

THE AGITATOR.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS. Wellboro, Wednesday, July 24, 1861.

New Advertisements. Orphan's Court Sale. S. H. McLeod, Geo. P. McLeod.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Massfield Classical Seminary. No other institution in Northern Pennsylvania possesses so many advantages for the student as this.

Gov. Curtis has appointed John W. Ryan, Esq. of Lawrenceville, as Assistant Paymaster in the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps. Mr. Ryan will make a competent officer.

We notice that Street Commissioner, Gray, has been doing a good job in fixing the curbs on State Street. Some of the curbs on that and Main Street, are the objects of complaint. They ought to be sunk into the street, or the street raised up to their level. We promised to call attention to them.

Our enterprising friend, W. H. Smith, has received an excellent map for a cheap one, of the Seat of War. Persons who are not already supplied will do well to call at the Book Store and get one, as they are almost indispensable to an intelligent reading of the war news.

The M. E. Church of Wellboro, having been remodelled, will be opened for divine service on Thursday, 29th inst. Preaching at 10 A. M., by Dr. Reid, President of Geneva College. At 2 o'clock P. M., by Rev. B. I. Lee of Auburn, New York. At 7 1/2 P. M., by Rev. E. H. Cranmer.

THE TIME TO ADVERTISE.—Barnum lays it down as a rule, in his work on "The Art of Making Money," that the "proper time to advertise judiciously, is when others don't." It strikes us that Barnum is very nearly right, and his words we commend to our business men at the time when they seem to need some encouragement.

Interesting accounts of celebrations of the Fourth in Farmington and Ward townships were received too late to be of interest to the general reader. We would have published them this week, but the war news limits our space. All communications must be received here by noon of Tuesday; Correspondents will please remember this.

Got Bit THAT TIME.—A burglar broke into a bakery at Binghamton, and stole about ten dollars' worth of bread and several packages of the Republics which had been left there to be mailed early the next morning. He supposed the packages contained gingerbread, or something else of value. Fancy his mortification. His body will be found one of these days in the river there, if remorse is as powerful in the human heart as Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., says it is.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The Bradford Argus says that Mr. John Epsy, of Standing Stone township, came to his death very suddenly on the 2d inst. As near as we can learn, he was in his Plaster Mill superintending some affairs about the machinery, and he was walking by, his eye caught in it, dragging him in and crushing him. He was immediately extracted, but his injuries were so great that he died in a few moments. Mr. E. was a good citizen and industrial man, and his life deeply deplored both by his young wife and many friends.

SEXUALLY QUERIED.—The self-examining society has proposed the following queries to all people about this financial period: Does it cost anything to print a paper? How long can a printer afford to furnish a paper for nothing? Do printers eat, drink, and wear clothing? If so, how do they get it? Do I owe for my paper? Is not this particular period a first-rate time to pay up?

Harvest.—Our farmers are now engaged in haying and harvesting. The crops in this section, as a general thing look well, although we hear complaints from some localities. An ex-ange, descending on our times as they effect business, is farmers will have no hard times. Crops are good and prices will be good for everything excepting hay, the plenteousness of which all over will make it very cheap. While the farmers will be getting good prices for their produce, the price of everything they consume, clothing, dry goods, groceries, all will be cheap. Other branches of business certainly do not present anything so flattering these hard times.—Bradford Reporter.

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL PAPER.—It is surprising to us, says an exchange, that so many intelligent men manifest so much indifference about sustaining their local paper. They seem to forget the fact that the local press is emphatically the representative and exponent of local interests, wants, and wishes of each community, and that on its energy and watchfulness the community must mainly rely. There is no business man but suffers by this indifference. Just in proportion as your local paper is patronized is it enabled to advance the general interests of the place.

Too many are willing to let their local paper languish by withholding from it the patronage in their power to extend to it. They say it is too small—it is not worth taking, not seeming to realize that it is by their support that it can be made larger and so improved as to meet the full expectations and wants of the community.

Now we hold that if a man is able to take but one paper it should be the one published nearest his place of residence. His first duty is to encourage, support and sustain his home paper. If he can take two, let the next be one that is published at the commercial metropolis. If the local papers are not what you think they should be, inquire of yourself whether you have done all you can to make them better.

