

A SAD WARNING.—The case of Porter, Sunday School defaulter is thus alluded by a correspondent of the Boston Jour-

Mr. Frederick W. Porter, the defaulting member of the American Sunday School Union, has full made such a sensation a short time since, has at length made a full and complete confession of the great wrong he had done. He stood very high in the Society of the Church, and he was almost the man who would have been suspected to be guilty of so foul a deed. In a letter recently laid before the Board of the Sunday School Union he has made a complete confession. He began his wrong doing nineteen years ago. The plan was the same that he used to the last. His temptation began in the mulberry and silkworm speculation fifteen years ago, and under the garb of religion he has for that long time carried on dishonest plans. He allows that at the time he knew it was wrong; but he hoped to be able to meet the notes as they matured. As he was unable to do so, he was compelled to renew his notes and pay a heavy boot. Thus, for nineteen years, he has been leading the thorny path of sin, praised for virtues that he knew he did not possess, and taken of the sacrament, which, according to his own profession of faith, was adding damnation to himself with each unworthy communion. He defrauded the Society of over $50,000; but the Philadelphia broker added him to the dishonest gain, promptly paid all the notes that his name was on. The loss was lessened nearly $40,000. Porter confesses that in the nineteenth year of fraud, he has used the name of the Society to the large amount of $600,000, by renewals and re-issues. No wonder he is a man—one whom, if the law does not catch, the grave will soon cover up. Nineteen years of fraud and crime, and perpetrated in the name of religion—with disparaging of the face—exposure waiting for him at the corners of each street—with no man knowing at his heart—and the worm does not hastening to his repent! Mr. Porter's confession will soon be made public!

AN INDIAN LOVER.—Miss Bishop, the daughter of "Falar Home," who went to Minerva as a teacher, received an offer of marriage from an Indian. He came to her being decked in all his finery—scarlet dress, rings, feathers, newly scoured brass ornaments and bear's claws—and through misapprehension announced to her that she was his wife. It was urged that he had no wife. He replied, "All the band have as many as they can keep and I have but one." As an extra inducement he promised that she should have the best corner in his lodge, hunt on both sides, and eat with him, while the dark day was to hush the papoose, cook the corn, carry the game, plant and hoe the corn, and provide wood and water. Miss Bishop, in fear of the "green eyed monster," declined the other claimant did hold an inferior position, declined the distinction. The man then begged a dollar to buy a shirt, and left with a haughty air. Next day he was drunk, but Miss Bishop's associate at that time fared worse; she had been only a few weeks in the country, and was ignorant of Indian customs; a young warrior, smitten with her, called upon her; hoping to ride of him she gave him a ring; he interpreted it as a sign of partiality, and returned to take her to his lodge; the next day he again returned with six young braves to compel her to go with him. Explanations and interference were vain.

DEATH OF GEN. JOHN A. QUITMAN.—One of the heroes of the Mexican war, who was buried a thousand miles, goes down to his grave. Some of the most distinguished of this gallant corps already sleep in the Valley. Quitman, one of the bravest among them, rests his name to the number. He was born on the 17th inst., at Natchez, of disease contracted at Washington, in his 59th year. Quitman was born at Rhinebeck, N. Y., and received his education at Mount Airy, N. C., in the German town, in Philadelphia city. He was a Prussian clergyman, and in an deskling divinity, studied law, and became a lawyer in the West. His talents soon secured him public attention and confidence and served in various public capacities of importance, and finally as acting Governor of Virginia. In 1846, President Polk appointed him a Brigadier General in the army, and sent him to Gen. Taylor's aid in which he distinguished himself. In the subsequent campaign with Scott, he was promoted to the rank of Major General. In this campaign he displayed the highest military skill and courage, and led the celebrated attack on the city of Mexico, he has again mingled in public and was considered one of the ablest of our western delegation in Congress.

A DOUBLE MURDER.—MONTPELIER, Vt. July 17.—A shocking affair occurred yesterday in the adjoining town of Calais. A young man, about 19 years of age, named Ariel Martin, took his rifle in the morning, went into a neighboring hay field, put himself in ambush and as Mr. Wheelock, the owner, made his appearance to commence work, shot him deliberately through the heart. Mr. Wheelock fell at once, and in five minutes breathed his last. Martin immediately hurried off to another farm, where he met a laborer named Ainsworth, and, after exchanging a word or two with him, shot him also. Ainsworth staggered into the house not far distant, and died in about an hour and a half. The neighborhood became alarmed, and Martin took to the woods. He soon afterwards, however, made his appearance in the road, and was arrested. On being questioned why he had been shooting these men, he replied, "because they were mean men." No cause can be assigned for the horrid act. There had been no difficulties between the parties and between Martin and Wheelock a considerable degree of intimacy had subsisted.—Both of the unfortunate men were young, and had families. Martin has always been considered rather weak minded, but has never been supposed insane. The affair is undergoing a thorough investigation.

