

Root Crops.

To secure, in the most economical and appropriate way, a regular supply of roots for a whole winter, several kinds should be raised. The common white turnip cannot be kept in good condition much beyond the end of December or beginning of January.

For the supply of roots for the remainder of the winter, ruta bagas alone will answer, or what would be better still, there may be ruta bagas, mangolds, carrots, parsnips, sugar beets, in almost any proportion. Any of these, if well stored, will keep in good condition as long as roots may be wanted.

And still further, as a recommendation of this crop, it may be raised in a sufficient quantity for the supply of stock on the majority of farms by sowing the seed, when the weather is showery or the soil is not suffering from drouth, between the rows of Indian corn.

CARROTS.—Carrots have of late attracted much attention in the agricultural papers, and many experienced writers and farmers have called the attention to the fact that they are more valuable from their nutritive qualities, than is generally supposed.

Every farmer should cultivate these valuable roots, they make excellent food for horses in winter, as the circus companies know, who pay high prices for carrots to keep their horses in good condition.

The North American, which, it has been supposed, would support Mr. Buchanan, is nominated, concludes an article on his nomination and his prospects, as follows:— "Whether Mr. Buchanan will be elected is a problem which at present it is not easy to solve. That he is a formidable candidate it would be folly to disguise; but at the same time he has difficulties to encounter, which will not easily be overcome.

FRUIT TREES.—Nearly all fruit trees are, on their trunks or among their branches, affected with moss, lice, and various kinds of insects. These can all be effectually cleared away by a wash of ley, made from potash or wood ashes, of a strength sufficient to bear up an egg.

There are a few men in this village, among them the pro-slavery candidate for Surveyor General, who deny that any wrong has been done by the Border Ruffians, or the fugus Legislature of Kansas. So there were men in every village in the days of the Revolution, who denied that Great Britain had done any thing wrong.

Why are not Douglas, Pierce, and Sham Democracy, willing to admit Kansas into the Union as a State at once? That would restore peace to the Nation. Simply because the Missouri Compromise was repealed for the purpose of enabling slavery to subdue Kansas, and the authors of that bill, will do nothing that does not tend to carry out that purpose.

During a great storm on the Pacific Ocean a vessel was once wrecked, and a Quaker, tossing to and fro on a plank, exclaimed, over the crest of a wave, to another who was drifting by on a barrel:—"Friend, dost thou call this Pacific?"

An Indian Burial.

On the 8th instant, says the Volcano (California) Ledger, an opportunity presenting itself within half a mile of our sanctum, we had the satisfaction of witnessing the solemnities of an Indian burial. The corpse, that of a female, rolled up in a blanket, was deposited on the ground near the place where it was to be consigned to its prison house. Here the ceremonies began. A number of squaws surrounded the body, and commenced the burial "cry"—an unearthly howl, yet it was indicative of great depth of feeling, and was designed, as we are informed, to propitiate the "Great Spirit" on behalf of the departed sister. Then commenced the work of digging the grave, a hole about three feet deep, which occupied some forty minutes of time. The body was bound with cords and placed in a sitting posture in the grave. As soon as the work of filling it up began, the wailing of the squaws was repeated. Their cries were heart-rending beyond conception. Some of the disconsolate creatures jumped into the grave and continued packing and stamping the earth about the corpse until it was filled. At this stage of the proceedings the "pale faces" present were requested by Indians to leave, which was of course complied with. We may not soon forget the scene, and regret that our pen is not adequate to a just description. The solemnities, rude and uncultivated it cannot be denied, were yet characterized by an earnestness, a sincerity, that we fear, seldom attends the Christian burial. The gorgeous pageantry, the pomp, circumstances and splendor with which the remains of Napoleon were received in France, did not exhibit a deeper feeling than was evinced by the wailings of these poor Indian women. To propitiate the Great Spirit, that the departed might forever exist in peace, appeared to be the burden of their song. Never were we more forcibly reminded of that Divinity pervades everything; that an idea of the Almighty is innate in the human mind; that His existence is impressed upon the understanding of even the poor savage, whose "life without light" has confined his spiritual intelligence within exceedingly contracted limits. Never were we more forcibly reminded of the lines:

