Change in the Law Relative to School Direct Co.

The following sot was assed by the Legislature at the late session : AN ACT BELALIVE TO THE TERM OF CEFICE OF SCHOOL DIESCIDES,

SECTION 1. Be it expected de., That the term of office of school directors from and after the first day of January A n one thousand eight handred and sixty four, shall commence on the first Monday of Jone, in each and every year: Provided, (That) the term of office of school directors now in of log shall severally be extended until the first Monday of June or the year in which their term of office expires: And provided further, That the organization of each board of school directors, as provided by the swelfth section of the act of the eighth of May, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, shall be within ten days of the first Monday of June in each year: And provided fur-ther, That the school tax for each year shall not be levied antil after such organization and before the first of July of each year: Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not extend to the city, of Philadelphia, not the county of Allegheny nor to the cities of Reading and Approved the 22d day of April, 1863. This brief section, effects, several important modifications of the school law, which seem to require immediate explanation I. It provides that after January 1, 1864, the term of office of directors shall commence on the first Monday in June next after their election. 1. This means that n m itter in what month checked, after the first of Jahuary, 1864, directors shall not take their seals in the board till after the first Monday in the next succeeding June; that ie, till the dres day of the next school vest.

2. This does not affect persons appointed to fill vacancies. They at once take their seats, and continue in the board till the first Monday. of the June in which the term of the persons whose places they occupy, would have expired had they remained in the board.

II. It extends the term of all directors "in office" (whether by election or appointment) on the day of its passage (22d April, 1863) from the day in which such term would other wise have expired, till the first: Monday of the next succeeding June 1. This means that director's terms existing at the date, of this act (22. April, 1863) shall be continued from the day on which they would otherwise expire, till the next succeeding first Monday in June, so as to retain a full board till that time.

2. This does not mean, however, that directors whose term expired during the winter or spring of 1863, but prior to 22d April, 1863, are to resume and continue their office till the first Monday in June, 1863 for their term having expired before its passage, this act can have no operation upon them.

3. Hence this also means that directors whose terms expired any time before April 22d, 1863, are not to be admitted into the triennial conventions to elect county superintendents on the first Monday in May, 1863; but that their successors duly-elected or appointed, whether before or after the 22d April, 1863, are to be admitted as members of the conventions.

III. It postpones the organization of boards of directors (that is, the choice of President, Secretary and Treasurer) till within ten days after the first Monday in June annually.

1. This renders an election of officers for organization indispensable within ten days after the first Monday in June, 1863; and annually thereafter, within the first ten days of each school year.

But, insomuch, as unbroken organization is indeepensable to the operations of the system, this not only also admits of but requires an organization of each board for the intrim between the annual election and the first Monday of June, in 1863; within ten days after which last named day, the first regular organ-

, 3. Hence it follows, the tail official acts by board officers, chosen prior to the first Monday in June of 1863, an ind actordance with the old law and the rule of the proper board, will be legal and binding, till the first election under the new law in June.

IV. It prohibits the levy of school tax till the period between the annual organization of the proper board and the lat of the following

July.

1. This means that the amount of tax to b collected within the their current year, shall not be fixed by vote of th) board, till between the date of the regular annual organization thereof, and the let of the next July. In other words, that the official acts prescribed by section twenty-eight of the school law of 1854 are still to be performed, but at a different time.

2. This also means that the school tax for the year which will commence on the first Monday in June, 1863, is to be levied" or fixed in June, 1863, under the new law, and not "on or before the first Monday in May," as required by the act of 1854.

3. As this got does not specify the time when the tax is to be "apportioned" and the duplicate made out, which the old law did, (vis: on or before the first Monday in June,) it follows that the duplicate may and should be made out as soon as practicable after the "levy" in June.

V. It excepts the city of Philadelphia, the county of Allegheny, and the cities of Reading and Lancaster from the operation of its pro-

1. This means that hope places are excepted from the operation of all the provisions of this act, and not merely from some of them. 2. It leaves the courty of Allegheny and the cities of Reading and Lancaster exactly as they were, prior to 22d of April, 1863, in reference to the term of once of directors, the right of directors to vota for county superintendent, the organization of sphool boards, and the time of levying school tax.

Can I Help You?

Can I help you? Just say the word. speaks the whole souled, whole hearted manthe man whose very shouldw is worth more than the body, soul and estate, personal and spiritual, of two-thirds of our human race bearing the name. How he lifts the desponding spirit of his brother. All day he has met the cold eyes, cold smiles, cold words, cold hows and cold sympathy. Man dy him because they have heard he was unfortunate-I'm very poor myself-would help you-could have done so three days ago, or three hours ago-but pesitively have t got three cents, nor shant be in possession of that amount while-your misfortune lasts. If your old aunt dies, or your old uncle, or in fact anybody who may chance to leave you a fortune, why, just call upon me; I'll manage to have a little change on hand,

But, look! yonder comes a broad shouldered, frank-browed man, who meets his poor brother with a heavy slap on the shootdar, and can a help you? just say the word. Don't be afraid now; what's your trouble? Out with it, and if you'd like a little cash just say so. Don't be downcast; what if you have failed in your expectations once, twice or thrice! Have not some our most successful merchants done the same thing? made the same mistakes? And where would they have been if they hadn't found friends? Come, what de you mant how much? He don't dap his hands in his pocket with a styx-like frown that says as plainly as if he had bawled it out in your ear, no entrance here. He is one not of the despotic, cross-grained, surly, monied machines, that squeezes a sixpence till it squeals, and reads a newspaper with a greedy, voracious eagerness, for fear he shall not get his two cents worth. He lives for something else, that man, than gain. His passport to Heaven is written on his face, his religion on the hearts of the downcast and sorrowing in the homes he has made happy by his benevolence.

"Can'I help you?" Write the words in golden letters, for they are only heard on rare occasions. The speer, the scorn, the doubt, the refusal-they come with every nightfall and sunrise. Niggards grow like mushrooms, but angels are scarce. Niggards can never look beyond themselvestheir own comfort, their own donvenience; no matter who starves next door, they scatter curses in discouragements, and blight over. God only knows how many gentle hearts. They never say, "Oan I help him?" but, "He's down, let's kick him."

THE actions of a man tell of what kind he is, as do the fruits of a tree.

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of, its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful curer of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilised country on this continent without some parsenal experience of its effects; and fower yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the aubtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insiduous enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have shundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inaxorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your iffe away. All know the dreadful fastility of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best if can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best sgent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
