From the Chicago Tribune June 16. McCrea Justification For Shooting Clark. We publish to-day a letter from McCrea, now confined at Fort Leavenworth on a charge of murder in killing Malcolm Clark, a border ruffian who participated largely in the Kansas outrages. McCrea writes like a man of pluck. The letter is addressed to Mr. his father-in-law, and was not intended for publication:

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas Thursday, May 24, 1855.

letter of the 28th ult., the telegraph dispatch of the 7th inst., and the boxes we have heard are at the watchouse, for which we are very grateful to all parties donating.

Some eight days after date, your dispatch came to hand, but was not such as to cheer us much in our time of trouble. Poor Ewas least prepared for the sweeping request to leave her husband in trouble involving his life. She bears up well, hu; is in a very low state of health.

You have doubtless looked for all the particulars of the cause of my shooting Clark, which, without taking notice of a rumored affront to my wife while boarding at the house of said Clark when we first came to this country, I will give you in detail; and first, to what I suppose to be the real cause of his attack upon me. Clark was a Missourian bully, and one of those bandits who took our election last Spring by force of arms; and I put in the challenge to the only district in which the minions of slavery were defeated, and certificates of election given to Free-State men; and Phillips, who has since then attacked, kidnapped from his own house, taken into Missouri, one side of his head shaved, tarred and feathered, rode some 3 miles upon a rail, then sold at auction by a negro for two cents, although a lawyer and in every way a gentleman and man of wealth, beside being a man of family, only about eight months from Massachusetts; and that was not all that was intended for me and Phillips.

It was concerted to take both our lives, as I tearned, by having a position in a ball-room the night after the report of the Governor's desertion arrived, when Phillips entered with his wife. His presence turned the conversation from the Governor to him, and thus to mc. It was even then agreed that before the next election a row should be got up in some crowd where we were present to take our lives As soon as I could move with safety, I wen' to Mr. Phillips, informed him, and advised him to go armed; and, though no natural demonstration was given, I could from time to time see evidence of the plot not being abandoned; and it was this which made me take the outside of the crowd when Clark commenced to abuse me, as will appear below.

The meeting at which this affair took place was called under the influence of the Missourians, to extend the time given by mob law for non-residents (Missourians) for making a personal settlement upon their claims, which they in reality never intended to settle, but merely to speculate upon and keep from Free State men and persons from the North, all of whom are looked upon by those ruffians with hate. These meetings had commonly been largely represented by Missourians, but this time the actual squatters had a large major-11. Perceiving this, these Missouri ruffians determined to carry their point by storm,

He at last concluded. I was called for; but | knowing that a plot was laid for me, and that cause, which would be the signal for an attack upon me, I refused to go forward, and possess some qualities of a gentleman, by the tion a matter of no small difficulty. name of Easton. He made a speech, not so long, but otherwise much in keeping with his predecessor. He closed, and the crowd would take no denial, but pushed me forward.

As I went forward to the stand (a dry goods box, it being out of doors) I thought there was something wrong in those rowdies crowding to the inside of the circle and getling our party to the outside; but I went on slowly till near the box. Clark, otherwise called the Platte county bully, met me and said in a savage manner, "Go back; no G-d d-d Abolition son of "a b-h shall speak in this meeting." Knowing that the abuse was intended to provoke some remark from me, I went back without saying a word. I then thought that I could perceive that he had been pitted, and was disappointed. I moved to the extreme outside of the crowd, believing that I should not be molested till the business of the meeting was over, and then intending to get out of the way of trouble.

A vote was soon called and taken, which, by the voice, appeared to be against the Missourian interest, but was decided by the Chair ry on the Pennsylvania anti-railroad policy (a Missourian) for them. A division was then called from many voices; the division showed two to one for the squatters, but was still declared by the Chairman against the majority. travel a horseback ten or twenty days to I then, turning toward Mr. Eames, one of my reach Ohio, and then they learned something internal car, by the use of "medicated vapors," neighbors, to go off along with him, said in on the way; now the railroads carry them disgust, "What "a rascally fraud," which in as many hours, and set them down as being overheard by Clark, he exclaimed, "You are a G-d d-d lying son of a "b-h, and I'll kill you; stooping as if in the act of picking something up, which I could not then

I then told Mr. Eames not to get into any trouble, and I should try to do the same, and walked away from him and the crowd about thirty feet before Clark got through; then he set upon me at a full speed, backed by four others, with pistols and bowie-knives, and before I could get out of his way he gave me a glancing blow with a piece of a two-by-four scantling, which I managed to dodge; but by the time I got started to get away, he gave me a glance blow which cut my head and Misourian was nearly in a line with him behind, and trying to fire at me.

I instantly fired at Clark, striking him about the middle of the body. The man with the pistol turned to run, but learning by the shouts of Clark, who dropped his stick, "Kill him, Gad dan him! kill him! I'm shot through and through!" he turned, fired at me, his ball passing under my right arm, and Charles Ratteray, bookseller, Dubuque, Iowa, another shot was fired, giving me a slight wound. The immediate flight of the first who fired at me, and the great distance of the second prevented the necessity of my firing another shot before my friends rallied DEAR FATHER: We have received your around me, and they, being as well armed as my assailants, prevented any further assault upon me. A warrant was got out by Mr. Eames, my best friend, and I was brought out here rather for security than confinement, I have been waiting till after the election, which took place in the rejected districts the day before yesterday.

