assembly as a mob, and declared that the tone of it was produced by the influence of the organ of the Whig and Free Soil parties of the State, the Chicago Tribune, to which the meeting responded by cheers for that paper. He at length put on his hat, faced the per. He at length put on his hai, lace the site ground about subset and mounted a tree, crowd, and tried to tire or bullying them into silence, but failing in this also, he finally re-linquished the effort, declaring, however, that the expected prize his eyes fell on-not a he would not give it up so-he would speak deer,-but a panther. Another and another again to the people, and they should hear appeared, until four gathered near the trunk him. He then left the stand, shaking bis fist at the audience. No personal violence erate aim at one of them, but the ball did not was offered. The Tribune says : - 1

"His Body Guard formed in close order, placed the Little Giant in their midst, (little) enough now,) and lighted by torch bearers, escorted him to his Hotel, the Tremont House. The crowd lined the sides of the streets through which the guard passed, and saluted them with heavy groans, and then followed them to the Hotel. Upon arriving there, "Lutle Dug" immediately disappeared, and the crowd, numbering even then some thousands, after amusing themselves with groans for Douglas, and cheers for the Tribune, ouietly dispersed. At the time we write, 2 o'clock, everything is perfectly quiet."

Judge'Pollock on the stump.

The first of the series of Pollock mass meetings, was held in the yard of the American Hotel at Pittsburg, on Tuesday evening, 5th, inst. The attendance was very large, the Journal says more than three times as great as any of the Whig meetings held in Putsburg, during the last Presidential campaign. General Wm. Larimer presided, and Iton. Cornelius Darragh introduced Judge Pollock to the metting. Judge P. declared himself uncompromisingly in favor of the sale of the State Works, at the earliest possible moment. He eulogized our common school system, and earnestly opposed any division of the school fund, by Protestants for Catholics.

l stand here, said Judge Pollock, as the advocate and defender of Civil and Religious Liberty, notwithstanding the vile slanders to inc contrary heaped upon me: but if my church or any other church chooses to enter the political arena and make itself a political The church needs no aid from the State; it of all good citizens, it owes it to uself to keep usel: separate from all connection with religious propagandism judge Pullock then proceeded to dwell at questions arising out of it. He sketched the preventing the extension of Slavery by passsouth of 36° 30 min. in the annexation of altempted to be thrust down our throats upon but the principle of the Nebraska bill was a slavery as they pleased, it actually and realis prevents them from prohibiling or abolish. ing it. It was a simple scheme for the exten-, and as such it deserved all the condemnation that can be heaped upon it. Judge Pollock question, he concluded with an eloquent reference to the present commotions in Europe, downfall of oppression and tyranny there, and be followed legitimately here by the bestowment of liberty upon every human being existing within the bounds of our glorious LINGE

Panthers. THE following we have from an intelligent friend. Abraham Longnecker Esq., of Blacklick Township, a few evenings since, started to watch a deer lick. He reached the ground about sunset and mounted a tree, of the tree he had ascended. He took delibtake effect, and the savage animals commenced looking around, and, at length, discovered our adventurer, among the branches overhead. He loaded again and fired, only slightly ruffling the fur of one of them. In his trepidation the stopper of his powder flask was lost, and he had no further means of defending himself.

They than gathered around the tree and attempted its ascent. But the small size of the tree and the smoothness of the bark prevented this. I Indeed one of them had nearly reached him twice, but was repelled by an expedient that does credit to the sang froid of our hero.

At this time Mr. L. commenced yelling most lustily, and some neighbors attracted by his yells, with torch lights, sought the scene of his adventure. At the sight of the fire the ferocious animals vamosed, and the Squire was relieved from his perilous situa. tion.—Alleghanian.

Underground Railroad.

