It sustains the 10 the character with which it commenced its career, the carrier upon public esteem as it grows older. It has appletely taken the place of "Household Words."

thich is positive proof of its sterling literary value. The Atlantic Monthly for April has just arred, and after glancing over its pages we do not hesthe to say that this No. is worth half a dozen of ame magazines. The "Atlantie" stands A No. 1 in 9 the ranks of American literature. Terms, $3,00 per mnum. Address, Ticknor & Fields, Boston, Mass.

We have received the April number of Godey's Lady's Book. The first steel plate is an illustration of spring, besides the fushions there are beautiful patgras for embroidery patchwork, cooking receipts and shop and lot many useful articles in this book that we wonder house and lot gras for embroidery patchwork, cooking receipts and gras for emonuted to this book that we wonder house and lot bouse and lot blucksmith shop & lot R. It is estimated that the proposition of Hon. hn Sherman, to abolish the present mileage arpagement and substitute twenty cents per mile and 3 ac. & steamreport the distance in a straight geographical line, house and lot tibe a saving of about $270,000 a year to the Gov- 45 gement. Now we would like some one to estimate nt amount it would save the people of Wellsboro' were ty to purchase their Groceries at O. Bullard's Store. 8

We notice in the New York papers that our 20 had Dr. Pratt, the accomplished editor of the Cor- 20 ; of Journal has been appointed by the Canal Board to neoffice of Collector of Tolls of the Chemung Canal at 10 Coming. This is a deserved compliment to the Docan cause in Steuben County. We trust the duties of weaker will not interfere with the editorial conduct red the paper, as we consider the Journal one of our Hiet country exchanges.

In looking out of the front window of our 4 Ete at half past four on Monday afternoon, we saw in neticeable matters—one was the arrival of the 2 rh two sheets each in the wind trying to hold up a and with three sheets in the wind, and a fourth trailng behind.

Ite selling of whiskey and beer is a profitable bumes in a pecuniary point of view, but if the devil 7 mit roast the man who deliberately sells either bevmge to the intexicated young man, all we have to my is, we can't see the particular use of such a permige.

3 We learn from the Corning Journal that Major hill, after a residence of two or three years in the , 2 fatern country has returned to Corning, and asand once more the management of the Dickinson misse. The Journal speaks our own sentiments when says that "the inhabitants of any city or village, cere the Major has dispensed his genial hospitalim will bear witness that the Major "can keep a 144 in the highest style of the art, as developed 7 the unprecedented civilization of the nineteenth Milly. No man can excel hint in the rare faculty of 16 Excessing upon a guest the fact that the luxurious we the unceasing service, and the graceful attentions 10 a the bost are expressly designed for the individual suffert and enjoyment of the guest." Those of our things who, in the absence of the Major, took up 10 Ten quarters in Corning at other places, will now ren to the "Dickinson."—as we think they ought to. 5

RATS AND TRAPS .- And still they come-traps Et rate-rate and traps. First Wetmore, then Barnan then Spencer's, then Deming's, and last of all Lizes our friend R. P. Buttles of Mansfield, pouncing grapen us, with a splendid little trap chock full of as, munching delicious pumpkin seeds and looking unappy and contented as though the trap was built 8 upressly for a rat palace and dedicated to their espetiluse. We almost envied the rats their happiness the caught in such a trap; and we knew the fut impdent creatures looked out upon us with contempt, we saw distinctly a smile of scorn curl their lips when deigned us a simple glance and then taking . 10 peach a plump pumpkin seed waver it at us, as much uto say, "Poor devils of printers, you don't have 25 my such nice living as this!"

'Poor devils of rats" thought we, "if Buttles can The get this trap into every family, there'll be none I you loft, in six months, to poke fun at printers."

The race of Tam O'Shanters, it would seem 16t yet run out. If we are to believe the poet, an had eschewed the simple ale of Adam, his ances- 10 it, and had taken to imbibing a more complex bevrige.
