FROM THE PEOPLE.

For the Agitator One Chases a Thousand.

That is, down in Ole Virginia. The Southern gales lately brought to our ears the clang of resounding arms. The "nursery" of strong complected pussons seems to be slightly confused. Duleful rumor and sad presage" come up from the terrified F. F. V's. All owing to the fact that a few strangers, sojourners, are discovered in their midst, not having on "the wedding garment." A gray-headed old man, with a baker's dozen of followers, objects to the prevailing customs. Such conduct irks the "overseers' of the "nursery" exceedingly. Fear cometh upon them. How to escape from the toils, the hateful notions and practices of the new-comers much exerciseth their minds. They go to and fro seeking for assistance in this their time of calamity.

To put down this bold audacious irruption (for so it seemed to the wondering eyes of "Verginia never tire") how the volunteers flock to the standard of the affrighted "chivalry,"-Maryland testifies her neighborly good will by putting her sons in martial jackets; the great Chief at Washington, who presides over the destinies of us all, sends forward his boys, shouting irons in hand; and foremost of all, with terrible mien and large help, advances Gov. Wise, the testy, with

"Dominion in his nod, And, thunderbolts excepted, quite a god."

All having assembled in hot haste, and being marshalled in battle array, they tighten up their valor to the desperate work, and look about if perchance they may espy the enemy. The while the opposition, six or seven of Ethiopian extraction and two times as many pale faces, have no thought of so vast preparation and march of numbers being on foot against

The Allies are about to triumph. The wits of the Old Dominion are presently coming back which, on the first alarm, had

"Altogether gone a devious course."

Anon the adverse forces met-in numbers, complexion, and military accoutrements of "violentest contrariety." A faint rattle of musketry, some flourishing of swords, also confusion, and -the smoke of battle clears away. The Wise party have the field-and the Gov. safely makes fast in the stocks the survivors of the officious meddler. The valiant defenders of the "institution" go home. A little spark has been put out with oh! what hogsheads of water.

That's a tolerable picture of what recently has been enacted at Harper's Ferry-so scared Virginia, and raised such volumes of smoke. Comment unnecessary. Brown and his corporal's guard put in uproar the whole South. To be sure it wasn't very clever in him, by running off the men, whose faces, like the face of Egypt in the olden time, are covered with dark-

"Invade and bring to dust The pillars of support in which they trust."

But on the other hand it is a bad symptom for a whole community so easily to loose its composure. It argues something wrong in the make of the craft they sail in. That it is high time they throw overboard the dark plank of slavery, well assured that

"A blot will be still a blot, in spite Of all that grave apologists may write."

Letter from Kansas. Official rate and thy &s-Gross Frauds by the Democracy-Centennial Anniversary of Schiller, de., de.

ATCHISON, Kansas, Nov. 11, 1859.

Entrop of Agitator: The official vote on the Wyandott Constitution foots up at 15,951, which shows a clear majority of 4,891. When it is taken into consideration that no returns were received from eleven counties, it is a safe calculation to estimate the majority for the Constitution at considerable over 5,000.

Last Tuesday the election came off for Delegate to Congress and County officers, and as a matter of course gross frauds were again perillegal votes were cast by residents of Missouri and people of this place whose names did not appear on the Registry. The judges of that ward all being pro-slavery, every man that came to the polls was permitted to vote without any regard to the Registry. They gave a Democratic majority of 160, which is considerable more than the number of voters in that ward, notwithstanding full one half of them are Republicans. The notorious Dr. and Gen. String-fellow and Col. Abell, three of the meanest men that ever disgraced the soil of Kansas, were around as usual, to vote. Not one of their families reside in the Territory, yet all of them come around at every important election and Several fights occurred during the day and night but no one was dangerously hurt. A foreigner (who keeps a low hell-hole) was figuring pretty conspicuously around the polls for the Democrats and got stabbed several times with a bowie knife. Liquor all day was as free as water, and the Democracy on any such occasion can carry anything.

Lawrence gives a majority of 487 for Parrott, Leavenworth City a majority of 400 for Johnston, Wyandott City 27, and Doniphan City 60. Doniphan County elects Republican Sheriff and Senator, and probably the whole Republican

The centennial anniversary of Schiller was celebrated in this city last night by the Germans, at Holthans & Bros. Hall. A grand ball was given and "lager" was in great demand. Two rowdies attempted to force their way into the hall and was fired into by the door keeper, the ball glancing and taking a young man in the shoulder, and it is very doubtful whether he will ever recover. Several shots were fired by other parties in the course of the evening

THE MADMAN BROWN-It was the very general belief of those who knew him in Kansas, that Brown, after the death of his son, became insane upon this subject; and his proceedings in this affair certainly gave countenance to the belief. A wilder and more hopeless project than that in which he embarked cannot well hg imagined. It seems to have been the work of a single man-smarting under a sense of personal wrong, and insanely seeking to avenge them upon a whole community. He will probably pay the penalty of his rash insanity with Another Insurrection!

