

THE AGITATOR.

WELLSBOROUGH, PA. Thursday Morning, July 16, 1860.

The communications in regard to Clark Churchill, may receive attention next week.

The absence of the editor will account for any overights which may occur in this edition of the Agitator.

Messrs. C. & E. S. SWANER, the enterprising merchants of Corning, have handed in a new advertisement, which will appear next week.

Messrs. SMITH & ROY, the gentlemen and obliging dealers in Dry Goods, Groceries, &c., of this place, are now receiving large additions to their stock of goods. Go and see them. Store under Agitator office. And while at this end of town, call up and pay for the AGITATOR a year.

The Coudersport Journal, under a marriage notice, acknowledges the receipt of four quarts of green currents, which it seems to consider payment in full for the advertisement. The announcement is also made that "We take all kinds of produce for marriage notices, where money is scarce." You're a philosopher, CRASS!

One of our Deputy Marshals, who is now engaged in taking the census, is a decided wag, and of course makes some good hits. He has a white horse which is the admiration of the ladies and the envy of the men. We saw him coming into town the other day, looking much fatigued and out of humor. The white horse was hitched before a democrat wagon, and his sulkey, considerably "broke up," thrown promiscuously on the wagon.

"Hello, there you seem to be 'stove up,'" tauntingly cried out a Pennsylvania "social delegate," who is daily seen in our streets; "what hole have you been into to-day, Charley?"

"Only to Baltimore," quietly returned the Deputy as his horse went prancing round the corner. The delegate slid.

The Centre Democrat says that a young lady, beautiful and accomplished, and descended from one of the first families in Bellefonte, is advertising for a husband, and that persons wishing to write to her, must address Blaine, Box 15, Bellefonte, Pa.

All editors who call attention to this advertisement are to be published in the Agitator. But we advise young men not to write to Blanche; old bachelors may do as they please. One of two things is certainly true: either that Blanche (what a lovely name!) is a dried-up, hard-faceted, knifed-nosed, cross-eyed and half-tempered old maid, or that the young man of Centre County "don't amount to much." That's all!—We'll let you know how it is when we come back from Blanche's wedding.

Fistic.—Enthusiasm in the "manly art" seems just now to be a sort of contagion, spreading through the whole country. Even in Wellsboro we have some young men, and even small boys, who are perseveringly engaged in "developing the muscle." Some bloody "snerkers," some black and swollen "peepers," some big and bruised "kissers" are frequently the results of this sort of fun. A stock company has been formed, and a set of boxing gloves purchased by the young men of this place. An effort is also being made, we believe, to procure a suitable place for exercising the "science" and "muscle," with all the necessary appendages. It is an innocent amusement, this seeing which of two persons can punch the other's mug the hardest, and receive the fewest blows himself! We witnessed an exhibition of this kind on Tuesday evening last, on the grass back of the Postoffice. It was commenced by older ones, who sent home some telling blows on their adversaries. Most of the larger ones present, however, lacked "game" and the ring and gloves were given over to the boys. This was the most amusing scene we have witnessed for many a day. Boys from eight to twelve years old, with coats off and sleeves rolled up, and gloves on nearly as large as themselves, standing facing each other with howling yells and menacing fists, presented a ludicrous appearance, indeed. We would fail to describe it, and therefore will not attempt the description of a scene at once so amusing and hugely pugilistic. It must be seen to be appreciated, and can be witnessed any night by almost everybody.

THE FOURTH AT ROSEVILLE.—A valued friend at Roseville sends us a report of the celebration of the Fourth at that place. He says:—"Our quiet little village was aroused from a peaceful slumber on the morning of the memorable Fourth at about 3 o'clock, by the firing of guns, which brings fresh to our minds the stories that we have listened to from our fathers concerning the scenes and trials of the Revolution. At sunrise, the firing commenced again. One gun was given for each State, and one for Kansas. The sun rose magnificently, and everything promised well for a beautiful day; but soon scattering clouds began to form, and some appearance of rain was manifested. About 8 o'clock, our little hamlet began to put on the appearance of life, and by half past 10, our village contained about one thousand people. At about 11 o'clock, the procession formed on the public square in front of the hotel, under the supervision of our worthy chief marshal and his assistants, headed by Perry's Band of martial music, which is believed to be the best in the county. The procession marched to the grove a short distance from the village, where ample accommodations had previously been made. After the people were seated and quiet restored, the stored, the President introduced the Rev. Mr. Coughlan, who made a very beautiful and appropriate prayer. Next the President introduced J. S. Murrain, Esq., who read in a clear and beautiful voice the Declaration of Independence. Then came upon a sad shower of rain, which scattered the congregation in all directions, to seek shelter. The rain soon ceased and "Old Sol" made his appearance again. The audience re-assembled, when the President introduced Mr. C. G. Williams, former editor of the Democrat, who said he very much regretted that the person who had been solicited to speak could not be present. However, the editor gave us a good address. The procession then re-formed and marched back in perfect order to the hotels, where ample accommodations had been prepared to feed all present. After dinner was over, there was seen coming around the point of the hill in the distance a beautiful company of Fanatics, who marched round the square several times. I think this company produced more fun and got up more excitement than all the other proceedings. Now and then a little fighting occurred, just to help make up a variety of performance. The cannon kept speaking to us quite often during the day. Once our man at the gun (Mr. Earsley, from Jackson), came near being seriously injured in consequence of the powder being his pitcher accidentally taking fire while in the act of firing his piece. The pitcher was broken, the pieces of which were blown into his face, causing him to look as though he belonged to the Italian firm. Fortunately for him, there was not much powder in the pitcher. The Toast-Boards were such the scene of excitement. The tables were amply furnished with everything calculated to raise the spirits of both ladies and gentlemen, and many a toast was given in commemoration of the day that declared our independence and nation. A dance was held at Murrain's in the evening. It was a very successful one, we have had the best celebration that we have ever had in Roseville."
