

A Courageous Woman.

The following account of the courageous conduct of a young lady has been communicated to a New Jersey paper: A Mr. M. whose health was found to be impaired by the climate of the seaboard, was induced to remove from the city of New York to the interior of Illinois, his family consisting of his wife and three children, the oldest a young lady of seventeen summers, and the youngest some three years. Early that spring a maiden lady, a particular friend of the family, and very much attached to Mrs. M. and her children, removed from New York and took up her abode with them. She had not been long in her new home before she was suddenly taken away by death.

While Mr. and Mrs. M. were attending the funeral of Miss W., Miss M. was left in charge of the young child, and the room containing the effects of the late Miss W. which was situated on the second story of the house, was locked by the young lady and the child put to sleep in an adjoining room, while Miss M. was busy herself with her duties below. Some time afterward, Miss M. hearing a noise up stairs, and proceeded to look after it but found it sleeping quietly. With a thought as quick as electricity, she concluded that some one had entered Miss W.'s room from the outside for the purpose of robbing it.

Acting on this theory, she immediately went down stairs, procured her father's double barreled gun, and returned, opening the door of the room of the late Miss W. when her expectations were fully realized in beholding a stout man in the very act of appropriating a gold watch and chain, which he had just taken from a trunk of the late Miss W. She ordered him to lay down the watch and the fellow, noticing her determined attitude and manner, very readily complied. She next ordered him to take the money from his pocket, which he extracted: he denied having taken any, when she gave a peremptory order, accompanied with suitable movements of a military nature, when he, thinking "discretion the better part of valor," produced the money and deposited it with the watch. She then gave him the passage and orders to march which he readily obeyed.

On the return of her parents, measures were taken (which proved successful) and the fellow, after being caught was speedily brought to trial, fully identified convicted, and sentenced to the State Prison, and the Court caused to be presented to the young lady a testimonial in the form of a beautiful pin, with a suitable inscription.

A short time after this, the same young lady was at home alone as before, and her parents not returning at dark, she took the precaution to fasten the outer door. She had not long done so when she heard a knock, but before exposing herself to danger, she took the precaution to provide herself with the means of defence in the same two-barreled gun she had used on the former occasion. On carefully opening the door, a strange man presented himself and inquired, "Are you Miss M.?" She replied "Yes, what do you want?" He inquired again, "Are you the young lady who had a man sent to the State Prison?" She replied, "I am."

"Then said he, 'I am his friend, and have come to put you out of the way,' and drawing a long dirk knife was proceeding to enter the door when she deliberately aimed the gun at him, and told him if he advanced a step he would be a dead man. She immediately noticed that he changed countenance and began to tremble; whereupon she, pursuing her advantage, ordered him to about face, march, while he very readily obeyed, and as she was retreating, she gave him a parting salute by discharging one barrel of her trusty companion, which unfortunately only accelerated his retrograde motion.

SOUTHERN DIVINITY INDIGNANT.—We learn from a New York paper that the Hon. E. B. Morgan, of Cayuga county, lately franked one of Seward's speeches in the Senate, to the Rev. W. W. Estill of Winchester, South Carolina. We look upon the act of Mr. Morgan as eminently philanthropic, gentlemanly and christian, and should expect it to be so received by a christian divine in a christian country,—but all the institutions of South Carolina are somewhat "peculiar," and the kind intent of Mr. Morgan, to enlighten the Southern preacher of the gospel, on slavery, was not appreciated. In due course of mail he received the following specimen of christian meekness in reply: WINECHESTER, May 25, 1858.

Mr. Morgan:—I herewith return to you Seward's speech in the Senate, as I have no use for it. I believe that slavery is a social, moral and political blessing to the negro, and that it is recognized by the Bible, that instemigable (if I believe and teach), and Seward & Co. are doing battle against the God of the Universe, and not merely against the President and the South. Fight on, sir; every effort you make is but severing the ties that bind the North and South together.

