Wool is now higher than it has so the for fortyfour years. This is owing to the larg ; semand for army goods, and to the advanced price of the ton. It will not so soon fall so low again as the been of late years. It would pay our Tiogn count? farmers to give more attention to the raising of theap for the floor. Many portions of the county art paculiarly adapted for this purpose. What say our farmers? Who among them will give us some inf roution on this subject?
