Serve as paint at the NEW Your July 29. Only once in my life have I been drunk? It was a youthful inebriation, caused by par-taking too freely of cider made from apples with worms in it. At present I'am sober. Whether for the last four-and-twenty hours I have been so, is the point requiring biddidation. If during that period I have been intoxicated, then the time has arrived when any person who wishes to have a regular " drunk," need only to apply to the nearest hydrant .--Heretofore I have supposed water to be a beverage monocent and harmless; but nowwell, no matter-I will not anticipate. List. en while I relate a " plain, unvarnished tale,"

"I left my boarding house in company with a friend, intending to withest the Shakesperian revival at Burton's-the " Midsummer night's dream." Before leaving the hotel, at his auggestion, we partouk of a potable, known, I think, as punch-whiskey punch. I watched attentively the preparation of this agreeable beverage, and I am certain that there entered into its composition a certain amount of water-Croton water as I have every reason to believe; and I am also sure that in that tremendueus draught, I imbibed the first instalment of that villainous liquid which produced the diabolical state of facts I am about to describe; and also that the second and third of those ingenious inventions, (both of which we drank on the spot,) were as guilty, in this respect as their " illustrious | predecessor I" And I furthermore conscientiously state that my glass of brandy (one of the couple we ordered soon afterward,) and which, according to my invariable custom, should have been " straight," was also surreptitiously diluted with the same delectable fluid by the malicious bir-keeper, for I remember experiencing a slight confusion on going out, and mistaking a topsail schooner for the Broadway theatre.

We immediately entered another saloon to procure the wherewith to steady our nerves. when we partook of two good gin cocktails and a brandy smash individually and I state, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, that our principal ingredients in each of those compounds was water-Croton water-introduced therein by some evil-disposed person without my knowledge or cousent .--On leaving this saloon, I noticed that my friend, although a single man, had by some mysterious process of multiplication, become two. I kept fast hold of both, and after doubling with a great deal of difficulty, a great number and variety of corners, we reached Burton's. Tickets being mysteriouly procured, we entered, and eventually obtained seats. Finding after prolonged trial, that it was impractible to put my hat in my vest pocket, I placed it on the floor and put both feet in it. The theatre generally seemed to be mixed up. The parquette, gallery and dress circle were all one, and the stage was whirting ar-ture, the curtain went up, and I was en bed by the most unremitting attention to concentrate the actors sufficiently to understand the performance. And many things which in hitherto deemed dramatically incorrect, were the sufficient of the property of the sufficient of the performance. And many things which is hitherto deemed dramatically incorrect, were the sufficient of the property of the sufficient of the property of the sufficient of the performance of the property of the sufficient of the property of the proper hitherto deemed dramatically incorrect, were Vests, &c. ance in a fireman's red shirt and a three cornered, cocked hat. "Oberdon" was not so objectionable, (being a gentleman.) in a talma and placid pantaloons, though even he might have blacked his boots and omitted the spurs. And I fear I did not properly appreciate the rest of the faries, who had their heads decorated with sunflowers and their hands full of

At last the entertainment was concluded, and I remember consulting with my duplicated friends as to the feasibility of a return to Brooklyn, to our bourding house. On our journey thither we witnessed many strange things, about which I desire information .-In the first place, is it the custom, a general thing, for the City Hall and Barnum's Muse up and down Brondway in the middle of the that eventful evening, and I feel called upon to entre my solemn protest against these nicturnal architectural salatory exhibitions, as unworthy the dignity of the Empire City,-And I would with all humility suggest, that if the stony godders of justice, whose approprinte place is on the top of the City Hall, will desert her responsible post, she might choose a more becoming amusement than sitting cross-legged on the top of a Houston arreet stage, plavin with a jewsharp.

I am now convinced that Bowling green fountain is not permanently located on the top of Trinity Church cross; but that it was on that memorable night, my wonering eyes bore ample testimony. I am sufficiently acquainted with the City to know that Astor House should be found on the corner of Bir. clay street, but I am rendy to take my outh that on the particular occasion it plied as an opposition ferry boat between Whitehall street and Hamilton avenue. The last thing I distinctly recollect is trying to pay the fare for three on this novel craft, with a single piece of money, (which I now know to have been a Bungtown copper,) and demanding two and sixpence change, which I didn't ger,

In the morning, I found myself in bed with my overcoat on, and afterward discovered my boots under the pillow-my hat in the grate, with my pantaloons and hair brush in it-my watch in the water, jug, and my latch key in the bird cage. I presume I had tried to write a letter to some one with my

Now, if Croton water interferes with my ausceptable system in this unaccountable manner, what shall I drink? I would resort to milk, but I fear our city edition of the lacteal contains sufficient of the aqueous enemy to again upset my too delicate nerves, Tu you only can I come, and I exclaim like Consar, when he mowas afflicted with superfluity of water, " Help ma Cassius, or I sink," I sub. !

Testimony of the Profesor of Obstetrics in the Penn Medical College, Philadelphia—DR. HUN-TER'S MEDICAL MANUALLY.—The author of Cayenne Pepper, this work, unlike the indiority of those who adver-tise to core the diseases of which it trents is a gradnate of one of the best Colleges in the United States. It affords me pleasure the recommend him to the un-fortunate, or to the violin of mulpractice, as a sud-cessful and experienced practitioner, in whose itonor and integrity they may place the greatest confidence.

Jin. S., Longstor, M. D.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn University.

Philadelphia.—It gives the pleasure to add my testimony to the processional ability of the author of the Medical Manual. Numerous cases of Discase of the Carolita Organization of the medical control of the caroling of the second of the caroling of the caroling of the second of the caroling of the the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing; have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by selfahuse or excessive venery, I do not know his superior in the profession. I have been acquainted with the author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early inducretion, to redom mend him as one in whose professional skill and in tegrity they may safely confide themselves, ALPRED WOODWARD, M. D.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published on the classes of diseases of which it treats. Avoiding all technical turing, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hunds of his sons. The author has devoted muny years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of and with too little breath io puff and too little presumption to impose, he has affered to the world at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice.

"No teacher or parent should be knowlede impared in this valuable work. It would save years of pain and martification and sorrow to the youth unfer their charge."- Proples' Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, writing of Hunter's Medical Manual" snys-" Thousands ot suit those who may favor us with a call. affacace of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and posterity. The constitutions of thousands who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide spread source of human wretchedoess, would confer the greatest blessing next to the relig-ion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming gencration.
