

CHARLES LAMB'S WARNING.—Lamb, a genius and a drunkard, tells his sad experience as a warning to young men, in the following language:

"The waters have gone over me. But out of the black depths, could I be heard, I would cry out to all those who have but set a foot on the perilous flood. Could the youth to whom the favor of his first wife is delicious as the opening scenes of life, or the entering into some newly discovered paradise, look into my desolation and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when a man shall feel himself going down a precipice with open eyes and a passive will—to see his destruction and have no power to stop it, and yet feeling it all the way emanating from himself; to see all the goddesses emptied out of him, and yet not able to forget a time when it was otherwise; to bear about the piteous spectacle of his own ruin; could he see my feverish eye fevered with last night's drinking, and feverishly looking for to-night's repetition of the folly; could he but feel the body of death out of which I cry hourly, with feeble outcry to be delivered—it was enough to make him dash the sparkling beverage to the earth in all the pride of its mantling temptation."

A GOOD JOKE.—A Prussian journal of the Lower Rhine tells a very good joke of a religious community thereon, who, appreciating the long and able services of their faithful minister, unanimously resolved, as a slight testimonial of the same, to present him this year of a bountiful vintage, each with a bottle of white wine. The minister, of course, duly sensitive to this delicate tribute of love and affection, as well as pretty proud of it, as an evidence that his ministry had not been altogether in vain, at considerable expense prepared, in his cellar, a huge ornamented cask, into which on the appointed day appeared every member of his flock and emptied his bottle. But what was the surprise of the minister, as well as of the generous donors, on tasting from the now overflowing cask, to find that it was not wine but water! A strange thing, certainly, and of which we have no other explanation than this, that every member of the society were of the same idea, that one bottle of water would not be noticed in a whole cask of wine.

AN ALABAMA CONSTABLE AFTER ET AL. An Alabama correspondent of the Mobile Advertiser justly proud of his native state, writes to that paper as follows:

A certain fat constable in the county of C., state of Alabama, once received a writ from a Justice of the Peace, known as J. M. The case was R—vs. D—et al. The good constable, who was more famed for his honesty than literary attainments, was sorely puzzled at et al. So after keeping the writ for a week, he entered the Justice's office with much anxiety depicted on his countenance, and saluted Squire Josh with this exclamation: "Josh, who's et al? I've been looking for him all over the country for a week, and I can't find him. I don't believe there is any such man in C."

I remember meeting Winchell—the great Winchell—in a bar room one day, when the following chat took place between him and a son of Erin. W. had jostled him, and Padden remarked: "You are no gentleman!" "I know that," said Winchell, "but I don't see how such a fool as you came to know it?" "But," says Paddy, "every one says so." "Of course you heard some one say so, or you would not have known it." Paddy sloped.

An editor and his wife were walking out in the bright moonlight one evening. Like all editors' wives, she was of exceedingly poetical nature, and said to her mate: "Notice that moon—how bright and calm and beautiful!" "Couldn't think of noticing it," he replied, "for anything less than the usual rates—a dollar and fifty cents for twelve lines."

The old Dutchman who undertook to wallop his son, was slightly surprised by Jake turning upon him and walloping him. The old man consoled himself for his defeat by rejoicing at Jake's superior manhood, thus: "Well, Shake is a smart fellow; he can vip his own taddy."

A barrister, blind of one eye, pleading with his spectacles on, said: "Gentlemen, in my argument, I shall use nothing but what is necessary." "Then," replied the wag, "take out one of the glasses of spectacles."

A person passing by a conceived fellow, and happened to strike his foot with a cane: "You had better knock my brains out, and finish me," said the dandy, "I was trying to do it," was the quiet rejoinder.

Different sounds travel with different velocity. A call for dinner will travel over a tea acre lot in a minute, while a summons to work will take ten minutes.

