TROY, PA., April 29, 1861.

The "Tioga Invincibles," accompanied by Company "A" of Wellsboro, reached this place on Wednesday night last, at about 11 o'clock, The home reader already knows the particulars off our departure. About eighty teams, containing volunteers for the Government service, left Wellsboro at about 2 o'clock on the 24th; amid the greatest enthusiasm that place has ever konwn. The streets were completely crowpince of starting on the Court House Square, to terminus of main street. The sad partings, tears, the smiles, and the "God bless you," where indeed affecting, and not one present will forget it, should he live a thousand years. The drrow which seemed to prevail so generally the crowd, was soon dispelled from the troops, and the scene changed to one of merriment. From Wellsboro to this place, all along the line, small crowds would cheer us, and the valunteers would reply with pleasantries to their good wishes. At Covington we met a large wd. Here we took supper, and with the cheers of the immense assemblage passed on. Nothing worthy of note occurred on the route. htil within about a mile of town, when the didiers were ordered to get out of the wayons and carriages, and march into town, led by the ellsboro Brass Band, We proceeded to Hydens' Hall which had been selected as our atmory, and received the congratulations of the impanies which had congregated here from arious parts of the county. TROY, April 29th, 1861. During the afternoon of Wednesday, the weather cleared up nicely, and the march,-or rather the ride,-to Troy was pleasant enough. Over the hills, in the bosoms and by the sides of which nestled our humble homes ; past sunny porches and fresh green lanes where quivering voices cheered us as we passed, where young mothers with brimming eyes and sobbing voices held up prattling little fellows to see us pass on the road which some of us are likely enough to pass never again; by squads of tough supbrowned men who bade us "God specif" in sober, earnest tones, cometimes adding, "Well boys it'll be our turn next, may be ;"-on we went with sad hearts enough, perhaps, but all of us in earnest. * * * It is reported that we are to more by Wednesday at farthest which may or may not be true. Perhaps the immense outside pressure which will be brought to hear on the Governor and the Legislature (which meets to-morrow) may be sufficient to rush through an act justifying the bringing on of these men to Troy contrary to orders, and also authorizing the payment of all expenses incurred. This would put matters all right and give the men who are in earnest a chance to see service ; as the bill is intended to be framed with reference to the calling of the troops from the "infected district" into immediate service. We have had confusion worse confounded in this little town. Seven companies are now here, and the commissary department gets a haid run, you may well suppose. You never saw a body of men under exciting circumstances, more quiet, sober and orderly, and the majority of them take to squad drill like tigers. The Tioga Company (The Wilmot Guards) are a body of fine fellows-officers and men-and they are fortunate in having a most competent drill officer in Capt. McDanald. We get the benefit of an "officers drill" from him occasionally. Will write again when I can. NESSMUCK.

[When it became authoritavely known that war had been inaugurated by the rebels at Charleston, the military spirit of our people lowing, the ministers of all our churches preached patriotic sermons. The following is the M. E. Church. He selected his text from other words. 2d Saml., 10th chapt., and 12th verse : "Be of What stronger bearthplace than a heart untainted? good courage, and let us play the men for our people, and for the cities of our God, and the Whose conscience with injustice is corrupted."
