ouri, becomes more and more transparently intamous as each new development of its details comen to view. We campile from varibeauties of squatter sovereignty, and of the soundness of the opinions of Mr. Everets. Senator Badger, and other distinguished persons, that Kansas had no chance of being a slave State. The testimony which these scenes bear to the character of that Northern treachery practiced by Pierce, Douglas. Toucey & Co. in the passage of the Nebrasks bill, is so conclusive and damning as to require no word of comment. We extract from The Henald of Freedom.

THE VOTING AT LAWRENCE.-In this District, where the late consus report indicates but 369 vaters; the election shows there were 1,039' voters polled, nearly three times. as great a number as legitimately belonged here; and yet a large number of our actual residents, and particularly those from a distance, did no exercise: their right to the elective franchise, as they found they could not do so without endangering their lives. The Free-State strength in this District is full five to one, and yet the Pro-Slavery licket has a imbjority of those than three to one.

Mr. Edwin Bond, who went to vote in the morning was fordibly ejected from the ground, and pursued by an angry crowd to the bank of the river with curses and threatnings of destruction, and compelled to jump down the declivity, when a revolver was discharged at him, and a ball narrowly escaped his head. He ran along the beach, and finally escaped unacathed.

VOTERS ARKED. - We repaired to the polls about 10 o'clock in the morning, but retired on the assurance of numerous friends that we were in great personal danger, thinking it best to defer our rights as an elector to a later period in the day, when it was hoped better order would prevail. At about 4 o'clock we again: a give the poller and discharged our duties as a freeman without mo-lestation. It was the first time we ever ap. paired st-the ballot-box with an instrument of defeases and we trust it will be the last time it will be deemed necessary to be guarded with a retinue of friends, each provided with bowie-knives and revolvers, besides hav-ing beveral of the latter instruments about our owa persoa seady for immediate use.

THE VORING AT TEOURSEL After H. Whe satisfactority ascertained that the number of persons imported into Lawrence, from Missouri, was greater, than the occasion demanded, a company of 200 was, detached, from the man body, and took up their line of march for Tocumseh, with the year of