Woke up the WOODS PASSENGER.—Last Wednesday night, the Village of Corning was the scene of some lively excitement. It seems that the 2d Wisconsin Regiment, had made a contract with the Railroad authorities for their transportation from Chicago to Harrisburg "by way of Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo or Dunkirk and Elmira." On arriving at Dunkirk, it was found that there were but 6 coaches ready, 3 having been sent out on express trains. The agent stated he had telegraphed to Elmira for cars and 6 were on the way and detained at Hornellsville and could not promise them before 10 A. M. next day. On being informed that there was plenty of cars at Buffalo, Col. Paine found the force of circumstances virtually changed his course, and directed the train to Buffalo. The Col. could not do otherwise than go by way of Buffalo; the cars were not ready at Dunkirk, and only 18 in all to be provided by the next day, some 8 short of the requisite number to accommodate the regiment. On arriving at Corning (via Buffalo) the N. Y. & Erie Railroad refused to transport the Regiment to Elmira, or permit the train to run over the Road, for the reason the Regiment had not come direct from Dunkirk. The Agent of the Buffalo and Corning Road, then tendered the gold for full fare for each person on the train, and for all the freight from Corning to Elmira. This was declined, and the train refused permission to proceed. Col. Paine had about fifty sick on the train, the whole Regiment tired and hungry; and in this condition they found themselves switched on to a side track, and gently given to understand they could remain there. Under these circumstances, Col. Paine took possession of the night express going east, and informed the Agent of the Road that when that train went his Regiment must go also. The Agent got his back up, and tried the "blustering style," but to little purpose. One thousand Wolverines were hungry and tired, and possibly a little cross on account of this most senseless detention. This state of things lasted four hours. Finally the Railroad Agent relented, and the express with the Wolverines went on to Elmira. We don't think the Railroad Company will try that experiment again. In this case Col. Paine was evidently the wrong passenger.

MARRIED. In Jackson, on the 14th inst., by the Rev. L. Stone, Mr. WILLIAM W. ROGERS of Mansburg, to Miss SARAH J. SERGEANT, of Jackson.

DIED. In Deerfield, on the 10th inst., Mrs. HENRIETTA HILL, in the 73rd year of her age.

The deceased had been a resident of this county for nearly sixty years. Her husband, Elias Hill, departed this life Jan'y, 1852. After she was relieved of her arduous care of him, as also of her aged mother, who died shortly before, she seemed bent on waiting patiently her Master's summons to call her to a better world. In the unmerited grace of God through Christ was all her trust. Those intimately acquainted with her, admired her for the extensive cultivation and greatness of her mind, but more especially do they bow in reverence to the goodness of her heart. Her delightful appreciation of the kind attention which she received in her infirm state, secured for her the tenderest regard not only of her own family, but also of the neighborhood in which she lived.

The weariest spirit now has taken flight. All kindest hands arranged the wasted clay; They laid it among the graves of those who loved To wait the final resurrection day. S. H. C.

GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED NOISELESS SEWING MACHINES, FOR FAMILY AND MANUFACTURING USE, 495 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

The Grover and Baker Sewing Machine Company are now manufacturing, and have on exhibition at their different salerooms, machines making the Shuttle or Lock-Stitch, of the same patterns and at the same prices as their celebrated Grover and Baker Stitch Machines, thus showing the public the advantage of comparing the stitches of the two leading machines and exercising their judgment as to their respective merits. This is the only company that manufactures both kinds of machines, and therefore the only one that can offer this privilege to the purchaser.

"We speak from experience when we say that, after having tried all the principal Sewing Machines, we must accord to that of Grover and Baker the preference. These indispensable features of sewing strength, uniformity and elasticity, all of which are brought out in this incomparable invention, make the first sewing machine in the country. Other, have their good points, but this combines all, and possesses every characteristic necessary to make it most desirable."—N. Y. Christian Advocate and Journal.

"MERT VS. PREFERENCE.—We perceive that the Grover and Baker Sewing Machine is every day growing more and more in favor, both for manufacturing and family purposes—but especially as adapted to all the requirements of family use. Other machines, by dint of business puffery and connivance with committees at annual fairs, have been thrust forward into the first place; but they are fast losing this unmerited position. The real merits of the Grover and Baker Machine are beginning to be known in a practical way, and daily is the demand for them increasing, while the demand for heretofore better known, but inferior machines, is proportionally decreasing. So it turns out in this, as in many other instances that "honesty is the best policy," and the right, in the end, does overcome.

"A trial of over two years enables us today with the greatest confidence that there is no better machine for general family use than Grover and Baker's Sewing Machine Co. It makes a beautiful elastic seam that does not rip with wear or washing, runs almost noiselessly, is plain, simple, easy to work, and not liable to get out of repair, fastens the ends of its own thread, and uses threads and silks directly from the spools on which they are bought."—N. Y. Leader.

Grover and Baker's Machines work in their peculiar stitch, and fabrics put together by it, may wear and tear to pieces from original weakness or hard usage, but come apart or give way at the seams, they can not; they will hold together when the cloth or calico around them hangs in rags and tatters."—N. Y. Daily News.

"The points we conceive most necessary and important to meet the wide range of requirements in a machine for family sewing, we find more fully combined in the Grover and Baker. viz., extent of capacity, simplicity of construction, ease of management, advantage of using thread from two spools without re-winding, strength of work, elasticity, durability and regularity of stitch, and quietness of movement. We therefore mark award to the Grover and Baker."—Report of Tennessee State Fair of 1860—also of St. Louis State Fair of 1860. May 15, 1861.—ly.
