Mr. Oscanvan a native of Turkey, who has been educated at the University of New York, has written a book on "The Sultan and his People," from which we make an extract giving the faith of the Mohammedan

They deny the doctrine of the Trinity, although they acknowledge the attributes of God, Omniscience and Incomprehensibility. Christ is acknowledged to have been a prophet greater than Moses, but inserior to Mohammed. He is styled the word of God, Kelam-Ullah, in their writings, supposed to have been miraculously conceived by the Virgin Mary; but not of divine origin. The crucifixion they regard as inconsistent with the justice of God; to yield up so mighty a prophet endowed with power to work miracles, and raise the dead, a victim to the unbelieving Jews, they deem incompatible with divine supremacy, and even say that when Christ 'was led out to die, he was, invisibly to his persecutors transported into heaven, Judas, the betrayer being substituted in his stead. No terrors of eternal punishment in a future state distract the unfaithful Moslems, all of whom will, in due time, expiate their offences and be admitted to happiness. Two angels are supposed to attend them through life and in death. One white, glorious and commiserate; the other black, severe and cruel.

There will also be a last judgment, when a tremendous trumpet will shake the earth to atoms. God will judge all men. Moses, Christ and Mohammed will appear at the head of their respective followers, as intercessors. And Cain will lead the immense multitude of the damned, who are doomed to suffer till their sins are expiated; while hell, the devil and his wicked angels will suddenly be annihilated.

A narrow bridge, fine as a hair, called Surat, lies over the region of the damned .-The righteous, upheld by their gnardian angels, pass over safely; while the guilty fall down into awful flames and tortures, doomed to quaff nothing but "boiling water until their bowels burst."

Paradise is above the seventh Heaven, near the throne of God. A vast and beautiful region, with palaces of gold and gardens of perpetual delight, in the midst of which is the tree of happiness, Tuba, whose roots are in the palace of the prophet, but whose branches. loaded with Juscious fruits and all kinds of meats prepared for food, silken robes and caparisoned steeds, will extend to the dwelling of every true believer. Softly murmuring fountains, cooling shades and grottoes, mountains of sparkling diamonds, and golden streets, will adorn the gardens of delight, while the ravishing houris of these enchanting regions will be blessed with perpetual youth and virginity.

The most insignificant of the faithful will have a retinue of 80,000 servants and seventy-two wives, of the sweetly oderiferous damsels, created of pure musk, in addition to the companions of his earthly sojourn. Delicious streams of wine, milk and honey will flow on perpetually; balmy zephyrs will pervade the atmosphere; the very physical excretions of the true believers will be but oderiferous

EVERY FARMER GROWING HIS OWN Sugar. - The very great demand made at the Patent Office, this year, for the Chinese Sugar Cane, indicates that the cultivation will be very extensive; the only difficulty in the way being the want of cheap and portable machinery for extracting the juice of the cane. This difficulty we see our own inventors are endeavoring to remove. A Mr. Ilodges of Cincinnati, has a machine on exhibition at Washington which is designed for a sugar-mill. It consists of three vertical cast iron rollers, supported between cast iron plates, resting on a triangular wood frame, about eight feet on its sides. Under each corner is a large truck wheel, so adjusted, when working, as to revolve in a circle, the shaft of one of the rollers occupying the centre of the frame, and clutched fast to a timber below, preventing its turning, while the other two, being geared into it at the top, are made to revolve around it as the whole frame is turned by the horse. On one corner is a feed table, from which a man feeds the cane, which having been acted upon by the two rollers, passes out upon a table on the other corner, which is removed as often as a sufficient quantity accumulates. The juice passes down through the bed-plate, and is received in a vessel made for that purpose .-Cheap and portable machinery is all that is wanted to test-the great experiment which is now being tried with the Chinese Sugar Cane. -Phila. Ledger.

CHINESE SUGAR CANE. - I received a package of seeds from the Patent Office, and planted in a warm soil in June. When I deemed the plant to be best filled with the saccharine fluid, I cut a few stalks, and tasted it by eating, -as I could thus compare it with the Southern cane, two varieties of which (the Robin and Green,) I have often caten at the South. My experiment, so far as one experiment can establish points, led me to the following conclusions:

1st. That the Chinese Sugar cane can be as easily raised in lat. 43 north as Indian corn.

2J. That it will mature most of the seed in favorable seasons.

3J. That it is as rich in saccharine matter as the sugar cane of Southern Georgia.

4th. Though the stalks are smaller, yet with closer planting as large a quantity of juice can be raised to the acte as the South-

While residing at the South, I often saw rude mills made of live oak logs, placed upright like the crushers in cider mills : although costing very little, they seemed to express the juice very well, yet not quite as perfectly as iron rollers driven by steam .-Country Gentleman.

A PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF THE DRED Scott Decision.—The Democratic canvassers in the town of Gloucester, R. I., struck the names of the colored voters in that town from the lists before the late election, alleging that they were justified in this action by the decision in the case of Dred Scott. The Providence Journal intimates that legal proceedings will be commenced against them.