BUCHU LEAVES are procured from the southern part of Africa. The Hotentots at the Cape of Good Hope have long used this article as a remedy in a variety of diseases. From them the medicine was borrowed by the English and Dutch physicians residing there and by their recommendation it was soon employed in Europe. In process of time this medicine has come into general use, and is highly spoken of by the best medical writers. Physicians recommend it mostly for complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, a morbid irritation of the bladder and urethra, retention of urine, also incontinence of urine from want of tone in the urinary organs, it cools the unnatural heat and relieves pain, and in many cases of long standing it has been effectual when other valuable medicines had failed to produce an effect. The active principle of this medicine is a volatile oil which is mostly lost by the old process of boiling. Hence it requires great care and skillful management to prepare this medicine properly.

HERRING'S SAFE.

THE ACKNOWLEDGED CHAMPION.

THE RECENT TRIALS at Reading have endorsed the current of public opinion, and confirmed the verdict of more than 200 judicial fires, proving conclusively that "Herrings" is the ONLY SAFE that will not burn.

Extract from the Examined Report on the Trial of Iron Safes at Reading: "On the 26th of February all the members of the committee met to witness the Safes and books and papers (placed in them) and were perfectly satisfied that all was right. The day following, the burning took place, under the superintendence of the committee. After a fair and impartial burning for five hours, the Safe of Messrs Evans & Watson was first opened, the Safe being on fire inside, and the contents partially consumed, while the contents in the Safe of Messrs Farrels & Herring were in good condition, and no fire inside."

Reading, March 2, 1857. (Signed) H. F. BELL, F. J. COLEMAN, A. H. PRACOCK, Committee.

And endorsed by over 60 of the best men of Reading. The above Safes can be inspected at 24 Walnut Street, where the public can satisfy themselves of the great superiority of the "Herrings Patent Champion," over the defeated and unsafe "Iron" from Door Salammun, &c.

Farrels & Herring, 34 Walnut Street, Philad'a.

Only Makers in this State of Herring's Patent Champion Safes. The attempt made by other parties to bolster up the reputation of a Safe which was failed in a judicial fire in Philadelphia, (Ranstead Place), by taking one out of an agent's store, (H. A. Lantz), made double thickness, (different from those they sold) to "burn up" the safe, (half as thick) has met with its true reward. Herring's Safe could not be burnt, proving conclusively that the only reliable safe now made is "Herring's" of which over 200 have been tried by fire in actual use, and more than 200 have been tried by fire without a single loss. July 15, 1857-58.

EVANS & WATSON,

PHILADELPHIA Manufacturers of Salamander Safes, No. 26 S. Fourth Street, Philad'a.

Truth is Mighty and must Prevail. Report of the Committee appointed to superintend the Burning of the Iron Safes, at Reading, Feb. 27, 1857.

"The undersigned, members of the committee, do respectfully report, that we saw the two Safes originally agreed upon by Farrels & Herring and Evans & Watson, placed side by side in a furnace, viz: The Safe in use by the Paymaster of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, in his office at Reading, manufactured by Farrels & Herring; and the safe in use by H. A. Lantz, in his store, manufactured by Evans & Watson, and put in books and papers precisely alike.

The fire was started at 8 1/2 o'clock, A. M., and kept up until four cords of green hickory, two cords dry oak and half chestnut top wood were entirely consumed, the whole under the superintendence of the subscribers, members of the Committee. The Safes were then cooled off with water, after which they were opened and the books and papers which they contained, examined and sent to H. A. Lantz's store for public examination, after they were first examined and marked by the Committee. The books and papers taken from the Safe manufactured by Evans & Watson were but slightly affected by the intense heat, while those taken from the Safe manufactured by Farrels & Herring, were in our judgment, always of the best quality; but more than those taken from Evans & Watson's Safe.

We believe the above to have been a fair and impartial trial of the respective qualities of both Safes. JACOB H. DYSTER, DANIEL S. HUNTER.

Having been absent during the burning, we fully coincide with the above statement of the condition of the papers and books taken out of their respective Safes. G. A. NICHOLS, H. H. MUEHLER, JAMES MILHOLLAND.

EVANS & WATSON have now on hand 300,000 pounds of the above Safes, which they offer for sale on better terms than any other Manufacturer in the United States.

The following named gentlemen, residents of Reading and its vicinity, who saw the above fire, have purchased Safes from Evans & Watson since the burning up to May 1st, 1857.
