloodshed, especially when rum has taken the place of reason.

AN OMISSION.—The Herald copied last week from the Richmond Examiner a pretended exposure of the Know Nothing organization. It forgot, however, to mention that the Examiner had retracted, having been informed by gentlemen of the highest respectability to Richmond that the publication alluded to is a gross and wholesale misrepresentation.

In anti-masonic times, after the abduction of Morgan, the revelator, the dead body of a man was found in the river into which he was supposed to have been thrown. At first it was believed that this body was that of Morgan. The anti-masonic leaders took it in charge and made a great outcry over it. Finally they became convinced that it was not Morgan's body; but one of them, perceiving that the supposed discovery was profitable to their cause, said, "Hush! it is a good enough Morgan till after the election."

JOHN B. GOVERN.—The London Times thus compliments this notable and eloquent temperance lecturer, who has for some months past been lecturing in London.

He is the Paganini of orators. He plays only on one string, but one capable of infinite responses—the life of a drunkard! Oh, heavens and earth, oh, angels, men and devils, what a theme! running from the cherub infant, through wasted youth, blasted manhood, days of alternate revelry and cursing, a home of unrelieved misery, a death of shame and anguish!

ONE ONLY RE-NOMINATED.—Only one, —Smith Miller—of the whole Nebraska delegates in Congress from this State, has been nominated for re-election, and it took fifty-two trials to do that. We predict that he will find it even harder to be elected, than nominated.—Indiana Free Democrat.

Excitement at Denton, Md.

Another Wolf in Sheep's Clothing.—The quiet citizens of Denton, Caroline county, Md., have, within a few days, been in a state of no little excitement. It appears from the Denton Journal, that in March last, a young Englishman, 25 or 30 years of age, made his appearance there, and through letters of recommendation, purporting to be from Able Stevens, of New York, editor of the National Magazine, and from John Giles, Principal of Bergen Academy, N. J., he procured the situation of teacher in the male school in that village.

The gentleman who sold him the horse not having been paid, then pursued him and found him a mile from Denton with the horse, which he gave up, hitched in the woods. In a day or two he started for Baltimore and returned in about a week, but being threatened with lynch law by the citizens, he again left for this city.

The Journal states that letters have been obtained within a few days showing that he is the same person who figured last year at South Groton, Mass., under the name of James Cooper, or Cowper, where he married a Miss Fletcher; subsequently he created a sensation at Rookland Lake, Mass., and in January last came near securing the charge of the Clay street chapel at Richmond, Va.

The Old Line Platform. Chapman of the Chanticleer, thus gets off the Platform of Old Line Nebraska and Whiskey, Slavery Propagandist Democracy: The Platform of Pierce, Douglas & Co.—miscalled "Old Line Democracy."

1. Deny God. 2. Denounce the Clergy. 3. Pronounce the Declaration of Independence a "Self evident Lie."

4. Trample on compacts and treaties, to suit the Filibusters, even though they be older and as sacred as the Constitution itself, and though confirmed by it. 5. Squatter Sovereignty, which is the highest degree of freedom to make slaves both white and black; to practice polygamy and incest, and to commit any other crime not forbidden by the U. S. Constitution, and by the laws of Congress.

6. To extend our institutions by force everywhere, particularly the "domestic" ones, and to plunder without limit all who are thus benefited. 7. Demagoguism instead of Democracy, and Bribery instead of honest Diplomacy. 8. No toleration of the right of freedom of opinion, freedom of speech, and freedom of the press.

9. The excommunication and "crushing out" of all heretics to this creed. 10. The abrogation of all the "obsolete" ideas of State Rights, and the nationalization of Slavery under the name of National Democracy. 11. The power of the Senate to alter, amend and abolish this creed, at its sovereign will and pleasure.

12. Free Whiskey as an essential State "Institution."

13. A full treasury—profuse squandering of the public money—universal corruption, and ultimate despotism.

INADEQUATE RIGHTS OF AMERICANS. The following are not enumerated in the Declaration of Independence: To know any trade or business without apprenticeship or experience; To marry without regard to fortune, state of health, position or opinion of parents or friends; To have wife and children dependent on the contingencies of business, and in case of sudden death, leave them wholly unprotected for;

To put off upon hiring strangers the literary, moral and religious education of children; To teach children no good trade, hoping they will have, when grown up, wit enough to live on the industry of other people; To enjoy the general sympathy when made bankrupt by reckless speculations; To cheat the government, if possible; To hold office without being competent to discharge its duties; To build houses with nine and six inch walls and go to the funerals of tenants, firemen and others killed by their fall, weeping over the mysterious dispensations of Providence; To build up cities and towns without parks; public squares, broad streets, or ventilated blocks and call pestilence a visitation of God; To license rum-selling and deplore the increase of crime; To hold slaves and prate of freedom; To make Franklin Pierce Autocrat of Kansas and Nebraska and clamor about "popular sovereignty."—Phila. Register.