THE MEANEST KIND OF RASCALTY.—The Missouri Democrat gives a new item regarding the sale of Fort Snelling. It will be remembered that the sale was a clandestine transaction, and stands revealed to the country as a monster plunder job. The Democrat says: "Without advertisement or notice of any kind, $300,000 worth of property was alienated from the government and the equivalent exacted for it was $90,000!" The sale was not only clandestine, but the price was nominal. The parties to the contract were National Democrats exclusively, and after the reservation including the Fort was sold, some troops were detained there, and $10,000 a month, barrack rent, was charged to the government by the new proprietors. The $90,000 purchase money, or the greater part of it, has thus been discharged."

MEN'S HEARTS.—Men's hearts! Do what you will, the things won't break. I doubt if even they'll chip.
Love is ownership. We own whom we love.

Curious PITCHER.—Prominent among the curiosities at the Hermitage, one the home of Gen. Jackson, is a wooden pitcher, remarkable both on account of the artistic skill displayed and the celebrity of the tree from which the wood was procured. It was made of the wood of the elm tree under which William Penn made the celebrated Indian treaty. The pitcher was presented by the coopers of Philadelphia; and, although it is not larger than a common cream jug, it contains seven hundred and fifty staves.—The hoops, lid and handle are of silver; the bottom is a magnifying glass, by looking through which one is enabled to see the joints, which are invisible to the naked eye.

FARRIER'S LINIMENT.—For Horses & Cattle. A most valuable article for swellings, bruises, sprains and stiff joints, windgalls, kicks and sweency. Price 25 cents.

BUCHU LEAVES are procured from the south-western part of Africa. The Hotentots use this article as a remedy in a variety of diseases. From them the medicine was borrowed by the English and Dutch physicians residing there and by their recommendation it was soon employed in Europe. In process of time this medicine has come into general use, and is highly spoken of by the best medical writers. Physicians recommend it mostly for complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, a morbid irritation of the bladder and urethra, retention of urine, also incontinence of urine from want of tone in the urinary organs. It cures the unnatural heat and relieves pain; and in many cases of long standing it has been effectual when other valuable medicines had failed to produce an effect. The active principle of this medicine is a volatile oil which is mostly lost by the old process of boiling. Hence it requires great care and skillful management to prepare this medicine properly.

FLOID EXTRACT OF BUCHU is a strong or concentrated preparation prepared by the new process called "Displacement." By this the valuable properties of the Buchu are entirely preserved, and this form of the medicine is less liable to injury from age and more palatable. Useful equally in all cases of the kind whether male or female. Price 75 cents per bottle. For sale at Roy's Drug and Chemical Store at Wellsboro Pa.

PERMANENT MARKING INK.—To mark colors and other clothing so that the name will not wash out. Price 25 cts per bottle.

GARLICK'S Improved Portable Field Fence, Patented by Isaac D. Garlick, Lyons, Wayne Co. N. Y., May 3, 1857.
The patentee of this Fence, after numerous trials and experiments, has finally succeeded in perfecting a plan for the construction of a Fence, which does away with the necessity of inserting posts in the ground. The above Fence is made to set upon the natural face of the earth, and by its peculiar formation will conform to the undulations of the ground. The mechanical mode of its construction convinces all who examine it of its superiority over anything of the kind ever offered to the public, as well as of its durability, simplicity and cheapness. It is so put together that it is secured by means of keys, which are easily adjusted, and by means of which it is kept strained to the ground, so that no trouble need be apprehended from winds.
This fence can be built of lumber at $10 per thousand, for the sum of 50 cents per rod—making it by far the cheapest fence that can be made; and the ease with which it can be put up and taken down, moved, made into stack pens, or used temporarily for any purpose the farmer may require it—no less than the fact that at each joint an opening can be made, thus obviating the necessity for bars or gates—must render it a universal favorite with the farming class of community.
The Subscriber has purchased the territory comprising Charleston, Delmar and Wellsboro, and will devote himself to the disposal of farm rights.