SPUNK AND PERIL. There is a story, and which is a fact, of two boys going to a Jackdaw's nest from a hole under the helfry win. dow in the tower of all Saint's Church, Derby. As it was impossible to reach that height from without, they resolved to put a plank through the window, and while the heavier boy secured its balance by sitting on the end within, the lighter boy was to fix himself on the opposite end, and from that perilous situation to reach the object of desire. So far the scheme answered. The little fellow took the nest, and finding in it five fledged young birds, announced the news to his companion. "Live are they ?" replied he; "then I'll have three." "I'll have three myself," replied the other.

"You shall not," still maintained the boy inside. "Promise me three, or I'll drop you!" "Drop me if you please," replied the little hero, "but I'll promise you no more than two"-upon which his companion slipped off the plank.

Up tilted the end, and down went the boy, upwards of a hundred feet from the ground, The little fellow at the moment of his fall, was holding his prize by their legs-three in one hand and two in the other-and they finding themselves descending, fluttered out their pins instinctively. The boy, too, had on a carter's frock secured round the neck, which, filling with air from beneath, buoyed him up like a balloon; and he descended smoothly to the ground--when looking up, he exclaimed to his companion-

"Now, you shall have none!" and ran away sound in every limb, to the astonishment of the inhabitants, who, with inconceivable horror had witnessed his descent.

THE SOUL .- A good preacher, who was endeavoring to teach the children of a Sab-bath School that the soul would live after the body was dead, took his watch from his pocket, held it up a moment, and then said:

"James, what is this I hold in my hand?"

"A little clock," said another,

"Do you see it?"
"Yes, sir."

"How do you know it is a watch?" "Because we can see it, and hear it tick." "Very good."

He then took off the case, and held it in one hand, and the watch in the other,

"Now children, which is the watch? You see there are two which look like watches. Now I will lay the case down-put it there in my hat. Now let us see if we can hear the watch ticking."

"Yes, sir, we can hear it!" exclaimed several voices at once.

"Well, children, the watch can tick, go, and keep time, as you see, when the case is taken off and put in my hat, as well as be fore. So it is with you, children; your body is nothing but the case. The body may be taken off and put in the ground and the soul will live, just as well as this watch will go when the case is taken off."

"MR. Jones, don't you think marriage is a means of grace?" "Certailly; anything is a means of grace that leads us to repentance." Scene closes with a broom handle made of them, as rendering an undoubted security against the terrific element:

Prilladelimia, April 12, 1856.

Messrs Erans of Watson—Gents:—It affords us the highest satisfaction to state to yon, that owing to the very protective qualities of two of the Salamander Safes which we purchased of yon some few months since, we saved a large portion of our Jewelry, Books, Papers, &c., exposal to the calamitous fire in Ranstead Place, on the morning of the 11th inst.

When we reflect that these Safes were located in the fourth story of the building we occupied, and that they fell subsequently into a heap of burning ruins, where the vast concentration of heat caused the brass plates to melt, we cannot bur regard the preservation of the valuable contents as most our vincing proof of the great security afforded by your Safes. We shall take much pleasure in recommending them to men of business as a sure reliance against fire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12, 1856.

Messrs Evans & Walson—I have to offer you my testimony in favor of the great security afforded to my entire stock of jewelry, books, papers, &c., during the recent disastrous confagration in Ranstead place, from the fact that the same were contained in two of the Salamander Safes manufactured by you. Haying iallen for a the fifth story of the Artisan Building, where they were previously placed and exposed to a vast heat for a long time, the preservation of the valuable-deposits seemed to every one who witnessed the opening and interior examination, a matter of profound astonishment.

To all who may require a perfect protection from the range ges of fire, I shall not hesitate to recommend the use of your Safes, as I consider they have now undergone the most trying test.

PHILADELPHIA, April 14, 1856

PRILADELPHIA, April 14, 1856

Messrs Evans & Wolson—Gentlemen—No doubt you will be deeply gratified to learn the good condition in which I discovered my book, policy of insunance, certificates of stock, and other valuable documents, when on Friday last 1 opened the safe made by your firm.

With my knowledge of its great exposure, both to the intensity of the heat from so hot a fire as that which destroyed the Artisan Building, as also from the force of the fall froll its former elevated position in the third story, I could entertain but slender hopes prior to its interior inspection, that the contents which I once so highly prized would ever be of any service to me, but as these fears are now happily removed, I feel it only due to say to you, that I can henceforth recommend the use of your Safes to all who may wish to feel a confidence in the perfect security, which such means provides against so frightful'an element.

with those advertised as "warranted to stand 10 per can not only preserving their contents in excellent order, but being themselves in a condition to go through another order, while the boasted "Salamanders" of other makers were badby used up in every instance, and in some cases their entire contents completely destroyed.

Te, the public we would simply say, that, during the fourteen years the Herring's safe has been before them, more than two hundred have pussed through accidental fires without the occurrence of a single loss.

We would therefore, caution purchasers against the misrepresentation of integested parties. The Herring's Patent is the only Fire-proof Safe made in this city which is protect than double the amount of heat of any other safe now known.
