[Feb 21, 3m. entire surface of the body and limbs. While the far remains soft the flea becomes entangled in its tenscion folds, and is rendered perfectly harmless; but it will soon form a hard, smooth chating, entirely impervious to his bite. Should the coaling crack, at the knee or clow joints, it is merely necessary to re-tough itralightly at those places. The whole coat should be renewed every three or four weeks. This remedy is sure, and having the advantage of simplicity and economy, should be generally known.

" A still simpler methor of preventing the attacks of these little pets, is On feeling the bite of a flea, thrust the part bitten immediately into boiling water. The heat of the water destroys the insect and instablly removes the pain of the bite."

A Wonbenrul Minnon. Among the curiosities exhibited in the Paris Exposition, was a huge concave mirror, the instrument of a startling species of optical magic. On standing close to it, it presents nothing but a magnificently monstrous dissection of your physiognomy. On retiring a couple of feet, it gives your own face and figure in true proportion but reversed, the head downwards. But refire still further, standing at the distance of five or six feet from the mirror, and behold, you see yourself not a reflection-it does not strike you as a reflection-but your veritable self, standing in the middle part between you and the mirror. The effect is almost appalling, from the idea that it suggests of something supernatural; so startling, in fact, that men of the strongest nerves will shrink involuntarils at the first view.

ELEPHANTINE HISTORY .- The church of Rome commemorates the Danish bishop, Lambert, on the seventeenth. He was an ancestor of the celebrated Daniel Lambert. and partook in no small degree, of his descendant's preternatural pinguitude, inasmuch, that at his enthronization it-was found impossible for any number of priests to heave him into the Episcopal chair. A savage Danish chief proposed to quarter him, and so elevate him las a Bishop in partibus; but this proposal was overruled, and an elephant then exhibiting in Copenhagen, was employed to lift the bishop to his throne. The animal was of course, consecrated; and hence came the Danish order of the Elephant, the knights of which, it should be added, wear trunk hose.

FRENCH FLOATING BATTERIES. The new Prench floating batteries are built entirely of iron, and covered with a shell of the same metal, under which the chimney is lovered and concealed during action. Trials have been made against this shell wit sixty-fourpounders, but they produced only a slight dent, the projectiles themselves rehounding far away. When shut, the batteries look like a tortoise—broader in front than behind. The front battery is armed with thirty guns of the heaviest caliber. The port holes are in their turn closed by lids that open of themsolves at the moment the gun is fired, and then shut instabily. A small orifice in the lid enables the gunner to take aim.

The citizens of Portland, Me., were informed that the great iron steamship, constructing in England, would ply to Portland, if adequate wharf facilities were provided .-The municipal authorities of Portland, on learning this: fact, immediately appropriated . $60,000 to provide the required accomodation for the leviathan.
