ON Saturday, Geo. T. Spencer, Esq., and his wife were coming to this village in a cutter, and while descending the steep hill on the south, one of the bolts holding the throttle gave way and the horse became unmanageable, and ran a short distance, cutting the cutter. The son jumped out but Mr. Spencer, who was driving, was dragged some rods, and was run over by the horse. He was much bruised, and one of his ears was badly lacerated, and he received a severe cut upon the head which bled profusely. Dr. Farver dressed his wounds and he was returned to his residence, and is now doing well. It was a narrow escape from death, as the hill was very icy and steep.—Corning Journal.

A LEAF FOR LITE.—Last evening about 8 o'clock a man was regaling himself at one of the restaurants on Water Street, and the Provost Guard happened to come in and promptly demanded his pass, but being minus the desired article, he took the consequences of being in town without it, he took a hasty survey of the premises and discovering a back door which led to a steep directly out, and some 20 feet above the river, leaped over and struck a log on a pile of rocks. And the strange part of the occurrence is that the desperate fellow was not injured a particle. However, he escaped, but threatened arrest and after the Guard had fully walked into the saloon and took a seat much to the astonishment of those who witnessed the leap. For our part we think—in fact we are quite certain—that we would prefer a night's lodging in the guard's house to the risk of breaking our precious (to us) neck in such a manner.—Elmira Press.

THE MAGAZINES.—Peterson's Magazine promises richly for the new year and by the past we can judge that it is much better at performance than promise. It is both useful, ornamental, and instructive, and as such is deservedly popular. Its fasci-mis, are well bound upon, and in a literary point of view it is of much interest. The beautiful pattern of a chair seat printed in colors is worth more to any lover of embroidery than the price of the book. This year is $2.00 a year. Address CHARLES J. PETERSON, No. 246 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Godey's Lady's Book has had long an established reputation and has so many claims upon the admiration of those who read it that we are obliged to call the attention of our readers again to them. In its literature, steel engravings, music, and its fine fashion plates, drawing lessons, receipts, work table and juvenile department, it is certainly unsurpassed by any periodical of the kind. The terms are reduced to the old price $3.00 a year. Address L. A. GODEY, No. 323 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

In the New Year that just now is before us we wish that everything might open as pleasantly as Godey's Lady's Book, a new magazine which has just been presented to our notice. It is edited by Mrs. Henry Peterson—a style which evinces much taste and skill as well as executive ability. In every department which makes home more attractive and household cares lighter this is a very valuable assistant. It has a fine corps of writers and each number will be furnished with a handsome steel engraving, a table of colored steel fashion plates, besides numerous aids of needle work and other things, especially interesting to ladies. The terms are $2.00 a year. Address DEANES & PETERSON, No. 219 Walnut Street, Philadelphia.

A SUPPLEMENT;

To an Ordinance to prevent Horsem, Cattle, &c. running at large within Knoxville Borough, passed April 11, 1857.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the authority of the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Knoxville, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same: That any person permitting their Horses, Cattle, Sheep, or Swine, to run at large in said Borough as stated in the foregoing ordinance shall be liable to the fine therein fixed, whether the same shall be taken up and impounded or not, and it shall be the duty of the Burgess whenever by sight or upon information furnished, he becomes aware of the violation of the said ordinance, if the animal is not at the time impounded, to cause it to be impounded at the place of the Borough as aforesaid, as Borough fines are a law recoverable, and the offending animal shall be liable to be levied upon and sold under an execution for the fine and costs.

Section 2. And be it further enacted that if any Burgess shall after being notified of a violation of the said ordinance, together with the name of the owner or owners, and the names of the witnesses, refuse, or neglect for ten days to perform the duty imposed upon him by this ordinance, he shall be liable to a fine of five dollars to be sued before any Justice of the Peace of the Borough by any citizen thereof, one-half to go into the Borough Treasury, and one-half to the prosecutor.

Attest: H. W. HOWLAND, Clerk. Knoxville, Dec. 16, 1863-3.

ESTRAY.
