PARM & KITCHEN.

A SINGULAR DANGER TO CATTLE.

Our attention was yesterday called to one of the most remakable dangers attending the pasturage of cattle, in the western country especially, of which we have ever heard. The facts which we will state show the great necessity there is at all times for farmers and others to be most careful and prudent in providing clean pasturage for their animals, and for resorting to all precautions for detecting in and excluding from fodder and provender generally which is to be fed out to or come within the reach of stock, every possible foreign substance. The particular circumstance Esq., an entomologist of this city, of two large indigestible balls found in the stomach of deceased cows. The balls are specimens of thirteen such taken from the stomach of two different cows that died near Louisville, Ky .- four balls from one and nine from the other cow. The largest of those balls is althe mapped globe ordinarily used in the and the minister invited him in. schools, being about 18 to 20 inches in circumference and nine or ten diameter. The sertion, as he drew away from the table. smallest is more of an egg form, and is ameter, about four inches one way and three the other.

These balls appear to be entirely composed of hogs' bristles or hair, and were taken into the stomach with pasturage, from a grass lot where the bristles from hogs killed in a pork packing establisment were spread regularly for drying. It was not until after one of the cows had died from this cause that the circumstances of their swallowing the bristles was known or rather that the lodgment in the stomach and gradual accumulation of so indigestible a substance was dreamed of. The compact globular form/which the bristles assumed is attributed to the constantly revolving movement of the dow's food during the process of what is commonly called "chewing the cud." In the hog-packing regions of the West, or in the vicinity of curled hair manufactories, (where the hair of the hog, &c., is steamed and curled tightly into that form which fits it for cushions, and mattress,) it will be seen that there may always be danger to animals from this cause, unless it be duly provided against, which, it is presumed, our western friends and others will not be long neglectful of doing or reading this statement. The decease of other cows, from time to time was attributed to the same cause, after the discovery was made. - Baltimore Sun.

PERSONAL PROPERTY AND A TRANSPORT AND A TRANSP

The Americans are the greatest calors of imal food. The pork consumed in the United States is three times the quantity consumed by the same number in Burope, if states it is a second are to be believed. Animal food is generally set on the table three times a day in the Westers country. An Irishman writing home and extelling the luxuries of his condition in the New world, added by way of a clincher, that he commonly took meal twice a day, upon which his employer asked him why he did not state the whole truth. He replied, that If he had said three times, all his friends would have believed that he lied .-This was going a little too far for common credulity. But after all, the Americans are a spare, hungry looking people; not appearing, as if well nourished. The inhabitants of Northern Europe and Asia are physically and morally weak, the living mostly on fish and flesh. The Scotch and Irish who eat but little meat, are strong, capable of great labor and faigue, and more able-bodied men than the English, who are more addicted to animal food. The strongest men in the world, of whom we have any account, are the porters of Smyrna, who never taste flesh. The South-Sea Islanders who are very powerful men live upon a diet mostly of vegetables and fruit. It is said that the soldiers of Greece and Rome seldom tasted meat, though qualitied by physical courage and endurance for the con quest of the world. The suspicion is quite strong that Jonathan would gain flesh and improve his general appearance by the substitution of bread and vegetables for a part of his diet for animal food.

Noted FARMERS.—Adam was yet a far mer while yet in Paradise, and after his fall, was commanded to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. Job, the honest, upwright and patient, was a farmer, and his endurance has passed into a proverb. Socrates was a farmer, and yet wedded to his calling the glory of his immortal philosophy. St. Luke was a farmer, and divided with Prometheus the honor of subjecting the ox for the use of man. Cincinnatus was a farmer, and the noblest Roman of them all. Burns was a farmer, and the muse found him at the plow, and filled his soul with poetry. Washington was a farmer, and retired from the highest earthly station to enjoy the quiet of rural life, and prosented to the world a spectacle of human reatness. To these may be added a host of others who sought peace and repose in the cultivation of their mother earth; the enthusinstic Lafayette; the steadfast Pickering, the scholastic Jefferson, the fiery Randolph, all found an Eldorado of consolation from life's cares and troubles, in the green and verdant lawns that surrounded their homesteads.

