THE TIDGA COUNTY AGITATOR.

A gentlemm is not merely a person actleman is something much beyond all this; that which lies at the root of all his ease, and refinement and tact, and power of pleasing, is the same spirit, which dies at the root of every Christian virtue. It is the thoughtful desire of doing in every instance as he would that others should do unto him. He is constantly thinking, not indeed how he may give pleasure to others for the dere sense of pleasing but how he can show respect for others-how he may avoid hurting their forlings. When he is in society, he acrupulously ascertains the position and relation of every one with whom he is brought into contact, that he may give to each his due honor, his proper position. He studies how he may avoid touching in conversation upon any subject which may needlessly hurt their felings, how he may abstain from any allusion which may call up a disagreeable of offensive association. A gentleman never alludes'to, never even appears conscious of any personal defect, bodity deformity, inferiority of tylent, of tank, of reputation, in the persons in whose society he is placed. He never assumes any superiority for himself-he never ridicules, never sneers, never boasts, never makes a display of his own power, or rank, or advantages-such as is implied in ridicule, or sprcasm, or abuse-as he never indulges in habits or tricks, or inclinations, which may be offensive to others .- Life Illustrated.

SOURCE OF THE MISSISSIFI.-Lift a buckct of water from the Mississippi at New Crleans and ask yourself the question, "From whence it came" and the answer may be: From the snudy deserts of New Mexico, from the pine hills of Carolina, from the cotton fields of Georgia, from the British possesions north of 49th degree of north Latitude sepa rated by a thin ridge of ice-covered rocks from streams that flow into the Arctic Ocean, or from bowers of orange and magnolia that perfume the cane fields of Louisiana, from the frozen lakes that gem the bosom of Minnesota and Wisconsin, or from the sunnyfountrins that gush up from the flowery plains of Alabama and Tennessee, from the lakebound peninsula of Michigan, from the hill sides of waving grain in Pennsylvania and New York, from the tobacco fields of Virginia and Maryland.

It may be part of those mighty volumes hat soll their never tiring waves through Iowa and Missouei, through Illinois Indiana and Ohio, through Kentucky and Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas. It is a part of the ten thousand little rills that come hymning their way from that mountain range wherein arise the Columbia and Colorado of the West, or of those from whence the Delaware and Susquehanna hasten away to meet the rising son. In the spurs of the Allegheny it has saluted the springs of the Roanoke and the Saluda and far beyond the Black Hills it has locked arms with the mighty Saskashawn as he hurried on his cheerless journey to Hudson's Bas. The springs of the Connewango listen to the roor of Nisgara, and the fount ins ed." of the Platte overlook the craters of the exunct Volcanoes of Utah. It has fertilized a country greater than the empire of Alexander, and has carried a richer commerce than all the rivers tributary to imperial Rosts.

HA GRIVERE - HE BURGERE about town we give the story as we hear i -that a lew days since a colored gentleman guillined with certain forms and eliqueites of who had become pretty much of a nuisance, the, ensy and self-possessed in society, able was found dead-adamt. The ways of the to speak and act, and move in the world vicinity ordered the series to leave a coffin without new kwardness, and free from habits for a cholera subject and call in half an which are vulgar and in bad taste. A gen- hour, When the hearse arrived, the coffin tleman is something much beyond all this; was duly lifed to its place, and a small procession moved toward the receptacle of dead humanity. When they lifted the coffin from the hearse, the subject revived, and perceiving his oritical position; he burst the lid, and fanded at gae bound among the digurners a sober man. His first impalse and his threats were to flog the crowd but perceiping that would be undertaking a large contract, he compromised the matter for a bige home upour the hearse. As the cortege returned, all the women and gossips ran to the door to ascertain why the coffin was brought back. They were all duly essured that the victim had come to life, and he was pointed out sitting on his own coffin, whistling, "carry me back to Old Virginny." The best of the juke is, that the negro has given up drinking, and worked industriously eversince. Toledo

THE INVESTOR AND HIS FLY TRAPS-The following good story is told by the New Ilayen Register : " Bishop went down to New York with one of his, patent fly, trap machines which makes the fly catch himself with a revolving cylinder. A butcher wasvery desirous he should set it agoing in his shop, and in the course of half an hour something less than a peck of flies had been 'hived.' The butcher was pleased, but concluded, as his flies were 'all trapped,' he didn't want the machine.' "Very well," said Bishop, 'I'm a Yankee, and I won't take any advantage of you by carrying off your flies,' and drawing the slide, he liberated the whole swarm about the butcher's ears, and bent a retreat under cover of a little the loudest buzzing ever heard in that vicinity."