"O! the poor Indian, whose untutored mind Sees God in clouds and hears Him in the wind." As we left the grave of the departed daughter of the forest, so impressive were the wild and untutored, yet solemnly interesting obsequies we had witnessed, feelings of regret crowded themselves upon us—regret that the poor Indian, than whom the "pale face" is only superior because of his superior education for generations past, should be regarded as a barbarian, and driven from the very face of the earth before the relentless march of the ax, the pick and the plowshare. For our part, when we shall hear of the death of an Indian, it will not be without a pang of sorrow that another of a naturally noble race has passed away—fallen, perhaps, in consequence of vices imparted to him by his civilized pursuers. One by one they go; soon all will depart for the hunting-grounds prepared for them (as they believe) by the Great Spirit. May they all be as sincerely mourned as was this squaw whose funeral obsequies we have given a faint idea to the reader. Requiescat in pace.

At the recent Kansas meeting in Syracuse, a letter was read from Gerrit Smith, proposing to raise $1,000,000 for the aid of the Free State cause, pledging himself to give $10,000.

"Ain't it wicked to rob a hep roost, Jim?" "That's a great moral question, Sam; we have no time to argue it,—hand down another pullet."

NEW GOODS. THE subscriber would respectfully inform his customers and friends that he still continues the mercantile business, at the old place, at the well known store of L. I. Nichols, where he will be happy to wait on those that will favor him with a call, and would invite the attention of the public generally to his large and commodious stock of DRY GOODS, Groceries, Ready-Made Clothing and Hardware, CROCKERY, WOODENWARE, STONE-WARE, BOOTS & SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, &c., &c., in fact everything else kept in a country store, articles too numerous to mention, and will sell cheaper than can be bought this side of New York city. All kinds of produce taken in exchange for goods at the highest market price. J. R. BOWEN. Wellborough, June 29, 1856.

THE SUBSCRIBER respectfully informs those who have unutilized acc'ts. with him, (pro or con) in Tioga Co. that their acc'ts. after this date are in the hands of H. W. Williams, attorney in Wellboro' for settlement. If attended to before the 1st day of May next, no cost will accrue thereon. April 10, 1856. M. S. BLACKWELL. He would also notify those persons in Delmar who gave their wool to A. L. Beaver, Manufacturer at Bowen's establishment, Knoxville, or to S. S. Blackwell, agent for said Beaver, who left their goods with me for delivery, that unless the receipts for the same not yet given up to me, are left with Mr. Williams, suits will be brought for their recovery, as I am responsible to Beaver. M. S. BLACKWELL, Agt.

Call and see. DAVID S. IRELAND. Covington, March 2, 1854. The subscriber is also Agent for the sale of Dr. D. Jaynes celebrated Family Medicines, also Scarpa's Oil for Deafness. D. S. I.

FANNING MILLS. ATTENTION, FARMERS! THE UNDERSIGNED respectfully inform the Farmers of Tioga County, that they are now Manufacturing FINCH'S IMPROVED PREMIUM FANNING MILLS, three miles south of Wellborough, on the Jersey Shore road, and feel warranted in saying that said Mill is the best ever introduced into Tioga County both as respects cleaning fast and well, and the saving of Grass Seed. Farmers are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere. All kinds of Produce taken in payment. Old Mills repaired on short notice. ANGUS GRIFFIN & SONS. Delmar, Oct. 12, 1854-ly.

