Republican State Convention.

We have received from Coudersport, Potter Co. the following letter, which will explain itself:

COUDERSTORT, Potter Co. Pa., July 5. Ep. GAZETTE:-Dear Sir: Hon. J. R. Giddings was with us yesterday and gave the bone and sinew of this County a glorious talk on the Present duties of freemen.

At the close of his thrilling address we adopted some appropriate resolutions, of which the following was one:

Resolved, In order to secure the union of Freemen in the Keystone State, we urge the calling of a Republican convention at Harrisburg to act in harmony with the Freemen of New England, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and other States, who have railied under the Republican banner and postponed all minor issues; for the purpose of taking a true position on this Great American Question; and in the spirit of their fathers to finish the work which the fathers have bequeathed themthat is to fight the battle of freedom to its glorious end.

I send you this resolution in advance of its publication, in the hope that you will second this call for a Republican State Convention, naming a time and calling on Press and People to respond. The fate of the next Presidential campaign may be depending on the Freemen of Pennsylvania, and it is high time they were doing something worthy of the cause and of themselves. If a State Convention is called, CHARLES SUMNER invited to attend, and an active correspondence carried on with men in our own State, we can have a convention that will send out such an influence as never went out from a meeting in Pennsylvania. What do you say?

Are you ready for this work? If so, send forth your appeal for a gathering of Freemen at the State Capital to take counsel together as to their duty in the present emergency.

We heartily approve of this movement and hope to see the proposed Convention held -We suggest, however, that Pittsburgh is much better point for the meeting than Harrisburg. It is about as accessible as the latter place, to all parts of the State, and much more accessible to the western counties. which will furnish the bulk of the movement, As to the time, we think Wednesday, the 29in of August would be the best time, and we have no doubt that then we can secure the attendance of Messrs. Sumner, Wade, Chase and other prominent men. What say our cotemporaries of the Rebublican press? -Pittsburgh Daily Gazette.

A Murderer at Large.

The following letter having been shown us for the information of the public, we withhold the writer's name sumply because we have no right to make it public without his consent, but will give it to any one who will call at our office. We hope our brethren of the press will make known the contents of this letter, so that the friends of Mr. Linton may learn his untimely end.

MILLERSBUG, June 6, 1855. To the P. M. at Bingham-Dear Sir:-A man came to this place from Pennsylvania some time ago, by the name of Benjamin Linton, and he took a job of work on the railroad near by. When he cleared his estimate, he drew $400, and that night he was shot, and the house burned with him in it. The murderer is not as yet caught; his name is Henry Rose. Some letters have come to my office for him, but I am not certain from what portion of your State. It would be right for his people to hear of it. Please, if convenient, have it published in some paper. If you want to write on the subject, direct your letter to Canal P. O., Warrick, Indiana.

Coudersport Journal,

Dreadful Accident. A cannon, which was used in celebrating at Canton, on the Fourth of July, being too heavily loaded, burst, scattering fragments in every direction, and wounding a man and boy, both of whom have since died. The man resided in Union township, Tioga county, and was named JONATHAN JACKSON. He is represented as having been an industrious and soher man, leaving a family. He was firing the cannon by means of a cigar, and was struck by a fragment in the side, causing his death after a few days of suffering. The boy, whose name we have not learned, was so badly injured that he survived but a few

The explosion shattered the cannon, which was a six-pounder, in pieces, and made a wreck of the carriage. Large fragments were thrown a considerable distance-one piece entering the side of a house, just over the head of some ladies, and demolishing partitions, &c This gun had been used in the western part of the county for many years, and the recklessness of those who loaded it so heavily, can only be accounted for by their ignorance of the risk they were incurring. Experiments in the Ordnance Department of the army have shown that a cannon will sustain but a certain number of discharges, after which it is liable to burst at every discharge. Scarcely:a Fourth of July passes, but severat such accidents occur, generally the result of culpable carelessness. - Bradford Rep.
