Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

In VIEW of the fact that every member of the human family is more or less subjected to some complaint, besides innumerable other conditions in life, which, by the assistance of a little knowledge or exercise of common sense, they may be able so to regulate their habits of diet, and with the assistance of a good tonic, secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life; for this could be the country a prenthis end Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a pren aration hearing his name, which at this day is not a new medicine, but one that hos been tried for years, giving satis-faction to all who have used it. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind, then why not use an article to be infallible? Every country have their Bitters as a preventative of disease and strengthening of the system in general, and among them all there is not to be found a healthier people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to advance the destiny of this great preparation in the medical scale of science.

For Persone in Advanced Years who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these litters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and needs only to be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while invising, these litters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nomishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and before so doing, ask your physician who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the litters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.
