JEROME SMITH desires the to notify the public that he will establish a communication through the papers next week, but meantime will be glad to show the big pile of goods arriving at his store, gratis.

Our friend of the Corking Journal is rather more enterprising than his commoraries. We beg to acknowledge the receipt of a pictorial extra with his last week's issue, which was suggestive, if not in the copperplate line of fine arts. Who is your engraver, Dector?

WE learn from the Elwirt Advertiser that the Williamsport and Elmira Railroad passed into the hands of the Northern Central R. R. on the 1st inst., and will hereafter be known at the Williamsport and Elmira Division of the Northern Central Railway. Col. Fonda remains Superintendent of the Division.

PROMOTED-We take Freat pleasure in announcing the promotion of Maj. Lilia, to the Lieut. Colonelcy of the Bucktails. The fundauncement will gratify a large circle of his frien and acquaintances, who will appreciate this deserves far ir to a brave and efficient county, paid our village a flying visit on Monday, having made a trip to the coal mining regions at Blossburg and Fall Broik. Judge Ketcham is earnestly recommended by the loyal press of the State, as n candidate for Govern't in the Pittsburg Conven-tion, and from present up arrances will go into the Convention with a streng delegation. He is a man of ability and integrity; and would make a first rate Governor. Of his devotion to the Government there can be no question.

We have to ask the if Julgence of readers and correspondents for this weet only in the matter of advertirements. The crowded tate of our columns results from the legal advertis ng, which, of course, chanot be deferred. This is the ir last appearance, and next week we shall be able give our liberal allowance of reading matter. Eliscellancous advertising, is however, heavier than we have ever known it, so heavy that we hope to Liscontinue the publication of A patent medicines, with sine or two exceptions, when the contracts shall be ff alled.

A word to Lawler Bors.—There is a law upon the statute book forbidding the killing of insectivor-cus birds. It is a good law, founded in humanity and use. There are some boys in this village who practice stoning robin and other harmless, birds, which honor our pretty hade trees with their nests and glad the owners if reof with their songs. This ought not to be. Boys, the practice this wrong should be made to feel the welf ht of the law; and all good citizens should combin- to enforce the law. Good boys will not annoy the birds. Bad boys should be punished if they do it.

Ox Monday night, ag to clearn; some returned Sol. diers stopping at Elmirs, vaiting to be mustered out committed great outrages at Slab-town, the "colored quarter" of that village knocking down and injuring several men, enteringing receting of colored people, breaking the seats, draingiout and knocking down the men, and seizing the women present stood them on their heads, and "paised the devil," generally.—

The "vigilant" police were busy all hight pursuing the rioters, but not a word appears in either of the Elmira Daily Papears in reference to this abominable riot.—Corning Journa

AN EXTRAORDINARY EUROICAL FEAT .- A most singular operation was performed by Dr. T. S. UpDe-Graff, the Ogulist-and Junit, at his surgical reoms in this place, yesterday. If consisted in the removal, from one of the eyes of a Mr. Zigler, of Towarda, Pa,, of a living anima, about an eighth of an inch in chameter, of a globuled form possessed of a head and for Mens' and Boys' wear, for sale by the yard, or tail, approximating somewhat in shape and appearance to the ordinary block furtie. This lattile creature has been living in the aqueous humor, (or watery portion of the eye,) for the past eight or ten months, and had grown so rapidly has to have greatly interfered with the vision of the patient. The doctor tells us that this is the second case that has come under his observation, and by the fourth case ever known to have occurred in the Tribled Seates.

This curious little singular is named a cysticerous cellulosa, or "worm of the eye," and belongs to that class of animals known is Lutozoa, or Parasites.

Dr. U. succeeded in removing the animal alive but it died in a few minutes after being exposed to the atmosphere. It can yet be seen at the Dr's, office,-

At the house of the bridg's father, on the 14th inst., by C. M. Griswold, Esq., Ar. HENRY T. WILHELM to Miss FANNY E. STAPLES, both of Woodhull,

In Charleston, on the his inst., WALTER MORGANS, in the 90th drar of his age.

Mr. Morgans was born in Wales hearly a hundred years ago, and lived there sevent years of his life—at this advanced period, with his wife had children he emigrated to this country to find a better place to pursue his calling as a farmer. The providegee of tiod directed his steps, with a ten of his old country heighfors, to our neighborhood. The township was blessed by the imigration, for these people seemed to have a religion that would not dee by being transplanted. The ordinancis of the church were honored by them; the Sabbaik was kept holy, and the means of crace punctually attended. Wenty-two years ago, in-early spring, the Welsh Cirach was organized in Mr. Morgans house, consisting then of but six members, and himself and his good wife were clitted opacous. For several years his house was the church for the worship of this little band—a church always open the feetome the devout. From that day to this the prayers and praises of that people have acconded without intermission, thether they had a minister or not, though strangers in stranges land. The fathers sleep. The children will hon! their faith. Com.