Vows .- A country parson preaching from the text, " Vow and pay unto the Lord your vows," in course of his remarks proved pretto which we now refer, as proving this, was ty conclusively that after a person had made the exibition to us yesterday by John P. that he was a saddler. "And pray," said Orme, " why did he not

QUIZZING A QUIZZER.-A professiona gentleman of our acquaintance has hanging in his room a fine large colored engraving of the head of a quadruped, vulgarly known as a jackass. Not long since a friend of his dropped in, and stopping before the picture, gazed intently upon it for a few moments, and then sang out abruptly, and, as he im-ngined, very wittily-"Hallo, doctor, is that your portrait?" "Oh, no," replied the doctor coolly, "that s simply a looking glass," The anxious inquirer" suddenly discovered he had some business down the street, and departed.

CAMPHOR PRODUCING INSANITY .- The

Toronto Colonist savs: "We are informed that no less than eight persons have been admitted into the Lunatic Asylum in a state of insanity, occasioned by consuming quantities of camphor to prevent the cholera. Some of them carried it about in their pockets, and kept from time to time eating small quantites ef it. Others took it dissolved in brandy. In all cases where it was taken in any quantiaty it produced insanity. It is a fact well known; that a comparatively small quantity of camphor will set a dog mad,

"Don't lay in that posture, don'," said Mrs. Partington to her nephew, who was stretched on a sofa with his heels a foot or stretched on a sofa with his heels a foot or two higher than his head. "Don't lie so; raise yourself up and put this pillow under you. I knew a young man once who had a suggestion of the brain in consequence of laying so—his brains all ran down into his pared to manufacture on short notice,

AND ALL OTHER KINDED DISEASES. THIS Medicine has proved, and will prove an unconditional PAIN DESTROYER in all cases, whether Externation Internal. Hence it has received the appropriate name of "Death-fo-Pain." It has, by being kept on band by families who know its value, been the means of saving money, and of ten fife, by its timely use in sudden attacks, and in case of accidents. In all bruises and flesh wounds this Death-to-pann is the best embrocation that can case of accidents. In all ordises and test wounds this Death to pain is the best embrocation, that can be found. The soreness is immediately extracted swellings reduced—and profuse bleeding stopped.
A single dose will ease the most severe griping pains in the bowels, and a few applications will ease the in the bowels, and a few applications will ease the severest rheumatic and nervous pains. Dyspensia and its train of diseases is driven from its strong hold. "Fever and Ague," in the language of a western agent "can't stand before old Leddy and live." Indeed it is so with nearly every disease in the catalogue. A Mediciae for the Million! The remedy is composed of a large number of articles, all entirely vegetable, each a remedial agent in itself, yet so united as to form a most powerful combination, and to take away one of these agent would materially detract from its merits. STEARNS' Self-Setting Mill Dogs.

THE undersigned having purchased the right of using the above Mill Dogs in Tiega county, would announce to the public generally that he is ready to furnish them at short notice, to any part of the county, on the most reasonable terms, and warrant them to set correct from half an inch to two inches in thickness. They are the cheapest and the most durable Dog in use. They are very simple in construction, consequently very aesily kept in repair. They can be used for two saws in a gate just as well as for one.

Terms, $50,00 per sett for one saw, (the man owning the mill finding the headblocks, and boarding the men while putting them in) and $55.00 for two-

N. B .- All orders promptly attended to.

D. B. WILCOX. Wellsborough, Dec. 5, 1853.

I would say that we have used the above descri bed Mill Dogs for about four months, and out sawyers like them much and think them preferble to any they have used. S. E. ENSWORTH. I have a set of the above described Dogs in my mill, which I purchased after a years trial, and can recommend them to do their work well.