A Snake-Killing Cat.

The Warrentown, N. C. Flag says that a gentleman living at Elk Run, in the lower end of that country, has the good fortune to possess the most grimalkin yet known of the cat kind. Its body is of unusual length; its legs like those of a bench legged fice. The fur is of a reddish color, the whole beautified with black spots and streaks of different figures; they are long in the back and round on the belly and jaws. Black stripes run across the ears, which are very long and tipped at the ends with a blue tuft of hair. Its physiognomy is fierce, and its nature savage.

His master's house being infested with snakes, which had been bred in a neighboring stone fence, he took it into his head to eschew such game as rats and mice, and make war upon the snakes, all of which he soon destroyed. Having acquired a taste for this kind of sport, he extended the field of his operations, frequently making excursions more than a mile distant from the house, and returning each and every day with a snake ranging from two to seven feet in length. He has continued this practice for eight weeks. On one occasion he returned much fatigued, and perfectly wet and covered with saliva. It was supposed he had encountered one of those large but rare serpents known as the Gooat. This turned out to be true, for the day thereafter Mr. Harvey B. Ralls found the snake dead, and signs of a dreadful conflict on the sand. Most or nearly all the wounds had been inflicted on the back of the neck. The weight of the horrid serpent was fourteen pounds eleven ounces!

This class of serpents is a native of Eastern Virginia, with very large heads and great jaws—the mouth is armed with cutting crooked teeth, among which are two longer than the rest, placed in the forepart of the upper jaw. All around the mouth there is a broad scaly border, and the eyes so large that they give it a terrible aspect. The forehead is covered with large scales. Each side of the belly is marked with large spots of chestnut color, in the middle of which is a spot perfectly round, and like burnished gold. They have been known to swallow small pigs, muskrats, opossums, &c. They avoid the sight of man, and are consequently rarely seen.

The cat still continues his war upon the snakes. These facts may not gain credence at a distance, but they are so well known and attested, that no one in the neighborhood doubts them for a moment.

A TERRIFIC TORNADO.—Passed over the City of Louisville, Ky., at 12 o'clock on Sunday last. The third Presbyterian Church was blown down during service, causing the instant death of twenty of the congregation and severely injured ten or twenty others. About one hundred other buildings were unroofed and blown down. The total loss of property is estimated at $100,000. The same tornado passed over Jeffersonville, blowing down four houses.—N. Y. Tribune.

LADIES' INSTITUTE, OF THE PENN MEDICAL UNIVERSITY OF PHILADELPHIA.

THE FALL TERM of this new Medical School for Ladies, will commence on the first Monday in October, 1854, and continue four months. The System of Teaching here pursued, is entirely new, and is more comprehensive, thorough and practical than that of any other Medical School in the country. It is based, as far as possible, upon the positive Sciences, consequently, free of all sects and dogmas. The branches of study are divided according to their natural order of succession, and taught in four progressive sources in each year, thus enabling the students to pass successfully through all four courses within two years.

Ladies desiring a thoroughly scientific Medical Education, or any part particularly interesting them, will find it here, nowhere else to be found. For an announcement containing Terms, which will be made satisfactory to list of officers, Faculty and other particulars, please address JOS. S. LONGSHORE, M. D. DEAN; No. 160 Arch-st., or Box 1083, Philadelphia P. O. [aug 17.]

WELLBORO' ACADEMY. THE FALL TERM of this Institution will commence on the 4th day of September next, under the charge of Mr. NEWELL L. REYNOLDS, a graduate of Madison University. Mr. Reynolds has had charge of this Academy for one term, and has given this far, universal satisfaction.

The testimony received of his character and qualifications, from his experience in teaching, and from his great success here and elsewhere, we can cheerfully recommend the School to the patronage of the public.

In addition to the branches usually taught in such Institutions there will be a "Teachers' class," composed of those who intend to engage in the business of teaching, which will receive particular attention and instruction, both from the Principal and the County Superintendent of Common Schools.

Arrangements have likewise been made to procure suitable Chemical and Philosophical Instruments, such as are used in the higher order of Schools in the State of New York.

The Academy building is now undergoing a thorough repair and in such a manner as will best promote the comfort and health of the pupils. Boarding can be obtained in respectable private families at a price not exceeding $1.50 per week. The rates of tuition will be as follows: Primary Department, $1.50; Geography, Arithmetic & Eng. Grammar, $3.00; Higher English branches, $3.00; Algebra, Geometry & Surveying, $4.00; Languages, Drawing, Painting, &c., $5.00. Wellborough, Aug. 10, 1854.
