THE TIOGA COUNDY AGITATOR.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT BY THE MAN THAY'S ABOUND.

 Read an interesting communication in another column, from the County Superintendant of Common Schools.

 The great flood which was to come upon us in accordance with the prophecy of Lorenzo Dow, failed to make its appearance at the appointed time. The snow is melting gradually and notwithstanding the rain which has fallen, promises no more than an average flood. Will some of our spiritual friends be kind enough to inquire at their next 'sitting' for the eccentric divine, and ascertain if there has not been a mistake as to the date.

 In another column will be found the new Liquor Bill, which we hope will be read by all. Judging from the noise and rowdyism we encountered while 'around town' on Monday afternoon, we concluded that some one had license. Such manifestations of "old times" are becoming rare, being chiefly confined to the 4th of July, on which occasion it has been the public duty of a number of citizens to become "inspired," We hope these exhibitions may become still more rare.

 We observe that a number of individuals, not having the fear of the law before their eyes, are unable to distinguish the difference between a shade tree and a hitching post. Many beautiful trees have been destroved in various parts of the village by the carelesness of persons hitching horses to them and allowing them to gnaw away the bark. There are a large number of trees unprotected by boxes, which by the exercise of a little care on the part of teamsters, and a little outlay by the owners, would soon become an ornament to the village.

 While around on Tuesday evening last we were delighted at hearing the sweet song of a pair of nightingales. Though sylvan in their habits, these birds sang as sweetly in a second story window as if in their native groves. After singing a short time, they were frightened by a company of rude young men with a guitar.

 Look out for spurious quarter engles, which have made their appearance in the cities. They are dated 1854, and in point of execuuon are calculated to deceive, though in color they are as light as brass, as well as deficient in weight. The various shades of color of the genuine coin will assist in the passing of the spurious, but when compared with the genuine the difference in weight is easily perceived. An examination and comparison will cost but little trouble, while it may prevent considerable tost

 The Western level is begining to manilest itself in this village as it usually does every spring. A number of young men design starting soon and a few have already gone We cannot comprehend the motive at 37 cents per week. that induces our young men as soon as they get started in business to pull up stakes and go west; that it is some great 'shakes' we all admit, but it offers no greater rewards for young men of industry and integrity than can be found at home. A large number ol our young men will be taken down the river when the flood comes, but we are pleased

 We were hugely startled by the sharp ²³³⁸ We were hugely startled by the sharp application of quite a 'lengthy SLAPP' in the Eagle of last week. We confess to being around upon the occasion of the fit, and to being remise in our duty, in not giving the affair in full. We humbly beg pardon of the Eagle's correspondent in not noticing his august presence, we presumed that the public were aware of the locality in which he loves to congregate, We also admire his wisdom to congregate. We also admire his wisdom in attributing it to "mental excitement," he is certainty a man of great attainments in pronouncing so speedily upon an effect resulting sonal experience. We have been furnished with the copy of the Agitator found in the dainsel's grasp, and find the matter to be perfectly clear, it was the number containing the reprint of the Eagle's celebrated somerset on fence to the other but missed a rail and ery as I am responsible to Beaver.  HIGHWAY ROBBERT .--- We have seen the man who stole saw logs by driving a wedge in the end and drawing them out, leaving the sentinel asleep on the bark; but for a cooler theft than this, Wellsboro' deserves the premium. On Monday last a warrant was obtained for a dealer in unclean spirits, and placed in the hands of a deputy to be served. The culprit having fled, the officer, (who is up to a thing or two,) pursued for taking and captured him a few miles out of town. A MBBBOESS While returning, he was noticed to become and is now ready to gratify those who wish a faith. Very weak'and hardly able to walk, which ful likeness of themselves by this beautiful process. led the officer in the kindness of his heart to descend and place the unfortunate individual in the saddle. After riding a short distance he miraculously recovered, and urging the horse to speed, bade the astonished official good-bye and was off. Great was the astonishment expressed as he passed through the village, which was not explained till the officer arrived, on foot and in great wrath. Procuring another horse he followed as far as the Stony Fork, where he had the satisfaction of finding his property quietly standing at the side of the road, but the offender, like his stock in trade was invisible. A large, reward way offered for his recapture.
