

How Uncle John Got Rich.

My Uncle John is a queer, grim old bachelor, with here and there a gray hair silencing his locks of glossy black, and an occasional wrinkle on his broad, white forehead. He must have been handsome when he was young; and there still lingers around his face a kind of pleasing expression, which is at the same time inclined to make me fear, rather than admire or love him. Tall and robust, healthy and vigorous, he is a regular "old fogey" and adheres to ancient customs with an almost unaccountable tenacity. He talks but little, has no associates, walks about as if he realized nothing passing around him and in company is shy and reserved. There is always a chilling aspect about him, and I remember when a child how I used to tremble when he would pat me on the head, in his occasional visits to our home. But, let me whisper in your ear a moment—my uncle is very wealthy—and since I have become old enough to understand such things, my father has shown me, in his clear, logical manner, that we, being his only relatives, must take particular pains to please him; and so we do.

But I am forgetting my story. I often go to see Uncle John in his bachelor sanctum—only a few minutes walk from our house; and he seems to like me well—in fact, he talks more freely with me than with any one else, and loses a little of his habitual reserve when I am with him. A few evenings since I started out for a walk; and a sweeping wind and piercing cold soon drove me to my uncle's fourth story attic room. I found him sitting by his glowing wood fire, apparently drowned in thought, with an open daguerreotype in his hand, at which he was gazing earnestly and longingly; and perhaps I am mistaken, but I really thought I saw a tear-drop glistening in the depths of his dark-gray eye. He did not seem to notice my coming, but still sat in profound silence, gazing at the picture until, becoming tired of the irksome restraint without, I suddenly asked—

"Uncle John, how did you get rich?" He started violently; the picture fell to the floor, and for a moment his face wore such a look of anguish that I would have given worlds to recall what I had said; but it passed away, and then a smile played around his mouth as he answered,—"Hi, my boy, I never yet told my story; but, as you ask me, and because it may be instructive to you, I will tell you, briefly, and you will then know that I am not entirely what I seem. When I was about twenty years old I came here from my country home, and through the influence of my father obtained a situation as salesman in a large dry-goods establishment. But a few weeks passed ere I forgot the prayers and admonitions of my parents, became wild and reckless, spending my nights in places of dissipation, drinking, carousing and accumulating debts extravagantly. I was abandoned and disolute in the extreme; and although I managed to do my part of the business, I could not conceal the traces of my dissipation longer.

"One day I received a tiny note, written in a delicate, female hand; it warned me to beware how I continued in my ruinous course—urging every reason against it, and concluding with an earnest appeal to my finer sensibilities. It was signed, Carrie O—, and I knew it was from the daughter of my employer. I will not lengthen my story. I was changed from that day. I met her, lov'd her—spent my evenings in her company, till my heart made her its idol and I worshipped her. We were engaged—the time of our marriage drew nigh. One day I received tidings that she had been taken suddenly ill. I hurried to her bedside and arrived just in time to hear her whisper,—"Meet me in Heaven, John," and see her die.

"Weeks after I lay senseless in a brain fever; and when I recovered I longed to die; for the lamp of my life had gone out; I cared for nothing that was left. To relieve my mind I plunged deeply into business, became a partner, was prosperous, and am now wealthy; but at what a sacrifice!—My dear boy, you have often wondered why I am always sad and gloomy, but you will wonder no longer; my idol is in Heaven; I care naught for earth. Now, Hal, leave me; for I would not have you with me longer to-night, for I must struggle with my emotions."

With my heart saddened, and hot tears filling my eyes, and choking my utterance I left my uncle, with his face buried in his hands, and his whole strong frame convulsed with deep agony—alone—with all he had left of his idol in heaven.

We are informed that a gentleman of 'fair and regular standing' in the congregation of one of the New York churches, entered Tolman's music store a day or two since, and stated his wisdom in this wise:

"Have you Solomon's song? I want to get a copy."

"No, no," said the salesman, not being able to recollect at the moment a lithograph with that title, "No I am afraid not."

"Ah," said the amateur, drawing on his kid, "perhaps it is'nt out yet. Our pastor spoke of it last Sunday as a production of great genius and beauty, and I want my daughter to learn it."

The shopman with what gravity he could command, regretted that he had no copies in yet, and the customer left just in season to save the vest buttons of the book keeper at the desk.—Sunday News.

KING CHARLES AND HIS POOL.—This good fellow's influence was so great that the King once remarked to him, they had better change places. As Jean did not look to be well pleased with the proposal, Charles asked him if he were not content at the idea of being a King.

"Oh content enough," was the reply, "but I should be exceedingly ashamed at having such a fool."

It was this fellow who tried his master's nerve by rushing into the room one morning with the exclamation—

"Oh sire, such news! Four thousand men have risen in the city!"

"What?" cried the startled king, "with what intention have they risen?"

"Probably with the intention of lying down again at bedtime."

