5. . 1,

A VERY COLD WINTER Skottes some odd sing the subject a few days since in an ordination, when one remarked that the present severe season swited him exactly, for it would silence all old fogies. "We shall hear no more," quuth he, "of the eternal talk about old habitened winders and the awful cold and very deep spows in the days when grandad was a boy. This beats any that ever was known." Who shall say that here are not many who do not mind suffering a little more than ussal with cold, if only to put an end to the comparisons with sold fashioned things, which are of course, to the superannuated, entirely better, worse, harder, softer larger, smaller, etc., than any known in these degenerate days? Folks do not like to have their wonders out-wondered so constantly by the fabulous recollections of the oldest inhabitants." If the themometer gets down to ten degrees below zero, some one is sure to retollect a day half a century back, when it was much lower, and if the mercury were to freeze into a solid lump, it would probably be paralleled by some antiquated grumbler. So this winter, after all, may not "silence the old fogies." As to the reality, our own recollection does not go back to any which could compare with it. When we read, as we do at this moment, in a Texas paper, of the Brazos river being frozen over so hard that wagons and horses are driven across, it on the ice, we must give a flat contradiction to reminiscences.- This heats any thing ever known, or at least recorded, in that quarter .-Phil. North American.

The last Montrose Democrat contains two things which should be taken in connexion, to thoroughly understand either, viz: The mail route advertisement, and an attack upon Hon. G. A. GROW. The latter is made with many hypocritical professions of friendship, under pretence of duty, both of which those who know Chase best, know he is totally destitute of. The Democrat is at last given up, without reserve, to the slavery-propagandists, and CHASE is now engaged in " eating his owr words." His attack upon Mr. GROW will only increase the confidence of that gentleman's constituency in his integrity and devotion to the cause. It muy become their duty, as it will certainly be their pleasure, to testify once more their appreciation of his zeal and efficiency, and their determina-tion to shield him from the assault of the hirelings and tools of the Slave Power.

We think that the small pittance CHASE will receive for advertising the Mail Letting, a poor recompense for the inconsistency of pro-slavery cause in Susquehanna. Mr. Grow has a host of friends, who will hardly care to see him assailed for such mercenary

A Compromise. - The London Times, alluding to the Central American Question, savs .- "Let us frankly give up our questionable right to the Musquiro protectorate and the Island of Ruatan, and, by way of delivering ourselves of the whole embarrasment at once and forever, throw the worthless settlement of Beirze into the bargain. In return, let us call upon the American government not only to observe its portion of the treaty, in respect of which we have hitherto had nothing to complain, but also to root out the gang of pirates and murderers who have taken possession of the State of Nicaragua, and carry out the intention of the treaty than any amount of protection to drunken savages or occupation of worthless islands'" - - - -

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE. Mysterious Disappearance.—A Printer by the name of THOMAS AMCOATS, who has been employed in the Journal office for a few days past, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat or Wednesday night last. He had been laboring under an aberration of mind for many days and was heard to say on Wednesday that the spirits were waiting for give no a call.

EVER CHANGING-ALWAYS NEW? LARGE ARRIVAL

FALL AND WINTER GOODS, AT THE EMPIRE STORE

THE SUBSCRIBER takes the carliest opportunity of informing the citizens of Tioga county, and the "rest of mankind," that he is now receiving his second stock of Goods for the Fall and Winter trade; and he deems it unnecessary and entirely out of order to go into an enumeration of the thousend and one articles, that he in common with other merchailt's keep and are so

Extremely anxious to dispose of. But there is one thing that he wishes distinctly understood, and that is, he does not buy goods to lay upon his shelves and counters and accumulate the dust of centuries, walting for that good time, when people are so green, or (what is worse) hard up, as to be willing to accept the "Old Familiar faces" of these "Shop-keepers," at the "tariff" first imposed. (No insinuations?)

His motto is "small profits, speedy sales, and quick returns." Thinking that by adopting and lining up to the motto, he shall merit and receive a continuance of the patronage heretofore awarded him, he would say to all—call and see the New Goods.
