

Reproduction, the Primary Object in the Growth of Vegetation.

This is the season that nature begins to perfect and scatter abroad her seeds—the object she had in view in every development of the plant from the time of its germination.

Maturity of seed and reproduction is evidently the intention of Nature; but the Creator intended that this process in its various stages should sustain the animal world.

How much is annually lost to the consumer as well as to the cultivator by neglect or ignorance of this law; for when even a small portion of the fruit or product is ripe, the plant begins to die, and often the larger portion of the said product shrivels and never reaches any useful stage.

Persons who wish a good yield of cucumbers, peas, beans, etc., will do well to attend to this, and prevent the forward ones from going to seed.

I believe the same law prevails, and the same results follow in the case of cherries and other like fruits.

There is another branch of this subject that requires notice in this connection. The seeds not only of useful plants but of weeds are now ripening, and owing to the wet and very growing season, weeds are uncommonly vigorous and abundant, and if allowed to go to seed they will "curse the ground" for years to come.

Weeds are the common enemy of producer and consumer, and every one who lives by eating is interested in their extermination, as well as in the laws of vegetation.

There is in Germany a small green frog, termed the "leaf frog," which, when caught, is placed in a glass jar partly filled with water, and steps erected on which the little chap sits.

There is a Yankee down east who has invented a jack plane to do the shaving in a barber shop. He is a brother of the individual who uses a flat iron to smooth the ruffled temper of his wife.

"Sam, why don't you talk to your master and tell him to lay up measures in heaven?" "Why for? What de use of his laying up treasures dere, when he nebber see him again, eh?"

We have often listened with distrust to the dough faced cry of "Union for the sake of the Union!" It meant SLAVERY. Now the important crisis has arrived, SLAVERY or FREEDOM? It must and will be forever decided in a single campaign—at the election of 1856.

Let committees of the American and Republican parties meet and settle twenty-six Electors in common. Let the friends of Fillmore name a 27th, and the friends of Fremont do the same. Let each party print their tickets with the same names, except the 27th, which shall indicate the preference of each voter.

Let the enemies of Slavery; let the enemies of Popery, ponder well this proposition before they decline it. On those who reject it will be the blood of the murdered freemen of Kansas. On their heads will rest the life blood of freedom—of civil and religious liberty.—Lancaster Whig.

The Lancaster Examiner, hitherto a stout "silver grey" organ, has come out for Fremont. It says: "From what we already see of public opinion in this county, we feel justified in asserting that the Whig vote will be thrown almost solid for Fremont and Dayton, while the American vote will be cast in the same direction with equal unanimity."

The reputation of Lancaster county for giving large majorities will in no wise suffer in November next—and then, as heretofore, the Old Guard will lead the column for the Constitution, the Union, and Freedom."

Naomi, the daughter of Enoch, was five hundred and eighty years old when she was married—which historical fact ought to be encouraging to old maids.

It is Mr. MAN—Buchanan wears the Douglas brand. In a speech at New York, Stephen A. said:

"But, my friends, I find that these Black Republicans 'murderers and Black Republican newspapers have all begun to shed tears [laughter and cheers] over mine own humble fate, because they made a Douglas platform and put Buchanan on it. [Cheers.] I wish to call attention to a point for a moment, and that is whether it is not a Buchanan platform as well as Douglas. [Cheers.] They say it is a Douglas, because it endorses every position that I have taken, not only upon the slavery question, and Kansas and Nebraska, but the foreign policy. [Cheers.] That is true, and because it is true, I stand with heart and soul ready to devote all my energies to the success of the platform and the candidate. [Immense cheers. Three cheers for Douglas.] Now, my friends, if you will listen for an instant for a brief historical account, I will show you that Buchanan and myself have for several years 'back—ever since I came into public life—held the same position on the slavery question from beginning to end.' And yet Democrats who go for Buchanan, claim great credit because they could not relish Pierce or Douglas."

A New Recruiter for Fremont.—The Religious Press has always stood aloof from politics until now. But the Pulpit and the Press are uniting in the cause of Freedom and Fremont. The Independent of this week makes a formal announcement of its entering the campaign as follows:

"The Independent will enter the field side by side with all who desire to do battle for truth, justice and humanity. With all the power God may give it, it will urge the Christian public to do with their might what their hands find to do to save our beloved country from the death grasp of Slavery. It will advocate Freedom of Speech, Freedom of the Press, Free Soil, Free Men, and—Fremont for the next President. Those who think a religious paper should not thus freely join with the secular press in doing this extraordinary work, are informed that the matter has been calmly considered, the cost counted, and the conclusion deliberately and conscientiously arrived at, that duty to God and man precludes a moment's hesitation as to the course which ought to be taken by this paper."

NATURAL BAROMETER.—There is in Germany a small green frog, termed the "leaf frog," which, when caught, is placed in a glass jar partly filled with water, and steps erected on which the little chap sits.