Carriage & Wagon Manufacturing. HENRY PETRIE would announce to his friends and the public generally, that he is continuing the above business on Grafton street, immediately in the rear of J. R. Bowen's store, where he is prepared to manufacture on short notice. Carriages, Buggies, Sulkeys, Wagons, of any style or description to suit the purchaser and of the very best materials. All kinds of repairing done forthwith and on the most reasonable terms. PAINTING AND TRIMMING will be promptly executed in the best manner and most fashionable style. Wellboro', July 13, '55. HENRY PETRIE.

Dress Marks the Man, OWING to the great rise in paper, there is a great and increasing demand for rags of all kinds. Therefore every man who wishes to save the first cost on his old clothes should cast them, buttons and all into the rag-bag; not however until he calls at the PREMIUM CLOTHING STORE, AT TIOGA, and selects from the large and splendid assortment of Ready Made Clothing, here kept constantly on hand, a suit warranted to wear as long as any other, and made in the best and most substantial manner, and under his own supervision. The proprietor has a complete knowledge of the trade, and can sell the best quality of Ready Made Clothing considerably cheaper than any other establishment in the county. He keeps a variety of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, Drawers, Trimmings, Wrappers, Shirts, Collars, Cravats, &c. &c., which will be sold as reasonably as they can be purchased elsewhere. His stock of COATS & VESTS can't be beat this side of New York, either in price, style, or quality. Don't forget that this establishment took the first premium at the Fair of last October. Particular attention given to cutting and making garments to order. C. OSMUN. Tioga, April 5, 1855.

MONEY TO LET. R. S. BAILEY, HAVING just returned from New York with his full purchases, would invite the attention of buyers to his exhibition of GOODS & WARES, comparing qualities and prices with any establishment in Tioga county. Ditching the idea of a great deal of show and bombast in advertising I would simply say that the usual variety of useful articles in the line of DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, BOOTS & SHOES, CLOTHING, HATS, HARDWARE, CAPS, PAINTS, STONE-WARE, CROCKERY, WOODEN WARE, TIN WARE, &c., may be found at prices that cannot fail to please purchasers for Ready Pay. Should it so happen that an article called for is not on hand, customers are positively assured that it will in "next week!" In connection with the establishment may be found a good assortment of Box, Parlor, and Cook Stoves, of the heaviest castings and most approved patterns together with everything in the line of tinware, wholesale and retail, manufactured by and under the supervision of our fellow townsman, Mr. John B. Seifold, who is said to be the best tinner in the county. Those wishing work made from good stock, and a smooth job, will not fail to make their selections and leave their orders at Nov. 29, 1855. ROCK BAILEY'S. New Volumes—Subscribers may begin Nov.

Their Stoves took the premium on the Albany Stoves at the late Fair. That is a matter in our ear which we don't intend to have placed out soon. Of all the improved patterns that commend themselves to the farmer. Besides this, we intend to furnish better Ware, better articles and better work, at lower prices than any other establishment in Tioga county will be able to do. And the man who pays CASH, can get what he buys at reduced prices. This is the fair way of doing business, and the system upon which the Tioga Foundry and Machine Shop will be conducted hereafter. Don't wait for the wagon, but come on. TABOR, BALDWIN & CO. Tioga, Nov. 15, 1855.—ly. Old Iron and Copper, and all kinds of produce taken in exchange for work.

A NEW ERA IN SEN-PENCIL-LING.—E. W. BECKWITH, respectfully announces to the citizens of Wellboro' and vicinity, that he has perfected his arrangements for taking AMBROTYPE, and is now ready to gratify those who wish a faithful likeness of themselves by this beautiful process. The superiority of Ambrotypes over pictures on metallic plates, is obvious to the most careless observer. The harshness and metallic luster of the latter are entirely obviated, and instead, we have a clear, well-defined impression, exceeding in softness of light and shade the finest steel engraving, and as plainly to be seen in any light. Pictures of infants and children of every age taken with certainty and despatch. Persons wishing pictures will please call soon, as his stay in town will be necessarily short. Pictures taken in cloudy as well as in clear weather. Apr. 3, '56-ly.
