TOWATO WINE. The following recipe for maken excellent, article of temeto wine, is communito an agricultural paper by a gentleman who l it successfully last season:

To a bushel of sound, ripe tomatoes cut, add four ons of water. Let the mixture stand in an open three days, stirring two or three times each day strain through a sieve. To each gallon of the r liquid add three pounds of brown sugar, stir unthe sugar is dissolved, after which it is not to be abed for three days, except to take off the scum it rises. Then strain the liquid through muslin or nel bags, and put it in a cask filled to the top of bung hole. There must be a surplus of the liquor replace what. formentation throws off, as the cask Half an oz. of isinglas is sufficient for tengallons, is a good one, that is not a good one for the buyers and Kenyon's Grammar. ITERARY.—On Tuesday evening last heard the demy bell ring; wondered what it could mean; ought we'd climb up and see- we, because there re two of us—one keeping step immediately at the Arrived at the temple of learning found an aslage of young men and maidens joyous and chatco of the same sort coming. Another bell sends out hotes of invitation, and we disappear through the or, second a flight of stairs and find ourselves in rell-lighted room, plenty of seats and accommodad with desks for literary calls. Gentleman sent meelf by the big light and in front of the table and

All composed, the Miss in the arm-chair, pencil is hand, calls over a list of those duly elect and their names inscribed to the Constitution. A good number answer to the rell-call. Others not seeming to attract the notice of the Secretary, keep comfortably quiet, saying nothing all the while and looking on to see what comes next. Report of a previous meeting read. Call for a declamation. Gentleman was mistaken, thought he was on the list for next week-hopes therefore he will be excused for the present as he is not prepared. Next an oration by a studious Welshman, well spoken and well received. Then comes an essay from the fair side of the house; good of course. Some new members proposed and elected. After which came the event of the evening in the shape of paper published at Smethport, M.Kean Co., a debate on the question, "Resolved, that the son of paper pulled the H'Kean Hiner, It the rich man who rises to moral and intellectual emi-we cordially wish for it that success which its poor man who rises to the same eminence." Discussion opened on the affirmetive by a written argument from ene of the young ladies. She took up her positions with no little spirit, boldly set up the reasons why praise should be awarded to the son who "rolls in the clover all over," and challenged the opposite party to tumble them down. Wherenpon a youth set himself to work "to bring to nought" the labor of his to. The ladies deserve great credit for their fair predecesor. Various speakers followed, some putting in a good word for the rich son and others for the other son. There was quite an assortment of debaters, different ages, and showing more or less experience in climbing the "difficult sides of precipitous questions." 📑

The "critic" of the evening gave a maish to the exrcises-passed upon the faults and merits of those taking part in the programme. Adjourned.

Came down from the second story and the high hill feeling that we'd been well rewarded for the curiosity that had led us to follow in the direction of the Academic bell.

ALL IN BOTTLES.—I beg leave to call the citizens of the United States to the above Winss and Liquors imported by Udolpho Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in this country for the purity of his celebrated Schefflam Schappe. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the City of New York, that that all the Braucles and wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature on the certificate. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. No. 832 Market St., Philadelphia.

Read the following from the new York Courfer:
Enormous Business for our New York Mirschahr.—We are happy to inform our fellow citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure wines. and Liquors, as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchan's extensive business, although the Will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20, and 22 Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stoce of Schnapps on hand ready jor shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases: the Brandy some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1838 to 1865; and ten thousand based of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irlsh Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Ctolx Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had, three large cellars, filled with Brandy, wine, &c., in Casks, under Custom House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnappe 3ast year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope that in jess than two years he may be equily success

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, BROADWAY, NEW YORK. WHEN completed, six years ago, the St. Nicho-lns was universally pronounced the most mag-nificent, convenient, and thoroughly organized estab-lishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains to-day—milhout a rioal in size, in sumptuoneness, and the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,600 guests, cluding 100 complete suites of apartments or families.

Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dising rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenence and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan, or is neglected in its practical details.

The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its home-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the Proprietors.
