THE TIOGA COUNTY AGITATOR.

From the Boston Journal. Judge Taney's Negro Convert ... The Dred Scott Decision Applied.

Slamming the last door of the first car and opening that of the second, the second and conductor" of the New York train made his appearance with his bow and smile, and "tickets, gentlemen, if you please."

Seated in the front corner, surrounded by her personal conveniences, such as a carpet bag, umbrella, big bundle, little bundle, a few apples, and pieces of cake, was a colored lady, whose face-the hue of an inverted saucepan, contrasting with her snow white ivory and eye-balls, gave that pleasing African expression which is so often the type of humor and good nature.

"Ticket, ma'am," said our conductor. with a civility regardless of complexion. "I hasn't got any," she replied, "but I'se got money, any way;" and she began to fumble in her bag, then in the bundles, searching those articles through in vain.

"Come, hurry up," exclaimed her now im-patient friend, "I can't wait all day."

"Bress your soul, yer don't think I find everything in a minute, but I'se got money some whar-must be indis yeah cawpet bag,' and she felt in her pocket accordingly for the kev.

"Well, well, I'll pass through, and when I get back perhaps you will have it ready." "Yes, sartin," said Dinah; but as he passed along she reached out her umbrella, and giving him a poke upon the shoulder, asked, "what you gwoin to charge on freight ?"

"Freight ! what do yeu want to know that for ?"

"'Cause I does ! I'se civil, aint I?" "Well, five cents a foot ; there don't bother me any more, but find your money ;" and he went his way.

There seemed to be a peculiar drollery about the lady's eye and mouth, as the one rolled around in its black sea of flesh, and the other opened to give vent to an involuntary "yah! ha !" It was not long now before found her purse, and withdrew some coin, which she kept jingling in her hand, and she kept up her occasional cacchinations.

In due time the conductor returned for her money, and upan extending his itching palm, was somewhat astonished at receiving the precise sum of ten cents.

"What do you mean ?" he exclaimed. "The fare to New York is five dollars."

"Yas, yas, I knows dat, for white folksfolks what am folks---but I se nobody; I'se freight, I is. Yah, yah! poor rule as don't work bol ways; five cents a foot, heah they is !" said she, extending a pair of enormous ambulators for the inspection of the conductor and us all.

The nonplussed functionary stood undetermined for a moment among the shouts of passengers, until an idea of compromise occurred to him, as he exclaimed : "Well, if you are freight, take yourself off into the baggage car." But even there Dinah was too much for him, as she replied, "Jus you pick up your freight if you want to cair um off?"

This settled the point. The conductor vanished, and Dinah offered a pious ejaculation: "Lord bress dat ar'preme court, and gin 'e credit for five dollar bill, any way !"

Bathing.

Once a week is often enough for a decent white man to wash himself all over; and, whether in summer or winter, that ought to he done with soap, warm water, and a hog's hair brush, in a room showing at least seventy degrees Farenheit.

Buths should be taken early in the morning, for it is then that the system possesses the power of reaction in the highest degree .--Any kind of both is dangerous soon after a meal, or soon after fatiguing exercise. No person should take a bath at the close of the day, unless by the advice of a family physicion: Many a man in attempting to cheat his doctor out of a fee, has cheated himself out of his life; ay, it is done every day.

The best, safest, cheapest and most universally accessible mode of keeping the surface of the body clean, besides the once a week washing with the soap, warm water, and a brush, is as follows :

Soon as you get out of bed in the morning, wash your face, hands, neck and breast; then in the same basin of water, put your feet at once, for about a minute, rubbing them brisk. ly all the time; then with the towel which has been dampened by washing the face, feet, etc., wipe the whole body well, fast and hard, mouth shut, breast projecting. Let the whole be done within five minutes.

At night, when you go to bed, or when-ever you get out of bed during the night, or when you find yourself wakeful or restless, spend from two to five minutes in rubbing your whole body with your hands in every direction. This has a tendency to preserve that softness and mobility of skin which is essential to health, and which too frequent washing will destroy.

That precautions are necessary, in connection with the bath-room, is impressively signified in the death of an American lady of refinement and position, lately, after taking a bath soon after dinner; of Surgeon Hume, while alone, in a warm bath; and of an eminent New Yorker, under similar circumstances. all within a year .- Hall's Journal of Health.

'A blacksmith, who fancied himself sick, would often tease a neighboring physician to give him relief. The physician knew that he was perfectly well; but, unwilling to offend him, told him he should be careful of his diet, and not eat anything heavy or windy. The blacksmith went off satisfied ; but in revolving in his own mind what kind of food was heavy or windy, he returned to the doctor, who, having lost his temper with his patient, said, "Don't you know what things are heavy and windy ?" "No," said the black-smith. "Why, then, I'll tell you," said the doctor; "your anvil is heavy and your bellows are windy; don't eat either of these, and you will do well."

Must a man be mealy mouthed before he can make flowery speeches? And should a joke in a speech be accompanied by any action to make the jest sure of its effect, or should a piece of fun be jest enough of itself to move to laughter without jest-ticle-ation - on the part of the speaker ?
