SICK-BED REFLECTIONS.

Harken ye eprightly, attend ye vain ones; Pause in your mirth; adversity consider; Learn from a friend's pen, sentimental, painful, Sick-bed reflections.

Healthful and gay, like you I spent my moments; Fondly my heart said—joy shall last forever, But I'd forgotten man has no enjoyment But by permission.

Sudden and awful, from the beight of pleasure, By pain and eickness thrown upon a death-bed-Vain is it is softness to assuage the pain of Reging disorder.

Kindest attention by my friends most humane With the profound skill of a kind physician. All skill is baffled, while distress and anguish

Hopes of recovery my fond heart indulged,

Wonders on wonders to my view now open; Life is receding-to the grave Im hast ning. Am I prepared? this dread moment must I Meet my Creator.

Death swift approaching.

Vain are my groanings, all complaints are fruitless, Changing my place does not abate my fever, Here, like a reptile on a bed of embers, Tortured I langnisb.

Till my-physician, to my great amnzement, Kindly informed me that my case was desperate;

Twenty-five years I've spent without considering Man was a mortal, dependent on a moment-Life but a shadow, a time-flying arrow, Quick to dispel it.

Oft have I listen'd while death-bells were tolling ;

Counsels I've slighted, warnings I've rejected; In my gay moments tho'ts of death I've banished; When grown gray-beaded, I have oft resolved Death to prepare for.

Time in advance of me seemed moving slowly; Days without number I proposed for pleasure, But they are blasted. Now behold the end of Procrastination.

O, chastly death ! pray stop one moment longer, Blifkins vs. Blifkins.

Blifkins returned home one night this week, at a very early hour in the morning, and antici-pating a "result," he thought by a little bit of tact he might avoid any trouble. He entered the room, turned up the gas, and thus arraigned himself; Blifkins, this is too bad. Half past two o'clock. Don't you feel ashamed when you look at your wife to think of the way you are going on? Don't your heart upbraid you when you look at injured innocence sleeping there neglected? It aint no use for you to say that Committee Meetings keep you out, for if you had a mind to come home you could. Perhaps you must go through with it, but how came you to get on to all these Committees? Can't they have a ball, or a party, or a fair, or a new bank, or a new line of omnibuses but you must have a finger in them? What if your friends do ask you, can't you say 'No ?' What if they do use your name without leave; can't you withdraw? Now, Blifkins, the truth is, you rather fancy this excitement, and you don't particularly care about getting out of the way ; but, Blif, you have done your share; retirc to quiet life, and let balls and parties take care of themselves hereafter. (Injured innocence here raised her head and said "Fool!") That's a fact, Blif kins you are a fool, but still a certain amount of public spirit is laudable, and if ev-ervisedy should conclude to keep within his own shell, what would become of the city? Stagnation of course. Nothing like keeping lively." "Mr. Blifkins," interposed Mrs. Blifkins, "don't make a fool of yourself by trying to anticipate the lecture you deserve. It is a guilty conscience, a very guilty conscience that troubles you. Why don't you amend? It is folly to tell me that you are on a committee which quarrels every time it meets, and then is obliged to have a supper to heal up the differences. I suppose you'll have the committee at our house some day, but let me tell you they'll get a bit of advice. Don't tell me, sir, about wanting to get up your back sleep; who disturbs me every night. Yes, sir, I know they don't have balls in summer, but it's something." Blif had seated himself, as she began to speak, and fell

While I give warning to my gay companions ! No time is granted for expostulation ; Torturel in body—not a limb escaped it, No sweet composure to direct one prayer, All is disordered, yet my state eternal Now is depending.

Shun my example.

Seen the graves open, with mourners weeping. But was myself in spite of all these warnings, Long-life expecting.

When I was a boy, and my legs not longer than John Wentworth's, dad fotched home a durned wuthless, mangy, flea-bitten, gray old foxhoun, good for nutling but tu swaller up what orter lined the bowels ov us brats. Well I naturally took a distaste tu him, and had a sorter hankerin arter hurtin his feelins and discomfortin ov him every time dad's back wur turned. This sorter kept a big skeer allers Bfore his eyes, and a orful yell ready to pure out the fust moshun he seed me make. So he larnt tu swaller things as he run and allers kept Lis laigs well onder himself, for he never knowed how soon he must want tu use em in totin his infurnal carcus beyond the whiz ov a flying rock. He knowed the whiz ov a rock in moshun well, and he never stopped to see who flung hit, but jist let his head fly open to gin a howl room tu cum, and sot his laigs a gwine the way his nose happened tu be a pintin .-He'd shy roun every rock he seed in the road, for he looked on hit as a calamity tu cum arter him sum day. I tell you Georgy, that runnin am'the greatest invenshun on yearth when used keerfully. Whar'd I a been by this time of I hadn't relyed onto these yere laigs? D'ye see Don't they mind you ove a pair ove com-pusses made to divide a mile inter quarters? They'll.do.

Well, one day I tuck a pig's bladder ni onto the size ove a duck's aig an filled hit with powder and corked hit up with a piece ove spunk, rolled it up in a thin skulp of meat and sot the spunt afire, and firing hit out; he swallered hit at one jerk, and sot in tu gittin away fur duin hit. I heard a noise like bustin sumthin, and his tail lit atop of my hat. His head were way down the hill and had tuck a deth holt onter a roof. His fore laigs were fifty feet up the road a makin runnin moshuns, and his hine one a straddil over a fence. As tu the dog nisself, as a dog, I never seed him again. Well. dad, durn his onsanctified skin, flung five or six hundred onder my shut with the dried skin ofen a bull's tail, and gin me the remainder next day with a waggin whip what he borrowed from a feller while he war a waterin his hoses ; the wagoner got sorry for me, and hollered tu turn my baggin and squallin inter fust-rate rannin, which I immejutly did, and the last lick missed me about ten feet.

TO THE LADIES! A New Kind of Soap

BOOKS.

A NEW kind of Soap has recently been invented which promises to supersode all other kinds of hard soap. It is used extensively for washing clothes and possesses the remarkable property of extricating the dirt without boiling the clothes and without the use of the rubbing board. The process of washing requires less than half the time, and only about half the labor, by using this Patent Soap. This article is peculiarly excellent, and superior to any thing else called Soap ; because while it saves time and labor, it never rots or injures the clothes. It is just the article it is represented to be, and never disappoints the ex-pectations of purchasers. It does not take out stains.
