For the farmer.

CHEMICAL UNIONS.

Every farmer should knew enough of chemistry, to tell the combinations that forms the different vegetable creations. Every plant and vegetable is formed of the same substant ces, only united in different proportions All too, are formed of only fifteen elements. The names of these elements we have often given ; but as a valued subscriber has asked us, "What is the best way for a furmer of limited means, to acquire a knowledge of Agricultural Chemistry ?" we will repeat what we have often said, by recurring to the first principles of Chemistry ; and if our "subscriber," of Sullivan, will learn this lesson fully, he will be prepared to be his own teacher afterwards, by experimental training.

The fifteen simple elements are oxygen hydrogen, nitrogen, chlořine, carbon, potash, soda, lime, alumnia, magnesia, iron, manganese, silex, sulphur, and phosphorus.

Some of these names may be better understood by calling them differently. Thus to call chlorine, muriatic acid ; carbon, coal' or the part of a thing that will burn ; alumnia, clay, and silex, sand-they will perhaps, be better understood. The other substances are probably understood by their chemical nanies.

Now, by different combinations of these substances, are all other substances formed Thus oxygen and nitrogen from the air we breathe; unrogen and hydrogen combined form ammonia, or hartshorn; chlorine and ammonia combined from sal ammoniac; oxycen and sulphur from sulphuric acid; sulphuric acid and soda from glauber salts; sulphuric acid and magnesia combined from epsom salts; sulphuric acid and alumnia, or clay, form alum; sulphuric acid and iron combined from green vitriol; sulphuric acid and zine combined for white vitrol : sulphuric acid and time combined form "Plaster of Paris;" oxygen and phosphorus combined form phosphoric acid and lime combined form bones, or phosphate of line; oxygen and carbon combined form carbonic acid, (so fatal in rooms where burning coals are kept :) carbonic acid and lime united form chalk, and limestone, called carbonate of lime, potash and aquafortis combined form salipetre; soda and chlorine com! incd form common salt. Potash, soda, and ammonia are called alkines as they possess a sharp, bitter, burning taste. Potash is derived from the ashes of land vegetables; soda from sea plants, and ammonia from animal substan ces.

Now, by these changes and combinations, all plants and vegetables, as well as animals, are formed Thus, a stick of green wood is formed by the combination of oxygen and hydrogen; the sap, or water, carbon or coals; and the ashes, or earthly matter, are drawn from the earth. By burning it, the water is changed back into the two gasses, and thrown off into the atmosphere. You have coal, or carbon lef. This, though apparently dry, still contains water in the shape of oxygen and hydrogen usualled, and in a solid, dry form. Burn the carbon or coal, and the batance of the oxyge and hydrogen is driven off, and the remains are earth. Analyse these ashes, and we shall find all of the fifteen elements, except the gases, which have escaped at the atmosphere. To ascertain the amount of gas in a stick of wood, weigh the stick, then char it in a pit, and weigh again; then reduce it to ashes, and weight them. In the first operation, you get the weight of the gases united into sap, which Hydropathy, its Philosophy and Practice; to Phys. are thrown off; in the second, the weight of are thrown off; in the second, the weight of pology and Anatomy, and those bare which govern the gases uncombined, existing in a solid Lie and Health. her mother.; If she is ill natured; and snap-pish to her mother, so she will be to you, depend on it. But if you find her up and dressed neatly in the morning with the same countenance, the same nearly combed hair, the same ready and pleasant answers to her mother, which characterized her appearance and deportment in the evening, and particularly if she is lending a hand to get the breaklast ready in good season, she is a prize, John, and the sooner you secure her to yourself the better.

JUDICIAL DISCRIMINATION .- Sume of the modern Judges must discriminate affer the manner of the Dutch Justice, before whom three inebriates were brought up.

"What did you get drunk on? said he ddressing the sorriest specimen of the three. "Blackstrap,"

"You be one big rascal to trink such, poor stuff, I fines you five dollars."

Rum was the next fellows weakness, and he was fined two dollars, rum being a more respectable tipple in the estimation of the Justico.

"And what makes you trunk my friend?" said he to the third culprit.

"Punch."

"Go long mile you, I fines you just noth-ing at all. Why I gits drunk mit punch mineself sometimes."

S. LONGBHORE, M. D.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn University Philadelphia.--It gives me pleasure to add my testi mony to the professional ability of the author of th Medical Manual. Numerous cases of Disease to the Ganital Organs, some of them of long standing have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weak. ness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by self abuse or excessive venery, I do not know his uperior in the profession. I have been acquainted with the author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate, victim of early indiscretion, to recom mend him as one in whose professional skill and in legrity they may safely confide themselves,

ALFRED WOODWARD, M. D.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work published on the classes of discases of which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no par-ent, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons. The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints ited of, and with too little breath io puff and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice. -Ilerald.

"No teacher or parent should be knowlede impar ted in this valuable work. It would save years o pain and mortification and sorrow to the youth un der their charge."-Pcoples' Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, writing o "Hunter's Medical Manual" says—"Thouşands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and posterity The constitutions of thousands who are raising fau-ilies have been enfechled, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten und influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide spread source of human wretchedeess would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, ou the present and coming going cration. Intemperance (or the use of intoxiculing drinks) though it has slain thousands upon thou-sands, is not a greater scourge to the human race. Accept my thanks on behalf of the afflicted, and be-

In analyzing the ashes of wood, we find what earth is used in forming the plant or tree. The apple tree shows a large proportion of alkali and lime; the peach, iron; potatoes, potash; wheat phosphute of lime; clover, lime; and the cranberry, of potash.

When the farmer has got thus far, perfectly, he knows what composes his crops, and that his apple trees need ashes; the peach, iron scales; potatoes, leached ashes; hone meal; and clover, lime. When he has munpletely learned this lesson, we will, perhaps give him another, - Ohio Farmer.

Black or green tea, steeped in boiling milk and sweetened with loaf sugar, is excellent for the dysentery.

A good quantity of old cheese is the best thing to eat when distressed by eating too much fruit, or oppressed with any kind of food. Physicians have given it in cases of extreme danger.

Blackberries are extremely useful, in cases of dysentery; to eat the berries is very healthy; ten made of the roots and leaves is very beneficial, and a syrup made of the berries is still better.

Whortleberries, commonly called huckleberries, dried are a useful medecine for children. Made into tea and sweetened, they are very beneficial when the system is in a restricted state, and the digestive powers out of order .--- Ohio Farmer.