The facilities afforded by this mysterious conveyance seem to be every day increasing, and it is a matter that demands the calm consideration of every slaveholder in our community. That we have Abolition enemies among us tampering with slaves, not only affording them' means to escape, but personally superintending them in their efforts, is now no longer a matter of doubt. This system of negro stealing, once a matter of so much risk, is now boldly done in our midst, and slaves are taken away in broad daylight and shipped to their place of destination. Steamboats and railroads are ready to convey them, while there are those in this engine, down with it! (Immense applause.) city who, on an emergency, find the means of facilitating their egress by furnishing them depends upon the aid of a higher and Almigh. with carriages and horses. This wholesale to power; and while the State needs the aid plunder will prove destructive to slave property in St. Louis and the adjoining river counties, unless steps of the most extraordinary kind are taken to prevent it. We have reason to know that there is a regular agency much length upon the Nebroska bill and the established in this city, with two branches of the Underground Ruilroad. It is laid with course of the founders of the government in black rails, but its conductors are white men. In other words, ther are associations of neing the ordinance of 1787, the beneficent ef- groes in the city who are in correspondence tee's of which are incalculable. He deplored with Abolitionists, who furnish them moncy the departure from the policy of that ordi- and advice, and who are constantly running nance which commenced in the acquisition of off slaves. Chicago seems to be the central-Louisiana, in 1803 in the admission of M_{15} . ization of negro stealing from this commusouri as a Slave State, in recognizing Slavery, nity, and we have the numes of some of her citizens who are engaged in it. We have Texas, and in the villamous compromise of lately seen a letter from a negro woman who 1950. He drew a vivid picture of the evils ran away from Mr. Sappy, giving an account of Slavery, the existance of which he deplo. of her escape, whereabouts, (Chicago,) and red, and proceeded to consider the bearing of the manner in which it was done. She rethe Nebraska bill upon the extension of a fers in the letter to other-slaves in the city, system so vile and inhuman. That bill was calling them by name, whom she anticipates will shortly be on, according to agreement, the ridiculous plea of "popular sovereignty." and congratulates them upon their speedy He was the friend of " popular sovereignty," release. Before closing her missive to her sable friend, this fugitive pink, seems to be in very mockery. It set popular sovereignty at raptures at a contemplated walk she is going utter definnce, and instead of giving the peo. to have on the Lake shore, in the company ple the right to legislate upon the subject of some while ladies. The letter was obtained just in time to prevent one or two of the parties from escaping. One of them, an old negro man, had a horse and dray, and was sion of slavery undr a very flunsy guise; just ready to start for Chicago, when he was nubbed and locked up in jail. A few evenings since, by the same management, several charged upon this point at much length, and slaves belonging to Mr. Lewis, who resides entarged upon this point at much length, and atter a general survey of the whole slavery by the aid of some white rascals, had everything prepared to leave. A skiff was ready whice he trusted would eventuate in the to run them to Alton, with a white man to conduct them; but unfortunately an old negro woman, though tempted and almost promising to go, could not give up her home and her kind protectors, and told her mistress, Mr. Lewis being absent at the time, and the thing was frustrated .- St. Louis Repub. A Short Story of Life and Death. The St. Louis Anzeiger notices the death of a lady in that city, whose remains were placed in an old coffin made of rough boards, the penulentiary, at the age of ninteen years, and conveyed to the grave by the corporation "This coffin contained the corpse of a lady who once was sincerely adored by hundreds-who once was honored, extolled, envied in society-who could command riches, and who but a few years ago, before she trod the shores of this continent, could expect a happy and contented old age. This lady was Roso Neschemi, the daughter of an immensely wealthy Polish nobleman. In early youth she was taken to the Imperial Court of Austria, where, in her eighteenth year, she was married to a French nobleman, who was also very rich. Roso Neschemi lived many long and happy years, partly upon the possessions of her husband, parily traveling through Germany, Spain, Italy, and England, and gave birth to three sons, who received the best education, and upon whom the eyes of the parents rested with great pride. "But then the July revolution at Paris came; Roso's husband took a considenable and active part in it, and on the 28th he fell from the effect of three shots which he received. His name is still honored with a place on the column in the Place dela Bastille. "Her eldest son, who was at one time secretary to King Ferdinand, was assassinated in Spain. The second became a clergyman, and soon after died; and the third, coming to New Orleans when sixteen years of age, subsequently made money, and five years ago he persuaded his mother, then residing in Switzerland, to come to New Orleans also, which she did, bringing with her about $6,000 in money. Unfortunately the son became intemperate, spent nearly all her money, and a year ago, having murdered a Creole, he was compelled to fly to parts unknown, leaving his mother almost penniless in a strange city. She started on her return to Switzerland, but fell a victim to the destroyer at St Louis," . . .

The "Waterloo" in Vermont. We learn from Senator Foote, who has arrived here from Vermont, that the Anti-Nebraska victory in that State is without a parellel. The "sweep" is much cleaner than our telegranh dispatches had indicated. It is underslood that the Pierce and Douglas men have not carried a County or Senator in the State-not a member of Congress, nor a State officer. That Douglas's native county returns 28 Anti's to 2 Nebras. ka's-that out of 280 members elected, the Douglas men will not have 30.

A correspondent at Rutland sends us the following :

RUTLAND, Vt., Thursday, Sept. 7, 1854. Your telegraphic dispatch from Montpelier, in yesterday's paper, gives no more idea of the Vermont election than the present dry weather does of Noah's Flood. We have heard of but five Pierce men elected to the Legislature, out of one hundred. If that leaves a probable Anti-Nebraska majority, what would make it certain ? There will not be to exceed 25 Pierce men in the Assembly, and probably not one in the Senate. Meacham's majority in this .Congressional District, is anywhere from 3,500 to 5,000. The general result will, I think, show no better for Pierce than the result in 1840 did for Van Buren ; though the vote is not generally so full. Two Democrats only are elected from this county-last year eight; and it is just so, and more so, all over the State. Yours truly. G. E. M. -N. Y. Tribune.
