

The glory of death like a path of the heroes... That leaps from the thunder-cloud strong...

The flame of a Man like the dew on the turf... Which a glance of the sun has consumed...

The strength of a Man like a feather sent out... To enter the storm-spirits' fold...

The hope of a Man like a light in the stars... As deep as the fathomless space...

THRILLING NARRATIVE. "NOT YET." A TALE FOUNDED ON FACTS.

"Not yet," was heard spoken in a loud, quick tone of voice, succeeded by the report of a pistol, emanating from the bottom of a dark, subterranean vault...

The ball had passed through his head. The man thought I, you have fallen a victim to disappointment, disappointed ambition, or biased hopes of earthly felicity...

THE AGITATOR

Devoted to the Extension of the Right of Freedom and the Spread of Democratic Principles

M. H. COBB, EDITOR. W. D. BAILEY, PUBLISHER.

VOL. I. WELLSBOROUGH, FIOGA COUNTY, PA. THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 23, 1857. NO. 10.

WELLSBOROUGH, FIOGA COUNTY, PA.

After the execution of the prisoner, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The whole crowd stood for several moments as if electrified, until that awful silence was disturbed by shrieks from the relations of both McCleod and Van Dyke...

The day filled with moments consequent to the prisoner's length arrival. The court yard was crowded with an excited audience. All eyes were on the alert to catch one glimpse of the prisoner as he entered the court house...

WELLSBOROUGH, FIOGA COUNTY, PA.

On the next morning the judge pronounced the sentence of death in conformity with the verdict of the jury. The solemn scene, far surpassed anything that had ever witnessed upon any former occasion.

The city has, I should guess, about 4,000 houses and perhaps five times as many inhabitants. The two main streets are parallel and run along the foot of the mountain. Narrower streets run from the wharves up the mountain, crossing both the principal streets...

WELLSBOROUGH, FIOGA COUNTY, PA.

The city has, I should guess, about 4,000 houses and perhaps five times as many inhabitants. The two main streets are parallel and run along the foot of the mountain.

The city has, I should guess, about 4,000 houses and perhaps five times as many inhabitants. The two main streets are parallel and run along the foot of the mountain.

WELLSBOROUGH, FIOGA COUNTY, PA.

The city has, I should guess, about 4,000 houses and perhaps five times as many inhabitants. The two main streets are parallel and run along the foot of the mountain.

The city has, I should guess, about 4,000 houses and perhaps five times as many inhabitants. The two main streets are parallel and run along the foot of the mountain.

indiscriminately against that miserable class of women whose private sorrows swell the deeper notes of human woe...

The Course of True Love never did Run Smooth. A bride party from Canada, consisting of the mother of the bride, her brother, and his wife...

Here was trouble enough for the first day after marriage. The old lady stormed and wept by turns, while the bride did nothing but sob out feminine imprecations on her cruel brother.

SINGULAR CAUSE OF DEATH.—The Deserter (Ark.) Citizen, of the 14th ult., says: "We have been shown an extract of a letter from a gentleman residing near Lawrenceville, Monroe county, in which he states that Aaron McMullin, aged some ten or twelve years, was killed by the bite of a rattlesnake under the following circumstances: It seems that the head of the snake had been severed from its body and laid on a log. The little fellow had forgotten the head was there, and laid his arm in its mouth, which was instantly closed on it, and was only disengaged by pulling it off with his other hand, tearing a vein and an artery of his arm. He died in 24 hours from the effects of the bite.

The Richmond Dispatch says that Mr. Elliott having made arrangements for a balloon ascension from that place was prevailed upon by a young man named Carrier to make a brief ascent held by cords. Carrier having got into the car, soon rose above the heads of the multitude, when, to the astonishment of every spectator, he cut the cords which held the balloon to the earth, and sailed off rapidly towards the sky.

The Green Mountaineers in Vermont, instead of paying twelve cents a pound for beef steaks, are luxuriating upon beef steaks of the best quality; which are had for the mere fun of going after them. Thereabouts bears are thicker than blackberries.

A White Man was punished with fifteen lashes in Norfolk, Va., the other day, for stealing a pig, one lash for every dollar. After the punishment was over, he thanked the sheriff and gave three triumphant crows, a la Shanghai.