J. Edgar Thompson, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, we see it stated, declared, at the Railroad Convention, held at Buffalo a few days ago, that if the New York roads did not put up the fare to the regular price immediately he would reduce the fare on his road to one cent a mile.

GARLICK'S
Improved Portable Field Fence.
Patented by Isaac D. Garlick, Lyons, Wayne Co. N. Y., May 5, 1857.
The patentee of this Fence, after numerous trials and experiments, has finally succeeded in perfecting a plan for the construction of Fence, which does away with the necessity of inserting posts in the ground. The above Fence is made to set upon the natural face of the earth, and by its peculiar formation will conform to the undulations of the ground. The mechanical mode of its construction convinces all who examine it of its superiority over anything of the kind ever offered to the public, as well as of its durability, simplicity and cheapness. It is so put together that it is secured by means of keys, which are easily adjusted, and buttons by which it is kept strained to the ground, so that no trouble need be apprehended from winds.
This fence can be built of lumber at $10 per thousand, for the sum of 50 cents per rod—making it by far the cheapest fence that can be made; and the ease with which it can be put up and taken down, moved, made into stacks pens, or used temporarily for any purpose the farmer may require it—no less than the fact that at each joint an opening can be made, thus obviating the necessity for bars or gates—must render it a universal favorite with the farming class of community.
The Subscriber has purchased the territory comprising Charleston, Delmar and Wellsboro, and will devote himself to the disposal of farm rights.
RICHARD W. JACKSON.
Delmar, June 17, 1858.

KIRBY'S MOWER & REAPER.
The Subscriber is selling this valuable Machine, and invites all who want a really good Mower and Reaper, to examine it before purchasing any other machine. It is superior to all other Mowers and Reapers in use, in the following particulars: It is the lightest in use; is strong and durable; requires less draft than any other machine; has no side draft that it cuts a wide swath; will work on rough ground where no other machine can follow it; is very difficult to be clogged in any kind of grass, be it wet or dry; is simple in construction and not liable to get out of repair; is a perfect combined machine; working equally well, whether mowing or reaping; and is the CHEAPEST in price, the Mower being only $100, and the combined machine $120—making altogether the most desirable Mower and Reaper in market. Call at the Tin and Stone Store and examine for yourselves.
J. P. ROBERTS.
The Subscriber is also Agent of the Tioga Point Agricultural Works for the sale of

THIS splendid horse was sired by the justly celebrated trotter—Flying Morgan's—the pride of Vermont horse breeders, and does credit to the unequalled stock from which he sprang. His dam was a Messenger mare, a stock second only to the Morgan in all that constitutes excellence in the horse. For strength, speed and endurance, this stock of horses has never been surpassed. Young Flying Morgan is seven years old, 15 1/2 hands high, and weighs 1400 lbs. He can trot six miles inside of three minutes and was awarded the first premium for speed and general excellence, at the Windham Co. Fair, held at Brattleboro Vt., 1856
He will stand the ensuing season, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the stable of the subscriber at Tioga, and the remaining days of each week at the stable of E. R. Farr in Wellsboro.
Terms, $10 to insure a foal, in accordance with the usual custom. D. L. AIKEN,

Tioga, May 13, 1858.

Black Hawk Chief.
THIS splendid horse was sired by the justly celebrated trotter—Flying Morgan's—the pride of Vermont horse breeders, and does credit to the unequalled stock from which he sprang. His dam was a Messenger mare, a stock second only to the Morgan in all that constitutes excellence in the horse. For strength, speed and endurance, this stock of horses has never been surpassed. Young Flying Morgan is seven years old, 15 1/2 hands high, and weighs 1400 lbs. He can trot six miles inside of three minutes and was awarded the first premium for speed and general excellence, at the Windham Co. Fair, held at Brattleboro Vt., 1856
He will stand the ensuing season, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at the stable of the subscriber at Tioga, and the remaining days of each week at the stable of E. R. Farr in Wellsboro.
Terms, $10 to insure a foal, in accordance with the usual custom. D. L. AIKEN,
