

SELECT MISCELLANY.

The Little Candy-Girl. BY ANTOINETTE L. BROWN. "Do you sell these things, little girl?"

"The question was asked of a child who could not have seen more than seven years; yet she stood alone beside an apple and candy-stand on the corner of one of the worst streets in the city.

"You are a nice little merchant," I said; but she seemed not greatly to appreciate the compliment. Her face shrank away in the shadow.

"Sometimes it rains out here," she answered simply, shivering as she spoke. "Then you feel cold I suppose?"

There is a miserable old woman here in New York who lives by teaching cunning duplicity to little girls like this, and thrives wonderfully upon the profits of their thefts and beggary.

A quiet, nice-looking child is sent into the cars just before the train leaves the depot. She takes a seat by a lady, and acts prettily and pleasantly enough to gain confidence.

So these little girl-thieves are in our own stages, on our sidewalks, and everywhere among the people, with their light fingers ready to beg or "borrow," as the case demands.

On the opposite corner of the street an apple woman, crouching upon the pavement, waiting for customers, greeted me with a smile as I passed.

At any rate it was a pleasant fancy, and quite as likely to be true as anything else.

Not only now, when the sun shines cheerily upon the Spring-buds, but weeks ago, when the wind bit angrily, like the serpent, and the lingering cold, as if determined upon being omnipresent and insatiate, stung every wayfarer like a spiteful adder.

culine and angelic, and actualized here on earth and the stone pavements of dirty streets, as our most prosperous and patronized "out-of-doors" merchants.

Our poor little candy-girl—if her future is hung darkly with shadows—will the world most pity or blame?

"Tom, stand out of the way of that gentleman."

"Samba, is this the right road to Bladensburg?" "Yes, massa, but turn your lubby feet 't'other way or you'll neber get there."

"MAN KNOW THYSELF"

An Invaluable Book for 25 cents.—"Every Family should have a Copy." 100,000 COPIES SOLD IN LESS THAN A YEAR.

DR. HUNTER'S Medical Manual, and Hand Book for the Afflicted.—Containing an outline of the origin, progress, treatment and cure of every form of disease contracted by promiscuous sexual intercourse, by self-abuse or by sexual excess, with advice for their prevention, written in a familiar style, avoiding all medical technicalities and everything that would offend the ear of decency; with an outline of complaints incident to females, from the result of twenty years' successful practice, exclusively devoted to the cure of diseases of a delicate or private nature.

To which is added receipts for the cure of the above diseases, and a treatise on the causes, symptoms and cure of the FEVER and AGUE.

Testimony of the Professor of Obstetrics in the Penn Medical College, Philadelphia—"DR. HUNTER'S MEDICAL MANUAL."—The author of this work, unlike the majority of those who advertise to cure the diseases of which it treats is a graduate of one of the best Colleges in the United States it affords me pleasure to recommend him to the fortunate, or to the victim of malpractice, as a successful and experienced practitioner, whose honor and integrity they may place the greatest confidence in.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn University Philadelphia.—It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the author of the Medical Manual. Numerous cases of Diseases of the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health, in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by self-abuse or excessive venery, I do not know his superior in the profession. I have been acquainted with the author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion, to recommend him as one in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves.

This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published on the classes of diseases of which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no part, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and with too little breath to puff and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice.

No teacher or parent should be knowledgeable imparted in this valuable work. It would save years of pain and mortification and sorrow to the youth under their charge.—Peoples' Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, writing of "Hunter's Medical Manual" says—"Thousands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and posterity. The conditions of thousands who are raising families have been embefailed, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove his wide spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generation. Intemperance (or the use of intoxicating drinks) though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not a greater scourge to the human race. Accept my thanks on behalf of the afflicted, and believe me your co-worker in the good work you are so actively engaged in."

One copy (securely enveloped) will be forwarded, free of postage, to any part of the United States for 25 cents, or six copies for one dollar. Address, (post paid) COSDEN & CO., Publishers, or Box 196, Philadelphia.
