There was illiense excitement in Indringtown, for John Hartley was arrested and taken before Justice Wilson for sleefin; in church, which he always did as reguliri; as Sunday came round.

"What do you know about the defendant's sleeping in church?" demanned the justice of a witness. "I know all about it; i'taint no secret, I guess," replied the witness.

"Then tell us about it; that's just what we want to know."

"It lasers tohing his head have long and the short of it is. John Hartley is a hard-working man; that is, he works mighty hard doing nothing, and that's the hardest work there is done. It will make a feller sleep adicker than poppy leaves, so it stands to reast a that Hartley would naturally be a very sleepy sort of a person. Well, the weather is so estimes naturally censiderable warm, and P. fon Moody's sermon is sometimes rather heavy-like "Stop 1 stop 1. No reflection upon Parson

Moody that's not what you were called for." "I don't cast no reflections on Parson Moody. I was only telling what I know about John Hartley's sleeping in meeting; and it's my opinion, especially in warm weather, that sermons that are heavy-like and, we hours long naturally have a tendency-

"Stop ! stop ! I say ! if you repeat any of these reflections on Parson Moody again, I'll commit you for contempt of court." "I don't cast no reflections o 1 Parson Moo-I was only telling what I know about John Hartley's sleeping in meet mg." "Well, go on, and tell as about that. You were not called here to testify about Parson Moody." .

"That's what I'm trying to do, if you won't keep putting me out. And it's my opinion, in warm weather, folks is considerable apt to sleep in meeting, specially when the sermon— I mean 'specially, when they git pretty tired. I know I find it hard work to get by seventhly and eighthly in the sermon nyself; but if I once get by there, I generally get into a kind of waking train again, and make out to weather it. But it isn't so with Harriey. I've generally noticed, if he begins to go pe at seventhly and eighthly, it's a gone goose with him before he gets through tenthly, and he has to look out for another prop for his head somewhere stiff enough to hold it up. And from tenthly to sixteenthly he's as dead as a door-nail, till the amen' brings the poople up to prayers, and Hartley comes up with a jerk, just like opening a jack knife?"

After a profound silence the court was adjourned, to enable the justice to think the matter over and, render a decision

VALUABLE TABLE. The following informs. tion gives the number of seeds in a given quantity, and the space they will fow. One cunce of parsley seed has in it 16,200 seeds, and a quarter of it will sow a drill sixty yards long. One capce of salmon radish- seed contains 1950 seeds, and will sow broadcast a bed containing ten square yerds.
One dunce of onion seed contains 7,600 seed, and sown broadcast will suffice for fourteen square yards of ground; but if sown in drills, will be enough for twenty drills, each four yds. long, or for about 24 square yards of ground; One pint of don-colored dwarf kidney beans contains 750 seeds, which are enough to sow four rows, each seven yards long.

One pint of scarlet runners contains 264 seeds and at enough for four rows, each nine yards

One pint of broad Windsor beans has 170 seeds, and is sufficient for seven rows, each four yards long. One pint of Knight's dwarf morrow pens contains 1720 seeds; one pint of early Warwick peas, 1860; one pint of scimetar peas, 1299; and any one of these pints will sow eight rows, each four yards long, as the larger peas require to be sown wider spart in the rows an the smaller seeded ness. One ounce of carrot, or paranep seed, sown broadcast, will be sufficient for a bed containing sixteen square yards; and if sown in drills, for one of twenty-eight square yards.

One cance of any kind of cabbage or broccoli seed will be enough for a bed containing mine square yards, if sow 1 brondenst, or for sixteen square yards if so in in drills.

THE DEACON AND THE WASPS .- A worthy deacon in a town of Maine, was remarkable for the facility with which he quoted Scripture on all occasions. The Dirice Word was ever at his tongue's end, and all the trivial, as well as important occurrences of life, furnished occasion for quoting the language of the Bible. What was better, however, the exemplary man always made his quotations the standard of action. One hot day he was sugged in mowing with his hired man, who was leading off, the deacon following in his swarth, conning his apt quotation, when the man suddenly sprang from his place, leaving his swarth just in time to avoid a wasps' nest.

"What is the matter?" barriedly inquired the Deacon:
"Wasps!" was the lacenic reply.

"Poh i" said the deacon, "the wicked flee when no man pursueth, but the righteous are as bold as a lion !" and taking the workman's swarth, he mowed but a step when a swarm of the brisk insects settled about his ears, and he was forced to retreat with many a painful sting and in great discomfiture.

"Ahd" shouted the other with a chuckle, "the prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself, but the simple pass on, and are

The descon had found his equal in making applications of scripture, and thereafter was not known to quote in the ranwing field.

Success in Life. - Reep the law of duty ever before you; let it be your never-failing pillar of light. Be brave and on the square with your conscience to the fast. Your success in life may not be equal to your hopes or your deserts; it is not for man to insuere succes. The best and wisest of us may fail in the struggle; but we may have our consolation even then. To gain the world's applause, and to snatch its fleeting spoils, is not man's sole and proper business here. Immortal ty smiles forth on the scene, and beckons him eyer onward in the race for those eternal honors which the world can neither give for take away-the prize which all may strike for, and no one strive in vain.

Tex Boglish role is to weigh sheep when fatted and divide the weight by seven, and call it quarters. Thus, a sheet weighing 140 lbs., would give 20 pounds acquerter, as Read weight, If the sheep are in good condition, this rule is sufficiently accurate for all purposes. Poor sheep will fall below the mark, and extra fat Ones go over it.
