POLITICAL BALL MATCH.-We are gratified to with young men of this village taking so thuch ingut in out-door sports. Politics runs toward evgilling, however, and it has even infused itself into all and ball-clubs. We have Democratic Ball Clubs ad Republican Ball Clubs, and from these we are to her a Match. The Democratic ball-players among the young men, we learn, have sent a challenge to the Republican players, which has been accepted, and the Match is to come off next Saturday. Considerable interest is manifested on both sides, and the Match i looked forward to with much anxiety by outsiders. The result will be announced next week.

And while on the subject of ball, can we not have Cricket Club formed in this village? We have in our midst enough of material for a first class association, and our public square is a beautiful spot for the sport. Who among the young men will move first in the matter?

Ox FRIDAY afternoon of last week we, in compary with others, visited the Academy to listen to the compos and declamations. We have climbed there before for a similar purpose, and when other administrations exercised authority, and instructed the youth upward striving after furniture for the head. These rigits have to be repeated often to make our obeisance to the often changing Principal, (and assistant) who relate on the hill of science. Like the sleight o'hand man with his little "joker," now you see 'em, now you don't. It may be all very well, -we like to see new fages, tal we strongly suspect such brief acquaintances can budly be for the good of the scholar and the reputation of the institution for steady habits. We have hard it said that men change, principles never. Now jut here is the principal difficulty that Principals do thange. But enough.

We visited the Academy for the first time under the harge of Prof. Allen. Found a good number of stuints in attendance, and was well entertained. Good erder and good understanding seemed to prevail betreen teachers and scholars. We noticed one thing, galeo under Mr. Allen's predecessor, with which we nere well pleased. Whenever a name was called for mounting the restrum, or reading compositions, no sugges were offered, but a prompt response to the all. Our citizens should countenance these afternoon mercises more with their presence, and encourage a entinuance of the present rule.

BOOK TABLE. The Atlantic Monthly for May has been received, ha table of contents unusually attractive. "My claims, land warrants, etc. a Story" is an admirable production, at once interring and instructive. "The Playmate," a little ponot much beauty, is universally admired, while the quisition on Mary Somerville in this number does viice to Scotland's female mathematician in an able uner. The Professor's Story does not diminish interest as its length increases, but rather, like tae, it improves with age. These Bitters, as all classes of our fellow citizetis, iticlieding Members of Congress, lawyers, Physicians, Clergyillen, Planters, Farmers and others testify, are the only safe, certain and sovereign spectric for the inimidaliate relief and permanent cure of the many cruel complaints which in some phase or other of Dyspepsia afflict our race.

These Bitters were discovered by Dr. George B. Green, and in their formula differ entirely from that of any other preparation of medicine. Containing no alcohol—no mineral—no poison—no noxious drug,—in their nature tonic, not stimulating,—retaining their virtues in any clime; they are a "combination and a form indeed" of Medicine which knows no rival in exterminating disease and restoring the system to its pristine vigor and health. No matter of how long standing, or however induced or chronic in its character the disease may be—no mitter that it has haffled the skill of the pliybician, and resisted the efforts of Medicine, skille ith of these Bitters will satisfy the stifferer that his disease sil ameliatile to the proper remedy.

Every important article in it has been specially written for its pages by men who are authorities upon the topics of which they speak. They are requilified to bring the subject up to the present moment; to attice just how it stands now. All the statistical information is from the latest reports; the geographical accounts keep pace with the latest exportations; historical matters include the freshest just views; the biographical notices not only speak of the dead but of the living. It is a library of itself.
