

THE AGITATOR.

WELLSBORO PENNA. Thursday Morning, April 19, 1860.

Persons desirous of getting Books should send for any one they may want, remitting the regular price of the Book to GEORGE G. EVANS, 439 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, and they will get a book worth the money, and a handsome Gift, and stand a chance of getting a valuable Watch or some other prize, worth from fifty cents to one hundred dollars. This is the only reliable Gift Book Establishment in the United States. See advertisement.

The health of Rev. George C. Robinson, pastor of Union Chapel, Cincinnati, we are pained to state, is such as to compel all cessation of pulpit and pastoral labor. His official brethren, with entire unanimity, have granted him leave of absence indefinitely, and have at the same time provided for the prompt payment of all his salary. He will probably visit Europe, or what in our judgment would be better for one afflicted as he is, with lung disease, spend some months in Minnesota, the paradise of invalids. Meaning an effort is making to secure a single man for temporary supply.—Western Christian Advocate.

We are indebted to Messrs. Oliver Ditson & Co., No. 277, Washington Street, Boston, for some new pieces of Music. "Farewell Dear Home" is a beautiful ballad by Balfe; the music is simple and touching. "My own dear Mountain Home," a song and chorus by Gilbert; "The Snowflake Mazurka," by Deery; "Sweet Simple Melodies"—a ballad by J. W. Cherry; "Golden Crown Waltz," composed for one or two performers, by Hndly; and "Little Rob and I," a song by Hndly. By enclosing 25 cents in money or stamps to the above firm by mail, any one of the above pieces will be sent free of postage.

On Wednesday evening last, our citizens gave a public serenade to Maj. FIELD, he having just returned with his family, and taken full possession of the Dickinson House. The Cornet Band, discoursed in most delightful music—the boys built bonfires—several speeches were made—and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed, as cheer after cheer went up for the gallant Major. Mr. FIELD was called out, and after thanking his old friends for their kindly welcome, he invited them to partake of the hospitalities of his house which he dispensed with a liberal hand.

Much of the Mayor's popularity as "A No. 1" landlord, is owing to the fact, that Mrs. FIELD has the personal management of the culinary department, in which she is an artist, and that she takes especial pains in the supervision of the rooms, leaving no pleasure, which will contribute to the comfort or pleasure of their guests. In fact, without his amiable "better-half" Mayor FIELD could not keep the best Hotel in the State of New York.—Coring Democrat.

We have a new Supervisor. He is elected by the Burd' Council last week Monday. The Council, doubtless, meditated directing his attention to our "public ways"—which, if not found "crooked," are certainly not easily "posted over." That some of them are down at the heel appears on the surface—the conclusion that they should be mended or give place to better "ways" is jolted out of every highwayman hereabouts.

As a sample of decayed ways, Main Street stretches its length along. What once answered the requirements of a plank-road, now shows a sorry apology of departed glory. A plank gone here and an elevation there, constrains the passing vehicle and its contents to illustrate and chime in with the chorus of the frogs—to-bead-to-bead—alternated with an occasional bo-ly-bob. Should the remaining hemlock be extracted and gravel shoveled in, as has already been the treatment at both ends of the Street, it would be a welcome change.—The lower half of Pearl Street is also in a wretched fix, and is no foed though honored with the same. A neighboring creek seems to be disputing the right of possession, with about equal chances of success. The stream bulks to the right and left of the road, making it look like an ugly Pearl. If left much longer to pursue its chosen course the land will give way to a rat course, and canal navigation supersedes that of wheels. Here is a fine chance for the new Supervisor to "make a commencement."

LAWYERS STRIKE.—The order of the day seems to be for "strikes." Eastern gales waft to our ears the stoppage in the clang of lapstone and hammer—the shoemakers of Lynn, with a swarming host at their heels, have queer, queer, ceased striking wheel-leather and pegs, and are on a "strike." Further East (now, if that saty cable at the bottom of the Atlantic wasn't such a dumb speaking trumpet, we'd tell you all about the "manly art of self-defense" practised by Heenan and Stryker on a "strike." From away down South at Washington come the echoes of several and various "strikes" (but no blood shed). At last not to be out of the fashion, we have to chronicle one of these popular demonstrations near home—a "strike" among the Lawyers of Tioga County. On the occasion of the adjourned Court last week, a goodly number of lawyers being present, it was thought a favorable time to confer together as to matters pertaining to the craft. They accordingly assembled at nine o'clock, L. D. Taylor's. An exchange of opinions brought them to a conclusion that they had fed on "shorts" as long as it was their good. And for the establishment of a more plain and uniform bill of fare for their subjects throughout the County, and to put them on something like an equal footing with other and neighboring bars, they adopted a scale of prices for their commodity in law. Law, graded according to the sized lump desired, to which all the profession present concurred. Men in other callings have something like regular and established charges for service rendered, why not serenitate ad legem? This is a good move for all concerned.