No trick has been left untried; even two Missouri lawyers volunteered to serve me, in order to encompass my life and assassinate me. I have been told that my wife was sick and dying, with an offer of a writ of habeas corpus (a forged one) to get me out. A messenger waited upon her (my wife;) whom I had seen an hour before, to inform her that I had directed her to sell her furniture, go to lows, and not to trouble herself by trying to see me, as no one was or would be admitted except this favored Messenger; but, she having been admitted at all times except the first, detected the villain, and informed him of the fact, with a request for his absence.

There are some twenty-five or thirty persons who can testify to the facts which I have started as to the nature of my defense.

I shall apply for an examination soon, so as to be ladmitted to bail, that I may go to work, as I dare not practice my profession at present. Clark like many others of these border ruffians, had no friends except such as feared or wished to make a tool of him.-He has been the terror of this Territory ever since I came into it. I am yours, &c. C. McCREA.

Utah-Polygamy-What are we to do with either.

The growing evil that is apparent in the vast emigration now tending towards the great Valley of the Salt Lake, renders it still more necessary that the citizens of the Union should look to what may be the probable consequences. This has only to continue for a years more, and with her sufficient quantum of inhabitants, Utah will be knocking at the door for admission into the confederacy. Of course, if Utah is taken, it must be with her common usages and customs,-with all her sins and imprefections on her head.

Prominent among these is the sin of Pollygamy. It is a crime not only preached but practiced by the holiest of their leaders, and the defence of it is urged with the greatest zeal, and under pretence of sanctity of the highest order. Is the United States, by the admission of Utah when the demand, shall be made-as it most undoubtedly will beready to legalize and sanction it as one of the priveleges of this otherwise favored land? Will the most liberal construction that can be placed upon the constitutional guarrantee of religious liberty, be so extended as to take in the adoption of this foul sin? We are willing, for our part that every man shall worship after his own fashion, and live after his own fashion, so long as he shall not intrude A John Wilson was called to the chair, upon the rights of the whole. When we reflect on this matter we are sometimes astonished that, in the midst of the great reforms of the day, this evil is allowed to go unwhipped of justice. We have monster movements laboring for the banishmeat of intemperance from the land; societies for the promotion of religious inquiry; associations for the abolishment of negro slavery, as being a disgrace to our country; but their voice is hushed when this worst of slavery is referred to.

We presume it will not be met in its full importance, until it shall be reached in the halls of Congress; but we think it will be well for the public to give it a passing thought, and be ready when the time shall come, to render a decided expression of opinion concerning it .- Cincinnati Times.

FASHIONABLE society generally has but two faults: first, in being hollow-headed; and secondly hollow-hearted.

MARRIED.

On Wednesday, 18th inst., by Rev. William Bowers, Mr. JOSEPH MOUNT, of Philadelphia, and Miss ELIZABETH H., daughter of the late Maj. Thomas Kerr, of Lewistown, Mifflin co., Pa.

The parties will please accept a ship load of good wishes for their future peace, health, happiness and prosperity. From certain indications we had suspected that our old friend and valued correspondent "Joz." was about to capitulate-yield himself "rescue or no rescue," to some "fair ladye." Well, we are not disposed to blame him; for if the lady is all that our friend has painted her, (and she must be,) fractured my collar-bone, blinding me for the moment. I then seized my revolver, and as soon as I could recover my balance, turned. Clark raised his stick a third time and was about to deal me another blow, while another tends of the control of t about to deal me another blow, while another tend and bless you. ED.]

attesting the high estimation in which it is held as a re-liable popular Medical BOOK FOR EVERY FEMALE the author having devoted his exclusive attention to the treatment of complaints peculiar to females, in respect to which he is yearly consulted by thousands both in person and by letter.

Here every woman can discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, causes of, and the proper remedies for, her complaints. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice of the utmost importance to her future health, in respect to which her sensitiveness forbids consulting a medical gentleman, will find such instruction and advice, and also explain many symptoms which otherwise would occasion anxiety or alarm as all the peculiarities incident to her situation are described.

How many are suffering from obstructions or irregularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine the health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and for which their delicacy forbids seeking medical advice. Many suffering from prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb), or from fluor albus (weakness, debility, &c.) Many are in constant agony for many months preceding confinement. Many have difficult if not dangerous deliveries, and slow and uncertain recoveries. Some whose lives are hazarded during such time, will each find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration and relief. It is of course impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married or those contemplating marriage. Reader, are you a husband or a father? a wife or a mother? Have you the sincere welfare of those you love at heart? Prove your sincerity, and lose no time in learning what causes interfere with their health and hanniness not less than your own. It will avoid to you and yours, as it has to thousands, many a day of pain and anxiety, followed by sicepless nights, incapacitating the mind for its ordinary avocation, and exhausting those means for medical attendance, medicines and advertised nostrums which otherwise would provide for declining years, the infirmities of age and the proper education of your children
