It is enough to eno,, imply, that it was brief, eloquent, and appropriate. a I won the applause of all present. A reply in behalf of the soldiers was made by Lieut. Seudder, of the 45th which was well received. The Chairman ann; inced that the hour for supper had arrived, whereng in the meeting adjourned down stairs to the supper ables, which were soon filled. From the official procedings we gather that five hundred and fifty persons down to the tables-one half of whom were soldies and their wives or sweethearts. The supper was ceditable to the ladies who got it up. A small ad ission fee was paid by the citizens, and it. was undirstood that the surplus fund, after paying expenses was to be expended for the Sanitary Commission. Witmore and Fisher's Band supplied the music for the Conces, and everything went on quietly and orderly til a late hour. We are glad to be able to say that every one admits it to have been the most successful social gathering held here for years, owing to the of aplete arrangements by the ladies having the mi, er in

DIED. In Delmar, on the 18th ult., SARAH, wife of Gurdon Steele, aged 50 years.

In Charleston, on the 27th ult., Mrs. SURVIVAH POTTER, wife of Peleg Potter, aged 68 years. Sister Potter had been for nearly 50 years a faithul member of the Baptist Church, and by the grace ful member of the Baptist Church, and by the grace of God, she adorned her christian profession most nobly. The Bible was her source of moral light, and Christ her dependence. She was emphatically a large-hearted, liberal-minded christian. In the death of this exemplary and highly esteemed sister, a wide breach has been made in the family circle, in the church and in the community. But while their loss is deeply mourned, there is this great consoling thought, that, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints."

"The bright rem is dropped in eternity's ocean.
Too soon called to yield life's ephemeral breath;
That heart, once the home of each generous emotion,
Lies listless and cold in the boson of death;
Yet if aught can give peace to the friends that survive her,
Or sooke those who mourn her too early doom,
'Tis her virtues remembered—long, loug to outlive her,
And shed then bright halo around the dark tomb."

The subject of the above notice was a young man of rare and promising ability, having graduated with the first honor in his profession and qualified himself for future usefulness in life. He began the practice of medicine at Elmira, N. Y., where on the first call for volunteers, he enlisted in the N. Y. service as a private. The hardships were too great for him, and ting himself to his Savior, he calmly and meekly passed from the battle-field of life, as we trust, to that world where wars and rumors of wars are heard
