A Patriotic Appeal.

WE ask attention to the short but eloquent article which has been published by the Republican Committee. We invoke contradicsible person who will attempt to refute it.

Patriots and Fellow Citizens :- The world, just now, is stirred with great events in which you are called to act an important part. A few days since it was all at strife: Europe, Asia, Africa, for empire, we for personal liberty and free government. Ours is the higher, the holier warfare; it is a contest for great principles; it is for humanity, for social blessings, for civil freedom. The thunder of Eastern battle has ceased, but the American contest is preparing material, gathering strength, and converging forces for a mighty struggle. Its issue will shape our nation for coming ages. It will be the morning star of permanent freedom for the nation, for the world, or the setting sun of liberty for ages. It will inspire the hopes, or augment the despair, of oppressed humanity throughout the world.

The question at issue is this: Shall our nation continue to be a nation of freemen, or shall it become a nation of masters slaves. issuing in a despotic government and a downtrodden people?

This, patriots and freemen, is the pending issue which you are called upon to decide at the approaching Presidential election. To disbelieve it, or to make light of it, exhibits an infatuated thoughtlessness of the future.-To turn from it as unimportant will be suicidal to the liberties of your country.

No nation of men, taken as the whole body of the people, since the world began, ever oc-cupied a position so highly and fearfully responsible to liberty, to humanity, to the world, as that now held by the freemen of the United States. The victory or the defeat of liberty and humanity, the continuance or the overthrow of our free government, the upraising or the downcasting of coming ages, are absolutely and solemnly, fellow citizens, in your keeping. May the patriotism of Washington and Jefferson guide you! Let the same spirit burn in your hearts which fired the soul of Patrick Henry when he uttered the memorable words, "Give me liberty or give me death !"

Slavery is at war with the progress of knowl edge, with personal liberty, with domestic happiness, with free government, with nature and with God. Shall it have your sympathy. your aid, in the pending struggle ! It withholds common school education, the knowledge of human rights, of history and of science, from the three million and a half of its victims. It degrades the white non-slaveholding population in its midst, and keeps them in ignorance and poverty. Will you give it still larger territories, over which to spread its mental darkness, its personal degradations ? Blavery wages a war of extermination on domestic happiness. It does not permit the slave ", her or mother to be legally materied. to ow , themselves, each other, or their chiloren; to build their nest where they please, or

Deut fammericanif de Matfele tramples upon and crashes fut all ibe sacred, heaven appointed relations of legal husband and wife, legal father and mother and children. The slave holder curis the lip of score and says, who cares for all that? It is well known that he does not. But three millions and a half of bondmen and bordwomen do care for it. The free governments of Europe care for it. Humanity cares for it the world over. God and religion care for it. The liberty and joy and upward progress of this and coming ages care for it. Are all these nothing compared with the will and cupidity of the slave-holder 15. W why

Slavery is opposed to free government. A free government consists in the freedom of its subjects, not the freedom of its rulers.-The more tyrannical a government, is, the freer its rulers are. The Czar of Russia is freer than Queen. Victoria, but his subjects are less free. Slavery is now developing itself in Congress and in Kansas, in its true spirit toward free government, free speech, amidst the beauties of nature, the glory of sunny climes, and the riches of world. These, fellow citizens, are the momentous questions which will soon hang over the ballot box, for YOUR FINAL ADJUDICATION. Ob, that final adjudication, so full of mighty, far-reaching consequences to the nation, to the world! Heaven has entrusted it to your high keeping. The onward march, or the retreating steps of liberty and free government, the uplifting or the down-treading of coming ages, must await your awful bidding. May no party factions gather round that final adjudication! Let no political storms or divisions hang over it at the polls. Let it be like the sacred altars of a common faith, on which everything else hangs, and around which the hour of danger gathers the throbbing hearts and the defending arms of an entire nation.

Your posterity, fellow citizens! You are now compelled to act for them. Will you make them the free sons of noble sires who fought the battles of liberty for their country and conquered, or will you doom them to be the harassed, dragooned, imprisoned victims of slavery domination if they have the manliness to speak or act for freedom? You, you alone must decide. Great in your might, strong in your decision, inflexible in your love of liberty and free government, holding in your hands the destinies of a great nation, feel your dignity, your importance, as the ultimate law-making power of the land.

Be the heroes of LIBERTY, the strong defenders of FREE government—and the God of armies, of battles, and of nations before whom "JEFFERSON trembled, when he thought of American Slavery," will bless and prosper, and make your triumph the most glorious on the records of nations,

Governor, Wise appears to be preparing for emergencies. He has issued orders to the commanders of the Virginia Militia to organize their men and to report the number and condition of the public arms in their hands. As things are beginning to look rather squally in Pennsylvania, perhaps Governor Wise intends to march in, Border-Ruffian fashion, on election day, and in spite of the Pennsylvanians, choose s Legislature "sound on the goose," as the Missourians did in the case of Kansas. Or perhaps he intends to act as Lieutenant to Bully Brooks in this great enterprise, in case Fremont is elected, of marching to Washington and seizing the treasury and the archives. Unless, however, the Virginia Militia have improved in prompriode of movement and warlike character since the tion and our columns are open to any respon- last capture of Washington, we can't believe that the treasury or the archives are in any AN APPEAL TO THE FREEMEN OF THE REPUBLIC. | great danger .- N. "Jenkins asked me this morning to help him in getting up contributions for the widows of the United Grand Spasmodical Association," friend Binkles. "Did you give assent," asked Binkles, innocently. "Give a cent !" replied Spodelick, indignantly, sir, I gave twelve and a half of 'em.