The honor and integrity, as well as the perpetuity of the great State of Virginia have once more been threatened. The people of Charlestown and of Harper's Ferry have been thrown once more into spasms of terror; once more have the shiverlry shivered, and the clang of mother of Presidents!

Another invasion? Not at all. There is no other John Brown brave enough to go to his H. C. Johns. doom in this way. No. The cause of this new consternation in "Old Virginia" is a horse of another color. Virginia shakes, but no new John Brown does the shaking.

On Thursday night last, a stack of wheat on a farm about three miles from Charlestown, Va., was burned either by accident or design. This, gentle reader, as the novelists say, is the whole story. No; not the whole story for the funniest part of it is yet to be told. The authorities of the place telegraphed at once to the President of these United States and the Governor of the Great State of Virginia to send troops and munitions of war to the locality of the burning wheat stack. Gov. Wise, the valorous and valiant champion of "the honor of hundred armed men. Arrived at the scene of proposed carnage, these valorous warriors were in the sad predicament of having nothing to der of the Session to be devoted to the "Item kill. There was no enemy on hand. The wheat-stack which had probably been set on fire by some "no-account-nigger" had magnified the fears of the people into a dreadful raid body was seen willing to give battle to the assembled knights, and at last accounts the shiverlry were still shivering. Who would not live in a slave-ridden State?

"Shadows to night Have struck more terror to the heart of Richard Than can the substance of ten thousand soldiers Armed in proof;"

and until the accursed shadow of slavery lifts its pall from the morbid mind of Virginia, shadows will continue to haunt and terrorize ing stock to the world.

Teachers' Institute held here last week will be fined to the words of the text book in recitafound in another column. The Report is Official and was not prepared expressly for this paper. We regret that other duties prevented us from attending regularly the several sessions of the Institute. We were also unable to secure a-reporter who would have presented a correct account of the questions discussed, and the many excellent points made by those who took part in the discussions. The gentleman petrated by the Democracy in Atchison. In the second ward in this city no less than 100 tute, was engrossed with the duties of presiding officer of the one just closed. This will be Brion. Resolution No. 6 then being under cona sufficient apology to our readers for not presenting a report of our own.

Besides the remarks of Mr. Reynolds the Superintendent (who we believe has not an equal in the State for energy, and devotion to the high trust reposed in him,) lectures were delivered by Prof. H. C. Johns, and M. H. Cobb, Esq., and an address by Miss Lizzie Lichtenthaler of Lawrenceville. On each occasion the Court House was crowded to its utmost, and the frequent and hearty applause accorded to the speakers showed the popularity of this method of imparting instruction.

Taking the Institute "all round" it was an excellent one, and we cannot doubt that its influence will be felt for good to the schools of the county during the approaching winter.

The N. York Evening Post publishes the following incendiary letters not found in John Brown's Carpet Bag at Harper's Ferry:

DEAR BROWN .- I will try and be home in time for our little affair in Virginia. I probose bringing a company of Zouaves to assist us. Go on in your glorious work. I Send Yours, W. H. SEWARD.

CLEVERAND, 1859. DEAR SIR .- I will be at Harpers Ferry with 20,000 Republicans, in time to carry our plan. Senator Wade will shoot the President, and frow will blow up the Capitol. It's all right. Mum's the word. Yours, J. R. G.

Moved and carried that an order be drawn under the supervision of the Auditing Com., on the Treasurer, to pay the expenses of the Institute. On motion the Institute unanimously gave a vote of thanks to the editors of the Democrat and Agitator for the interest they have taken in the cause of education, and for publishing the proceedings of this ession of the Institute. The following is the report of the Counsellors in regard to the progress of the educational interests in their several townships. [By reference to the proceedings of the Institute held at Tioga, it will be seen that the Counsellors were instructed to give a written statement of educational affairs, but as they failed in this, and not all being present, and only gave it verbally, this report is necessarily quite imperfect.]

Charleston .- Two school houses built within a year; three first class ones in the town, five good and the rest poor-severteen in all. Pay $18 to males in winter, $14 to females; $7 to females in summer. The present school system would be sustained by the people on vote.

A N OLD SONG WITH A NEW APPLI-

"Chill Winter is come with its cold freezing breath And the verdure has dropped from the trees.

All Nature seems touched with the finger of Death, And the streams are beginning to freeze.
When poor Robin Red-breast escaped from the wed,
Comes pecking the crumbs from your door:
When your tables are sincking with plenty and good
Thats the time to remember the poor."

And thats the time to remember that Wa. Rosems has just received a fine lot of Sausage Meat Cutters.

Of the best approved pattern, by means of which you tables may be made to smoke with "plenty and good sausages, at a very little cost of time and labor. And this very naturally brings as to consider the meas by which the sausages are to be served up, to wit.