BUCHU LEAVES are procured from the southern part of Africa. The Hotentots at the Cape of Good Hope have long used this article as a remedy in a variety of diseases. From them the medicine was borrowed by the English and Dutch physicians residing there and by their recommendation it has been effectual when other valuable medicines had failed to produce an effect. The active principle of this medicine has come into general use and is highly spoken of by the best medical writers. Physicians recommend it mostly for complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, a morbid irritation of the bladder and urethra, retention of urine, and incontinence of urine from want of tone in the urinary organs. It cures the unnatural heat and relieves pain; and in many cases of long standing it has been effectual when other valuable medicines had failed to produce an effect. The active principle of this medicine is a volatile oil which is mostly lost by the old process of boiling. Hence it requires a great care and skillful management to prepare this medicine properly.

FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU is a strong or concentrated preparation prepared by the new process called "Displacement." By this the valuable properties of the Buchu are entirely preserved, and this form of the medicine is less liable to injury from age and more palatable. Useful equally in all cases of the kind whether male or female. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale at Roy's Drug and Chemical Store at Wellsboro Pa.

Address, (post-paid), Dr. GEO. R. CALHOUN Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors, EZRA D. HARTWELL President. GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary. October 25, 1856-ly.

Charles O. Eitz of Tioga Village would respectfully call the attention of the public to the following advertisement. "Man wants but little here below nor wants that little long" is an old saying and perhaps true to a certain extent. But it seems to me that in this time of general suspension and panic, everything is tending to a reversion of time-honored sayings, and everybody wants a little more still. The farmers (and they really ought to have as much as anybody, for they are to our country what a main spring is to a watch) want a little more for their wheat, buckwheat, rye, corn, oat, potatoes, &c. than the purchaser is able and willing to pay. The merchant wants a little more for his Flour, Pork, Salt, Dry Goods, Boots & Shoes, Hats & Caps, Hardware, Crockery and ten thousand little things he has to sell than the farmer thinks he ought to pay.

At this price it seems to me to be conceded by all that the cash value of good wheat is $1 per bushel; buckwheat, 2 to 2-1/2; corn 3-4 to 4-1/2; oats, 2 to 2-1/2; butter, 14 to 16 cents. Now to equalize the matter and make it satisfactory on both sides, I want and will agree to take from every farmer of Tioga county, all the wheat I can get for the next 30 days at 9 and 10 shillings per bushel according to quality; buckwheat at 2-6 to 3; corn 5 to 5-6; oats 2-3 to 3 shillings; butter 16 to 18.

Will sell you in exchange: 50 lb barrel, 16s. Flour extra superfine 13s 50 lb barrel, 16s. Flour extra superfine 11s per sack, 50 lb barrel. Common sugar letter "A" as white as snow at 12s. Common sugar letter "B" 12c. Very nice sugar, 11c. Common, 10c. Laguna coffee, every kernel good, 1-4. Old Java, very nice, 1-6. Young Hyson tea, warranted first top, 4-4 and 6 shillings. Tallow candles, 17c. Sperma 3-5. Fine cut tobacco, 3s. Loose smoking, 1-6. Plug tobacco, 3s to 4s. Eagle Denims, best manufactured, 10c to 1s. Lawrence mills, sheeting, very heavy, 10c. Fine unbleached, from 10 cts to 1s. Bleached muslin, from 7c to 1-6. Calicoes, all styles, consisting of Merrimacks, Cocchees, Spragues, Phillip Allens, &c., from 6c to 1s. A great variety of all wool Delaines, Cashmeres, Silk and Wool Paylins, Paramettes, Rigoettes, Hoods, Hosiery, Gloves and a great variety of little fixings, also a very large stock of Boots and Shoes, Ladies and Gent's wear. Ladies coarse Shoes 9s. Ladies' calf and enamelled leather, 11s to 12s. Gaiters a splendid assortment 10s to 16s. Gent's kip Boots, home made, from $4 to 4 1/2; City made from $5 50 to $6.

In word our stock is complete in all its departments, from the sugar and molasses down cellar to the best and most complete assortment of common and satin wall paper ever kept in a country store up stairs. Bring along all the grain &c., you have to sell, what you do not want to exchange for Goods I will pay you the cash for at cash prices.

Tioga, Nov. 5, 1857. CHARLES O. EITZ.

GARLECK'S Improved Portable Field Fence. Patented by Isaac D. Garlick, Lyons, Wayne Co. N. Y., May 5, 1857. The patentee of this Fence, after numerous trials and experiments, has finally succeeded in perfecting a plan for the construction of a Fence, which does away with the necessity of inserting posts in the ground. The above Fence is made to set upon the natural face of the earth, and by its peculiar formation will conform to the undulations of the ground. The mechanical mode of its construction convinces all who examine it of its superiority over anything of the kind ever offered to the public, as well as of its durability, simplicity and cheapness. It is so put together that it is secured by means of levers, which are easily adjusted, and by means of which it is kept strained to the ground, so that no trouble need be apprehended from winds.

This fence can be built of lumber at $10 per thousand, for the sum of 50 cents per rod—making it by far the cheapest fence that can be made; and the ease with which it can be put up and taken down, moved, made into stock pens, or used temporarily for any purpose the farmer may require it—no less than the fact that at each joint an opening can be made, thus obviating the necessity for bars or gates—must render it a universal favorite with the farming class of community.

The Subscriber has purchased the territory comprising Charleston, Delmar and Wellsboro, and will devote himself to the disposal of farm rights. RICHARD W. JACKSON. Delmar, June 17, 1858.
