

One of Tom Corwin's Tricks.

Corwin carried his love of fun into every department of life. In the private circle, where he knew every person, and where he unobscured himself fully, he was the most delightful and genial conversationalist I ever listened to. I do not know that he now, as age and infirmity are creeping on, indulges this proclivity to humor so much as he used to do. But some twenty years ago he used to tell, with great gusto, the following story: "In early life—so early that I cannot remember the removal—my father 'pulled up stakes,' and carrying with him the household goods, went from Bourbon county, Ky., where I was born, to Ohio. Notwithstanding a rough-struggle with the world, he had a 'hard time to get on, owing to a numerous and rapidly increasing family. Well, family matters had not much improved when I had reached my thirteenth year. At this time there lived in the neighborhood a young man by the name of Pickering. He had inherited a well stocked farm, was good looking and made a strong profession of religion. This latter qualification caused him to find particular favor in the eyes of my father, who always was blinded by professions of extra piety. This fellow had a strong 'banking' after one of my sisters who was a very pretty girl. To her he was peculiarly distasteful. She seemed always excessively annoyed at his presence. Yet he was ever at her side.—She dared not dismiss him entirely, for fear of the paternal anger. Things went on in this way for a year or two, and as I partook largely of my sister's hatred to him, I resolved to get rid of him in some way. I cast about for a plan for some time, but nothing occurred which gave me the slightest hope of being successful. At last, returning home one summer night from mill, I found the family at their nightly devotions. Passing by the windows of the room in which they were assembled, I saw that Pickering was there, and pretty soon I discovered that he was nodding, and finally his head dropped. Now was my opportunity. I stole slyly into the hall, and reaching the hall door, which was slightly ajar, and close by which Pickering was on his knees, I reached in and quickly pulling his chair from under him, he rolled heavily as a sound sleeper would upon the floor. The noise alarmed all. The old gentleman stopped in the midst of the almost interminable prayer, and saw the position of Pickering. All the family laughed outright. Even my mother smiled. Pickering endeavored to pick himself up as rapidly as possible, but he had touched the old man upon his tenderest point. It was evident, from his rubbing his eyes, that he had slept under the old gentleman's ministrations, and had not my father a reputation far and wide, for the fervency and strength of his ministrations, and was not Pickering his professing brother? It was too much! Slowly, yet most dignified, did the old man approach him. 'Begone, hypocrite!' he cried in thunder tones. 'Never enter my house again.' Pickering was thunderstruck. He felt that he could make no defence which would not add to the insult. He had no suspicion of the exterior force that had aided him in his fall. He at once found his hat, took up his line of march, and, completely crest fallen, passed me as I stood grinning in the shadow of the porch. 'At a suitable time I entered, got my supper, was told by a brother in hurried whispers what had happened, and then I stole off to bed, affecting ignorance and laughing most heartily as I enclosed myself in the sheets, at the complete success of my plan. Next day I cautiously imparted my secret to my interested sister. She was in her own room at the time, and she threw herself upon the bed and rolled in agonies and convulsions of laughter. She had been emancipated forever from the attentions of an obnoxious lover. The old gentleman did not hear the real state of the facts for full twenty years afterwards, but when he did he laughed heartily."

SOMETHING NEW

A NEW LAMP.—Ufford's Smoke consuming Lamp is an article well worthy the notice of every person who wishes to use Oil instead of Fluid. This lamp is highly recommended by men of sound judgment and of wide reputation, who are known throughout our country. But it is not necessary to take the recommendations of others; just call at Roy's Drug Store and you can see one of these lamps burning every evening. Call and examine it for yourselves.

BUCHU LEAVES are procured from the southern part of Africa. The Hottentots at the camp of Good Hope have long used this article as a remedy in a variety of diseases. From them the medicine was borrowed by the English and Dutch physicians residing there and by their recommendations it was soon employed in Europe. In process of time this medicine has come into general use, and is highly spoken of by the best medical writers. Physicians recommend it mostly for complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, a morbid irritation of the bladder and urethra, retention of urine, also incontinence of urine from want of tone in the urinary organs. It cools the unnatural heat and relieves pain; and in many cases of long standing it has been effectual when other valuable medicines had failed to produce an effect. The active principle of this medicine is a volatile oil which is mostly lost by the old process of boiling. Hence it requires great care and skillful management to prepare this medicine properly.

FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU is a strong or concentrated preparation prepared by the new process called "Displacement." By this the valuable properties of the Buchu are entirely preserved, and this form of the medicine is less liable to injury from age and more palatable. Useful equally in all the most of the almost interminable prayer, and saw the position of Pickering. All the family laughed outright. Even my mother smiled. Pickering endeavored to pick himself up as rapidly as possible, but he had touched the old man upon his tenderest point. It was evident, from his rubbing his eyes, that he had slept under the old gentleman's ministrations, and had not my father a reputation far and wide, for the fervency and strength of his ministrations, and was not Pickering his professing brother? It was too much! Slowly, yet most dignified, did the old man approach him. 'Begone, hypocrite!' he cried in thunder tones. 'Never enter my house again.' Pickering was thunderstruck. He felt that he could make no defence which would not add to the insult. He had no suspicion of the exterior force that had aided him in his fall. He at once found his hat, took up his line of march, and, completely crest fallen, passed me as I stood grinning in the shadow of the porch. 'At a suitable time I entered, got my supper, was told by a brother in hurried whispers what had happened, and then I stole off to bed, affecting ignorance and laughing most heartily as I enclosed myself in the sheets, at the complete success of my plan. HERRING'S SAFE. THE ACKNOWLEDGED CHAMPION.

THE RECENT TRIALS at Reading have endorsed the current opinion of public opinion, and confirmed the verdict of the jury in the case of the safe of Messrs Farrels & Herring, proving conclusively that "Herring's" is the ONLY SAFE that will not burn.

Extraordinary Report on the Trial of Iron Safes.

On the 26th of February all the members of the committee met to witness the safe and books and papers, (placed in them) and were perfectly satisfied that all was right. The day following, the burning took place, under the superintendence of the Committee. After a fair and impartial burning for five hours, the safe of Messrs Evans & Watson was first opened, the safe being on fire inside, and the contents partially consumed, while the contents in the safe of Messrs Farrels & Herring were in good condition, and so fire inside." Reading, March 2, 1857.

(Signed), H. P. FELL, P. V. COLEMAN, Committee. A. H. PEAOCK.

And endorsed by over 50 of the best men of Reading.

The above safe has, on several occasions, been opened, where the public can satisfy themselves of the great superiority of the "Herring's Patent Champion," over the defeated and "unsafe" inside Iron Door Safes.

FARRELS & HERRING, 24 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

Only Makers in this State of Herring's Patent Champion Safes.

A safe which has been opened, and its contents taken out of a safe which had been used for several years in an accidental fire in Philadelphia, (Hansford Place), by taking one out of a safe's store, (H. A. Lantz) and double the thickness, (different from those that burn up) one of Herring's (half as thick) has with its true reward; Herring's safe could not be burnt, proving conclusively that the only reliable safe now made, which of which over 100,000 are now in actual use, and more than 200 have been tried by fire without a single loss. July 28, 1857. J.

EVANS & WATSON, PHILADELPHIA Manufacturer of Salamander Safes, No. 26 S. Fourth Street, Philadelphia.

Truth is Might and must prevail.

Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, Feb. 27, 1857.

"The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring, one by Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, viz: The one in use by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading R. Road Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring, and the one in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at 8 1/2 o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four o'clock of green hickory, wood dry oak and half chestnut iron wood were entirely consumed, he whole under the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the Committee.

The Safes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened and the books and papers taken out by the Committee and sent to H. A. Lantz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the safe manufactured by Evans & Watson were but slightly affected by the intense heat, while those taken from the safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring, were in our judgment, damaged fully fifteen per cent more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe.

We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both Safes.

JACOB H. DYSHER, DANIEL S. HUNTER, Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of their respective Safes.

G. A. NICHOLS, H. H. MULLENBERG, JAMES MILLHOLLAND, EVANS & WATSON have now on hand 300,000 pounds of the above Safes, which they offer for sale on better terms than any other Manufacturer in the United States.

The following named gentlemen, residents of Reading and its vicinity, saw the above fire, have purchased Safes from Evans & Watson since the burning up to May 1st, 1857.

G. A. Nicolls, 1; Lepold Hiram, 1; Isaac Ruth, 1; Kirk & Heister, 2; W. Rhoads & Son, 1; Henry W. Missinger, 2; Dr. Wm.
