

Progress of the Anti Slavery Movement.

We adverted a few days ago, to the changed tone of the Democratic press of the country, relative to the vexed question of Slavery. We quoted from the New York Herald, St. Louis Republic and Pittsburg Post, to show that those papers had at last come to the same conclusion, that the chief cause of this unholy war must die with its rebellious offspring. Since then we have met in our Democratic exchanges with additional evidence that the Democratic party, despite the course of its representatives in Congress, is ready to accept the destruction of slavery as an assured fact. We give some of this evidence below:

From the New York World.

"So far as its (slavery's) downfall is the natural result of the war, the Democratic party cannot interpose to save it. We never intended to impair or cripple slavery, although we believed it wrong; we certainly shall never interfere to preserve it. There has never been a time when Northern Democrats would not have rejoiced to see the Southern States initiate our example and freely abolish slavery, and if slavery falls, as an incidental consequence of the war, without any violation of our duty by illegal intervention, we shall passively leave it to its fate. Its destruction is a risk which the South voluntarily incurred when they resorted to arms, and it would be a great inconsistency to intervene in favor of an institution which we disapprove, when we would not interfere against it."

From the New York Express.

"All feel that slavery has gone by the board. Politically, it was dead before the war began. Physically, it is now dead, and ought not, for one moment, to enter into any discussion relating to the war, any more than anything else that is dead beyond all hope of resurrection. The border State men all see this. Slaveholders in the Cotton States are beginning to see, and acknowledge this truth. Nobody needs to be convinced that both the political and physical power of slavery are over in the United States. We need no argument from Mr. Gantt to assure us of this fact, of the fullness of the South in making the slavery question a pretext for the war. War from the very start was more of an abolitionist than an army of Garrison and Phillips and Gerrit Smiths."

From the Chicago Post.

"We have from the commencement of the war expressed through the columns of this paper the belief that the Rebellion would be the virtual destruction of slavery."

To the foregoing we add the following clipping from the able organ of a shipshape Purcell, of Cincinnati, which shows that the Catholic Church is taking high moral and patriotic ground on the anti-slavery question:

From the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph.

"The anti-slavery feeling is spreading so rapidly throughout the country, that in a short time very few will be found in favor of the institution. The absolute necessity for emancipation before anything can be accomplished for the repose of the nation, has taken hold of the minds and hearts of the people, and any attempt to retard the popular will, and in disaster. We are particularly pleased with the change which is taking place in the sentiment of Catholics in this subject. Those who, within a few months, would not even think on the subject of abolition are now most anxious for its success, because they have commenced examining the question apart from party feeling or prejudice, and their good sense is convinced, that the worst way you can put a human being to, is to make him a slave. We hope that the day is near when a clause in the Constitution will proclaim liberty to all men within the limits of the United States."

HOME—WIFE ON SATURDAY NIGHT.—Some one, with a heart to appreciate the choice blessings of life, paints a glowing picture of the domestic life, where love rules supreme. "Happy is a man who has a little home, and a little angel, of a Saturday night. A house, no matter how little, provided it will hold two or so—no matter how finished, provided there is a hope in it. Let the wind blow close the curtains—what if they are callous, or plain, without border or tassel, or any such thing. Let the rain come down—heap up the fire. No matter if you have a candle to bless yourself with—for what a beautiful light glowing souls make, reddening, clouding, sunset through the little room; if it is enough to talk by; not loud; as in the hazy world, but softly, whispering, with rays between them for the storm without and the thoughts within to fill up. Then wheel the fire round before the fire—no matter if the fire is a settle, unshowered at that; if so, so, be it just long enough for two, or say two a half, in it. How sweetly the music of liver bells, from time to time, falls on the listening ear, then! How mournfully swell the notes of the 'days that are no more!' Under all circumstances, and at such a time, one can sit at least sixty-nine and a half statute miles nearer 'kingdom come' than any other point in this world laid down in Malte Bran. May be you smile at this picture; but there is a great truth in us, it is a copy of the picture rudely drawn, but true as the Pentateuch, if an original in every human heart."

THE NATIONAL FINANCES.—In magnificent contrast to the bankruptcy of the Treasury, the administration of a Treasury will show the world a clean balance sheet on the 1st of November. It will show the filling of every creditor of Government, whose claims they have met and established. These brave men who throughout the United States are battling for the Union, but Secretary Chase ready for them. The Treasurer General's report for September and October will be presented, which contains gold enough to meet all demands for nine months to come. The receipts are more than sufficient to pay in specie the interest on the public debt as it accrues.

THREE IMPORTANT THINGS.—Three things to love—courage, gentleness, and affection. Three things to admire—intelligence, power, dignity, and gracefulness. Three things to hate—crudelty, arrogance and ingratitude. Three things to wish for—health, friends, and a cheerful spirit. Three things to like—cordiality, good humor, and mirthfulness. Three things to avoid—idleness, loquacity, and flippancy. Three things to cultivate—good books, good friends, and good humor. Three things to extend—prayer, honor, and things to govern temper, impulse, and the tongue.

DR. FRANKLIN SAYS:

"When you have anything to advertise, tell the public of it in plain, simple language."

I am manufacturing good custom made Boots and Shoes which I will sell at fair prices, and only for READY PAY. Such work cannot be sold at as low rates per pair as custom made slip-work, but it can and will be sold at prices which will enable the purchaser to protect his feet with good substantial boots more cheaply than with a poor slip-work article, which, even if it chances not to fall in pieces with the first weeks service, is not a doubtful protection in wet and cold weather. Try me.

Buck and Doeskins Wanted, in the red and short buck, for which I will pay cash and a good price.

Beef-Hides and Calfskins Wanted, for which I will pay cash.

Sheep Pelts Wanted, for which I will also pay cash and the highest market price.

An assortment of sole, upper, calfskins and linings, ready for use at all seasons, such as Hides, and kept constantly on hand, which I will sell cheap for cash. Shop on Main Street between Wilcox's and Bullard's. G. W. SEARS.

N. B. I can't give credit, because, to be plain, I haven't got it to give. Wellsboro, Sept. 9, 1863.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

A Pure and Powerful Tonic, Corrective and Alterative, of Wonderful Efficacy, in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS;

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Biliousness, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or produced by Special Causes.

Noticed that it is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive and tonic ingredients, and is so far as the human system can be protected by human means against malarial engendered by any unwholesome atmosphere, impure water, or other external cause, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

To districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found invaluable as a preventive, as well as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to take themselves of it in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being pined with quinine for months in vain, until their faith and appetite are exhausted, are speedily restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, the appetite restored by the use of this tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and palatable aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably restores the COLEMAN'S superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretory organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Loss of Spirits and Fits of Langour, and prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes. The agency of BILIOUS COIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the power of nature may be preserved. As a general tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Debilitated arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the most advanced stages of all diseases, it operates as a delightful and powerful restorative. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-energize and re-establish them. Last, but not least, it is the only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from pure and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day. It may be truly said, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Prepared by J. M. SMITH, Pittsburg, Pa. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers, everywhere. feb-1y
