GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Harrisburg, April 30, 1861.

To the Senate and House of Representatives

GENTLEWEN: - The present upparalleled exigency in the affairs of our country, has induced me to call you together, at this time. With an actual and armed rebellion in some of the States of the Union, momentous questions have been thrust upon us which call for your deliberation, and that you should device means by legislation for the maintenance of the authority of the General Government, the honor and dig-pity of our State, the protection of our citizens, and the early establishment of peace and order

On the day of my induction into the Executive office, I took occasion to utter the follow-e-mbination of States, can voluntarily second from the Union, nor absolve themselves from their obligations to it. To permit a State to withdraw at pleasure from the Union, without the consent of the rest, is to confess that our Government is a failure. Pennsylvania can never acquiesce in such a conspiracy, nor assent to a dectrine which involves the destruction of the Government. If the Government is to ex-

Stitutions. ... t Entertaining these views and anticipating that more troops would be required than the number originally called for, I continued to receive companies until we had raised twenty-three regiments in Fennsylvania, all of which have been mustered to the service of the United States. In this appricipation I was not mistaken. On Saturday ast, an additional requisition was made upon me for twenty-five regiments of infantry and one regiment of cavalry: and there have been siready more companies tendered than will make up the entire comple-

I cannot too highly commend the patriotism and detotion of the men who, at a mo-ment's warning, and without any preparation, obeyed the order. Three of the regiments, under similar circumstances, by direction of, and accompanied by efficers of the United States arm, were transported to Cockeysville near Baitimore, at which point they remained for two days, and until the directions of the Gene-"Ours is a National Government. The regiments at his place are still supplied by the Commissary Department of the State. Their quarters are an comfortable as could be expected, their supper of provisions abundant, and under the instruction of competent officers, they are rapidly improving in military knowledge and skill. I have made arrangements to clothe all our regiments with the utmost dispatch consistent with a proper economy, and am most happy to say that before the close of the present week all our people now under arms will be abundantly supplied with good and appropriate uniforms, mankets and other clothing.

A large body of unarmed men, who were not at the time organized as a portion of the militia of this Commonwealth, under the command of flicers without commissions, attempted under the call of the National Government, as I understand, to reach Washington and were assaulted by armed men in the city of Baltimore, many of their number were seriously wounded, and four were killed. The larger part of this body returned directly to Philadelphia; but many of them were forcibly detained in Baltimore; some of them were thrust into prison, and others have not yet reached their nomes.

I have the honor is say that the officers and men behaved with the utmost gallantry. This body is now organised into a regiment, and the fficers are commissioned; they have been accepted into the service, and will go to Washington by any route indicated by the Federal Gurernment.

I communicate to you with great satisfaction the fact that the banks of the Commonwealth have voluntarily tendered any amount of money that may be necessary for the common defence and general welfare of the State and the nation in this emergency; and the temporary loan of five hundred thousand dollars authorized by the Act of the General Assembly of the 17th April, 1861, was promptly taken at par. The money is not yet exameted; as it has been impossible to have the accounts properly audited and settled with the accounting and paying officers of the government as required by law, an account of this expenditure cannot now be furnished. The Auditor General and State Treasurer have established a system of settlement and payment, of which I entirely approve, that provides amply for the protection of the State, and to which all parties having claims will be obliged to conform.
