THE ARMY OF PERSYLVANIA.—The annual report of Adjutant General Russell places the number of Pennsylvanians in arms for the defence of the Union, since the breaking high the present rebellion, at two hundred and fifty thougand. This includes the number of men in the tarce months' campaign, as well as the many who so nobly lest their firesides and the comforts of home for the dispulsips and vicissitudes of the tented field in that grigical period in our State history, when the enemy was on our very borders. The number in this home army is estimated at 23,000.

On the 22d of January, the following joint resolution in relation to the sick and wounded soldiers from Pennsylvania, was unanimously passed by the Legislature of this State:

the Legislature of this State.

WHEREAS, There are a great many sick and wounded soldiers in the army of the United States from the State of Pennsylvahia, whom the people of this State carnestly desire shall be returned here, where they can be visited by, their friends, and receive that care and attention, which their situation demands; therefore,

Resolved by the Setate and House of Representatives, etc., That the Givernor be requested to immediately call on the General Government, to order that all sick and wounded soldiers from this State in the army of the United States be returned to the hospitals here, in order that they may receive that care and attention which their signation may demand.

, [Advertisement.] THE PROPOSED NEW RAILBOAD.

Mr. EDITOR: In my last I was compelled for want of time to leave one part of the argument of "Tioga County" in favor of Mr. Magee's road unnoticed Since then another champion of Mr. Mages has leaped into the ring, and brandishes the same argument over the signature of "Tiega," For my part, I was not inclined to be drawn into a protracted discussion of the subject. I did feel as though no unbiased mind could fail to see the injustice of Mr. Magee's demands, and I thought it due to the Tioga Company that public attention should be called to the subject.

Since the two writers, "Tioga County" and "Tioga" have seen fit, however, to thrust before the public as facts, the statements contained in their articles, the same motives which prompted me to call attention to the subject at first, require me to examine their facts and figures. "Tioga County" says that in 1862 Mr. Magee transported over the Tioga Road 137,000 tons and that the Tioga road charged him 80 cents per ton or the use of their road."

Now, laying aside all such charges of "ignorance," 'misrepresentation" &c., as seem to be so necessary part of the articles of both the writers named, let us examine the figures. The Tioga Company and STOVES, MACHINERY, &C., &C., Mr. Magee together have established long since, a tariff of freight &c., over the road. The freight thus received has been divided between the two roads upon the following basis: The whole road is 41 miles in length, of which 26 miles belong to the Tioga Company, and 15 to Mr. Magee. Of all freight received, Magee receives 15-41 and the Tioga Company 26.41. He sends coal over the read-say one ten for example. He is charged for the freight and credited with 15-41 of the amount, or over one third of the whole freight. In addition to this he is allowed on all coal sent to tide water and to certain other points a deduction of 20 per cent on the gross amount of freight charged on such coal, This single item amounted in 1862 to $15,553 17 The fact therefore is that "Tioga County" charges the Tioga Company with having received from Magee just $15.553 17 more money on freight on coal than was paid to both companies together. Then after this large deduction has been made Mr. Magee receives 15-41 of the entire balance. The amount realized by the Tioga Company from transportation of Magce's coal instead of being 80 cents per ton as alleged, would average for the year 1862 just about 441 cents per ton.

But "Mr. Magee is plundered," says our friend, by the Tioga Company. And how is he plundered? He himself helped adjust the tariff of freights now in use on the whole road, and over one third of them goes into his own pockets. He has never been known to manifest any uneasiness of conscience at receiving five needles. his share of the freights paid by lumbermen, by the Morris Run Coal Company, or by miscellaneous freights. He has yet to show the just twinges of remorse at being a party to the "plunder" (if the present tariff does plunder anybody) of any other person or company. But when he, John Magee, pays the same freights which he exacts from others, then he, John Magee, is plundered, but others paying the same freights are not.

But in addition to his receiving his hof the amount of his freights the Tioga Company have given him 20 per cent of their ? by way of deduction on coal sent to tide water &c. This gives him a decided advantage over his own tariff of freight. Still he in sists that he is plundered-and still he receives with the utmost complacency i of the freights of those who do not get a deduction and he would tell you that hey are not plundered.

It is impossible to satisfy one who looks at things through such a medium as Mr. Magee's mental vision would appear to be. When others pay and he receives, then it is all right and business-like-the tariff is reasonable, and he is a miserable grumbler per cent given to him at that, then is it "plunder