Santeuil, the French poet, used to tell the following story: I was one day sented in a confessional chair; a lady came and kneeled by me, and gave me the whole history of her life. Finding that I did not make any answer at the conclusion of her recital, she demanded absolution. "Do you take me for a priest, madum ?" said 1. "If you are not," replied the lady, "why did you listen to me?" I will go and inform against you to the prior." "And I, madam, will go and inform your husband,

THE BOILING SPRINGS OF UTAIL-IN Washotah Valley, Utah, there are ten boiling springs, which are great natural curiosities. They are situated on the banks of a stream and pour out their waters seething hot, with a great noise. CARD .- The subscriber, graleful for the liberal patronage heratofore granted him by the Louisville Journal.

I us story is familiar of the man who took passage in a flat boat from Pittsburg to New Orleans. He passed many dreary, listless town in his overalls, and was not known, nor days on his way down the Ohio and Missis. sippi, and he seemed to be desponding for want of excitement. Superficially, he was good natured and kindly disposed. In the course of time, the craft upon which he was a passenger put into Napoleon, in the State of Arkansas, for groceries. At the moment there was a general fight extending all along the front of the town, which at that time consisted of a single house.

The unhappy passenger, after figgeting about, and jerking his feet up and down, as if he were walking on hot bricks, turned to a used up spectator and observed :

"Stranger, is this a free fight ?"

The reply was prompt and to the point. "It ar, and if you wish to go in, don't stand on ceremony."

The wayfarer did go in, and in less time than we can relate the circumstances, he was literally chawed up. Groping his way down to the flat, his hair gone, his eyes closed, his lips swollen and his face generally mapped out, he sat himself down on a chicken coop. and silloquized thus :

"So this is Nn-po-le-on, is it ?--upon my word it's a fively place, and the only one at which I have had any fun since I let home."

GENEROUS, -- A writer in the Burlington Sentinel says that in one of the back towns of a neighboring State, where it is the custom for the district school teacher to " board round" the following incident occurred, and is vouched for by high authority :

A year or two ago, an allotment being made in the usual manner for the benefit of the school mistress, it happened that the proportion of one man was just two days and a half,

The teacher sat down to dinner on the third day and was beginning to eat, when the man of the house addressed her as follows :---

" Madam, I suppose your boarding time i out when you have eaten half a dinner, bui, as I do not want to appear mean, you may cat if you choose, about as much as usual.'

A man who cheats in short measure is a measure-less rogue.

If he gives short measure in wheat, then he is a rouue in grain.

If in whiskey, then he is a rogue in spirit. If he gives a bad title to land, then he is a rogue in deed.

And if he cheats whenever he can, he is indeed, in spirit, in grain, a measureless scoundrel.

THEY have a new way of hatching chickens in the west, by which a single maternal fowl is made to do the duty of a hundred. They fill a barrel with eggs and place a hen on the bung-hoy:

nut on a borrowed suit of broadcloth to accompany his family to the show, and was surprised to notice how affable his acquaintinces all were. The next day he entered could he obtain credit for a mackeral.

As Irish friend of ours, hearing of a gen; tleman having a stone coffin made for himself, exclaimed : " Be my sowl, an' that's a good idea! Shure, an' a stone coffin 'ud last a man his lifetime !"

An exchange says, that down in New Orleans it requires three persons to start a business firm; one to die with the yellow fever, one to get killed in a duel, and the third to wind up the business.

So you say your mother is very poor .---Beggar Boy : She is that ! She used to keep a neanut stand once, but she took a bad one dollar bill and failed.

The story of a man who had a 'nose so large that he couldn't blow it without gunpowder, is said to be a hoax.

A sick cohler must be regarded as being well when he begins to mend.
