

State of New York.

A Great Convention of the friends of Temperance assembled at Reading on the 8th ult. The following excellent Resolutions and Resolutions were adopted with great unanimity. They are full of meaning, and we go in for them from No. 1 to 10 inclusive:

Whereas, The Legislature of this State, at its last session, did not deem it advisable to pass a law entirely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; but at the same time yielding to the voice of public sentiment, did pass "an act to restrain the sale of intoxicating liquors," which act prohibits all drinking houses, and prohibits the sale in less measure than a quart; and Whereas, This convention has been called to meet the emergency arising from the violent opposition of the liquor party to said act, and by the adoption of suitable measures to prevent its repeal by the next Legislature: Therefore,

Resolved, That while as advocates of Prohibition, we are as much as ever determined not to relax our efforts for the entire abolition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, we hail, with feelings of devout gratitude, the passage of the act to restrain the sale of intoxicating liquors, not only because we are convinced of the great benefits which must result from its enforcement, but because we see in its passage a pledge of our future and final triumph.

2. That the failure of the advocates of the License System to secure under the most favorable circumstances, the votes of a majority of the voters of the State in its favor, not only justified the Legislature in taking action upon this subject, but the result of the late popular vote imperiously demanded that some radical change should be made in that system at its late Session.

3. That those members of the Legislature who secured the passage of the late act not only deserve the thanks of the friends of Prohibition, but justice to them requires us to sustain their law until it can be tested by its results or repealed by the better one of entire Prohibition.

4. That both policy and principle combine to make it our duty to sustain this late act seeing that it is prohibitory in its character, inasmuch as it abolishes the sale of liquor by the small and prohibits the existence of all drinking houses.

5. That the title of "jug law" so contemptuously given to the late act by the advocates of the license system, because it prohibits the sale in less measure than a quart, applies with equal force to their own system, as the sale by the quart has always been one of its prominent features.

6. That the well known fact that there is less drinking in the country population than in that of towns and cities, proves conclusively that the evils of intemperance result principally from the sale of liquors in taverns and drinking houses, and as like causes produce like effects, it is equally conclusive proof of the advantages which must result when both classes of population are compelled either to drink at home or abandon the practice.

7. That the wisdom and propriety of this late act is seen in the fact that it prohibits drinking houses of all descriptions, thereby removing the greatest temptations to social drinking, which is the most prolific cause of the formation and cultivation of intemperate habits.

8. That as this late act confers on us the advantages of position, in that it gives us something to defend at the present and leaves us less to gain in the future, we will not only sustain this law, but under no circumstances will we vote for any man for the Legislature who is favorable to its repeal, except for the passage of one of entire Prohibition.

9. That should politicians fail to profit by the experience of the past, we renew our pledges to teach them in the future, that no party can escape defeat, which either abandon or oppose the principle of Prohibition.

10. That the beneficial tendencies of the Prohibitory laws adopted by thirteen States of this Union, are seen in the significant fact that the more reputable class of liquor sellers are withdrawing from the business, leaving the same mostly in the hands of the law and profligate, of which, in this State, nearly three-fourths are persons of foreign birth.

REMARKABLE OCCURRENCE.—A circumstance of a somewhat extraordinary character occurred a short time since in one of our flourishing towns of the middle counties. A clergyman died, and his wife and daughters, on the third day after his decease, recollecting that no likeness remained, it was agreed ere the grave closed o'er him, that the body should be embowered a portrait taken. A young lady of some professional celebrity, was engaged for the task. She with the assistance of the attendant, took off the shroud and placed the body in the requisite posture; but other duties requiring the artist's attention, the sketch was deferred till noon. About 12 o'clock, at the foot of the bed, the lady commenced an "went thro' and hour's work on the image of death. At this stage of the proceedings, by some unaccountable motion, the head of the death-like figure fell on the side. Nothing daunted, the artist carefully took the head to replace it when, lo! the eyes opened, and staring her full in the face, the dead inquired, "who are you?" The young professional, without trepidation, took the bandage from the head and rubbed his neck. He immediately saw the shroud and laughed immoderately. The artist quietly called the family; their joy may be imagined, but cannot be described. The artist quietly called the family; their joy may be imagined, but cannot be described. The artist quietly called the family; their joy may be imagined, but cannot be described.

"Well, Mrs. Moody how are you this evening?" "Oh, Mrs. H., I am very unwell, I am quite out of spirits." "Bless you, ma'am, don't take on so; there's three bottles left yet." "Go down stairs directly, Biddy." "An old bachelor—The man who carries pins in his coat collar."
